TUESDAY EVENG, OCT. 29, 1878.

LOBBY'S WELCOME.

(When an event of national or patriotic significance takes place in Canada, the local press, Mr. A. H. Wingfield, is generally among the first to herald the arrival of the news in this way, and the volume now extended to our new Governor-General and his Royal Consort in the following lines will no doubt meet with a responsive chord in the breasts of all loyal Canadians.)

The Campbell is coming! Hurra! Hurra! The Campbell is coming! Hurra! Hurra! An' Lorne's bonnie lassie sae by the an' sae. An' we'll be happy that day, that day, We're a' waiting for him to land on the sea. The wain will bring it to the land of the free; As we gather 'round them that day, that day, The Campbell is coming, etc.

Free the north to the south, the east to the west, We're a' waiting to see who will welcome them best, We'll meet them as 'greet them in gallant array, An' we'll love them and dunt them that day, that day, The Campbell is coming, etc.

Oh, brave are the lads where the maple wave grows green, An' true are they aye to their country and Queen; An' proud will they be as they march on their way, To welcome our ain bonnie Princess that day, that day, The Campbell is coming, etc.

Then 'On wi' the Tartan sa' 'ly Let us Ride, To meet wi' the Marquis an' his Royal bride; With honour an' an' loyal will hasten away, A right hearty welcome we'll give them that day, that day, The Campbell is coming, etc.

Hamilton, Oct. 26th. A. H. Wingfield, Spectator.

TO-DAY'S BUDGET.

—The Quebec foxhounds had a good run on Saturday, after a drag.

—The Australian team beat the Californian Cricketers by 134 runs.

—Negotiations between Germany and the Vatican are likely to be discontinued.

—The Lorne Baby Spanker is what an enterprising Yankee is now selling.

—Saskatchewan gold miners say they have been making $15 a day during the past season.

—On Friday at Salt Lake City John Miles was arrested for bigamy charged with marrying three women on Thursday.

—The Directors have decided upon evening classes and a course of lectures.

—Prominent Irish citizens of Washington have arranged for a reception to London, the liberated Foniau, next Wednesday.

—General Grant is being used for false imprisonment, by Thos. Higgins, in the Washington District Criminal Court.

—The California grape crop is the largest ever gathered, and preparations have been made to cure a million pounds of raisins.

—A recent examination at Goa, India, of the body of St. Francis Xavier showed it to be as well preserved as when exposed twenty years ago.

—General Butler's chances for winning the Governorship of Massachusetts are by no means bad. His enemies concede him 90,000 votes.

—The Toronto Separate School Board intend to erect a separate new school, the most commodious they have yet built.

—The Chinese have a law that any military officer making his house a place of gambling shall be cashiered and forever debarred from holding public office.

—Nearly all the police captains in New York state that the charges of collusion with questionable houses made by a Brooklyn minister are entirely false.

—They have some nice names for newspapers in Kentucky. Here are a few: Western Whangdoose, Tough Citizen, Smooth Coon, Sunday Loafer and Baby Mine.

—On Tuesday morning last the New York Herald predicted the fearful storm which struck the East on Wednesday and caused such great loss of life and property.

—The ball that the Hailgunners intended giving to the Marquis of Lorne and the Princess Louise, has been abandoned at the suggestion of Sir Patrick MacDonnell.

—It is melancholy, says Ouida in her latest novel, to see how large the proportion is of young ladies who marry solely in order to get rid of their mothers.

—What is your son doing in the battle of life? asks the Christian Herald. Well, he appears to be drawing rapidly most of the time, just at present, thank you.

—Those who profess Canton craps shawls can now unfold them and convert them into overcoats, as they form, with silk, handsome toilets, and are much worn.

—A fashionably-dressed woman entered a drug store the other day, and informed the clerk that her husband had overruled of his stomach, and she desired to get an epidemic to relieve him.

—A Brooklyn tailor has invented an indestructible button hole. Now let some one invent an un-com-of-able button and the maker of the world of humanity will be in a state of abject terror.

