THE EYE, EAR and THROAT Successfully Treated with

SANFORD'S RADIGAL CURE C UCCESS is the test of merit, and success in the Ureatment of Catarrhal Affections, after so many miserable failures, means undoubted specific curative properties in the remedy used. Does Sanford's Hadical Curz for Catarrh possess such properties? The evidence, in the shape of unsolicited testimonials from the most respectable people in all stations of life, must be conclusive on this point. Never, we believe, in the history of popular medicines has such valuable testimony been of fered, freely offired, in favor of any remedy than that in the possession of the proprietors of fare for Badical Curz. And valuable as it is, it does not represent a thousandth part of the recommendnot represent a thousandth part of the recommend ations which are to-day offered by friends to friend in its favor. People of wealth and refinement in al in its favor. People of wealth and refinement in all parts of the country daily admit its superiority over any method of cure known to the regular medical profession, but shun the publicity incidental to a published statement. Hence the testimonials in our possession represent but a small part of those withheld for the reason mentioned. The following unsolicited testimonial from Hunny Wells, Esq., of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, is an outspoken indersement of which we are justly proud.

INVALUABLE.

Messrs. Weres & Potter. Wholesale Druggists, Besten, Mass.: Gentlemen.—I have for some menths filt it a duty that I owe to suffering humanity to write you, stating the great benefit that I have derived from the use of Sanford's Radical Curry for Catarril. For more than 20 years I have been silleted with this very troublesome complaint. I have tried all the remedies that I could find, but without material or permanent benefit. Last fall the disease had arrived at that state that I must have relief or die. The entire membranous system had become so inflormed and the come in the come of the come in the come have relief or die. The entire membranous system had become so inflamed, and the stomach so disordered, that it was a doubtful matter whether I could go to the Pacific coast, or if I did go whether I should live to come back or not. I saw an advertisement of this medicine, and although being very incredulous about specifics or nostrums of any kind, yet in sheer desperation I tried this, and was at once benefited by it. The changes of climate, a chronic disease of the liver, and my age—over 70—inay prevent my entire restoration, but the benefit I derive from its daily use is to me incaluable, and I am hoping to be completely cared, and at last arrive at a respectable old age.

If this statement of my case can be of any service to those afflicted as I have been, and enable you to bring this remedy into more general use, especially on the l'acific coast (where it is much needed), my object in writing this note will be obtained.

Very truly yours, HENRY WELLS,