—The remains of a prehistoric village on piles have been discovered in the Hermans, a small lake in the Bavarian mountains, much like the Swiss lake dwellers' habitations.

—After the nomination in Centre Huron a very large and enthusiastic meeting was held, addressed by Mr. Cartwright and the Hon. A. Mackenzie. Messrs. Hawkins, Rice, and others spoke on behalf of Mr. Platt.

—A Pittsburgh Alderman, being dunned by a newboy for a 35 cent bill, made his anger that the bill was correct, and charged him 50 cent for administering the oath. This experience may have the newboys thousands of dollars.

—From the way some of these girls look in their walking dresses, pulled back and tied tight around the knees, and their masculine part of their dress, and their hopper on their feet, they would make 'em fat. Their waists look like the thin part of an hour glass with very little sand in it.

—The Belleville Hunt Club had its first fox hunt on Saturday. There was a field of thirty one horsemen. A fox was found in a wood about two miles from town, and after an exciting race the fox escaped in a swamp. Some of the riders got fall.

—A husband who lately went to execute a few little commissions for his wife, gives it as his experience that there are two dozens different brands of Hair sewing silk so exactly alike that a male eye can tell the difference, and a wrong choice means ruin to a silk dress, and no pin in the home for a week.

The Psalm of Life.

Tell us not in mournful numbers, that this life is but a dream, when a girl that weighs one hundred gets outside a quart of cream—and then wants more.—Minna Gassner

Life is real, life is earnest, and the girls know what they need, but on cream they are the dullest set to show their grit and greed. No cream.—New York

Let us, then, be up and doing, with a heart for any fate; but never let us go to heart for girls that want a second plate.—Newboy

Live of such girls all remind us, as we float across the stream, that the boys who come behind us have a pay for lots of cream.—Yonkers Gazette

Be not like dumb driven cattle, be a hero in the strife; never with her mother back, away the ice cream for your wife.—Boston Transcript

Ice cream that perhaps a sister, trailing through the peeling rain, walked her feet into a blister, that she might her share obtain.—High Pines

Art is long, High Pines, and our hearts, though stout and brave, shall not endure this ice cream eating; so, shall have to quit and save. March on.—Our First Reporter

Not enjoyment, and not sorrow, is our destined end or way, let the girls have cream to-morrow, let them have it every day.—Our Orderly Sergeant

Still achieving, still pursuing, learn to labor, O my sooty crew, no more billing no more coining, no more mowing from this date.—Scott—Rome Sentinal

No more cream and no more soda, all summer was a den, but that awful ball keeps rolling, ten cent concerts have begun.—Bridgeport Standard

THE CHAMPION KICKER.—Hitherto the cooits who aimed the Jardin Mabile, the Chateau Rouge, and similar delightful resorts in Paris enjoyed a monopoly as kickers, their capacity to kick off the hats of the men they dance with being the source of profound admiration. It seems, however, that our countrywomen have become competitors for these very questionable French honors. The Connecticut newspapers mention a certain match took place recently at Bridgeport between a French dance woman and a New Haven woman, and that the performance was exceedingly interesting. The contestants were each awarded 25 kicks, the prize being increased to 50 if the victor should win five feet six inches, and to 75 if she won seven feet five inches. New Haven began moderately, if not modestly, and increased her score until at the twenty-fifth effort she had marked the victor nine inches, and was declared the victor amid uproarious applause. It is hardly necessary to say that the spectators were exclusively masculine. Those from Providence were deeply chagrined at the defeat of their representative, and immediately challenged the victor to a second kicking match with another nine-legged dancer of their city. This refusal was highly instructive amusement will doubtless become popular, and in due time we may have kicking matches for the championship of America.—N. Y. Times

THE LOCAL.—Referring to the rumors and speculations regarding the probable date of the election for the Local Legislature, the Toronto Progress points out that, though the last general election came off in January, 1875
