A SWINDLER IN LIMBO.

HE CAPTURED $25,000 AND THE POLICE CAPTURED HIM.

Raising a Check From $25 to $35,000-Burying $32,000 (the Plunderings of Two Banks) and Running off With $1,-000 - Pleading Guilty When Brought

Before the Recorder. MONTREAL, Aug. 17.-The swindle perpetrated upon the Jacques Cartier bank was the coolest imaginable. Joseph Duclos, commission merchant, St. Therese street, presented himself at the bank and asked cash for what appeared; at first sight, to be an accepted check for $25,000, drawn, payable to the bearer, on the Banque de Peuple by C. O. Beauchemin & Son, booksellers, S Paul street. The teller paid over the round $25,000, and without submitting the check to the examination of the cashier. As customary with city banks the exchanges were made up and the messenger dispatched with the check in question to the bank on which it was drawn. It was at this period discovered that Beauchemin & Son had no suc amount at their credit at the Bank du Peuple. The figures $25, and words for the same amount, in the body of the check, dated yesterday, were in light colored ink, whilst the three forged decimals, making it $25,000, with the written word "thousand," are clumsily added in ink of a much darker shade, making it quite impossible for an ordinary eye not to detect the change which had been accomplished. As soon as the fraud was brought to the notice of the Manager of the Jacques Cartier Bank, he notified the police and the detectives were soon at work on the case, / Charles Page, head bookkeeper with Messrs. Beauchemin & Son, was the swindler, being well-known at the bank. Asked if he (Duclos) would be good enough to go to the Jacques Cartier Bank, and get the check cashed for the firm, with whom the former was engaged, he complied, and gave Page the money. Page was bookkeepstreet, and had to cross the lines on account of some fraudulent entries passed by him, and by which, at the time it was realized, he had succeeded in defrauding both the firm and the customs out of considerable sums of money.

then raised the first to $25,000 and had it | did in a few days. cashed at the Jacques Cartier bank. The cheque for $76 was in Frenchanl read as follows:

Soixante seize -$76.

Page having had this cheque accepted by inserting the words "cents-hundreds" in the body of the cheque, made it read

Soixante-seize cents-$7600. Having made the simple cheque for $76 read for "seventy-six hundred," he proceeded himself to the Bank of Montreal. He had bank department of the bank and presented it without comment and it was placed to the credit of Page's account. Half an hour afterwards Page was at the bank again and asked for his money. The clerk, without suspecting anything, paid over the amount in Dominion bank bills and Page took his departure. He had thus secured something like $32,000. After his arrest the prisoner said it was a foolish act which he had committed. When it was too late he had wished it undone. Cash to the amount of $451.50, four a ominion notes of $100 each, one of the same kind for $50, and $1.50 in change was found in his possession. Taking Detective Gladu to a vacant lot on Voltigeurs street the young man unearthed $32,000, which, with the sum found in Page's possession, made within a few do lars of the total amount so cleverly mulcted from two Montreal banks.

A Famous Case.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Richard Searman Scott, who absconded with $160,000 that belonged to the Manhattan bank, of which he had been a pet employee, in 1885, and about whose disappearance and whereabouts there London. For a time there were all manner of rumors about his location, but after a spasmodic story, which it took over a year the people. People who were directly interested in the case were more active, and have long since known of his movements. A suit has just been instituted in the supaction, but the fact that he was not alone in his stupendous defalcation. This suit is against John R. Dunn, Scott's colleague, for the recovery of $140,000. The documents included in this case embrace an affidavit by the defaulter, which is a statement of the history of the case, but it is in truth a confession of his theft.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

she Base-Ball Match Did Not Occur-The Difficulty Standing in the Way.

Because of differences between the managers of the Park Nine and the Kingston clubs the league match set down for yesterday afternoon was declared off, to the regret of many persons. The difficulty was as to the division of the gate receipts. Mr. Pollie offered $35 to the Kingstons manager, but he refused to accept it; he wanted half the receipts, as agreed upon when the managers met in Belleville. The division was not conceded and the game did not occur. It seems unfortunate that no documents were drawn up at the time the league was formed. Had the terms been put in black and white the present difficulty would not have occurred. It is alleged that two managers, Jenkins and Carson, claim agreement was for a fair division : Mr. Pollie says it was for $35 guarantee. Thus Jured. the matter stands. For these reasons writings would have been preferred.

There have been all sorts of stories afloat about the matter, some bordering on the ridiculous, but the real difficulty is as we have intimated. The Kingstons even went | ing mines. so far as to ask for the receipts to be placed in the hands of a disinterested party, but the document tendered for signature to this effect was not signed. The Kingston players were ready for the match, but when ne gotiations failed they returned to their quarters and changed their clothing.

The Ballfield Generally.

It is proposed by certain International league clubs to engage official scorers to travel around the same as the umpires. The idea is to get uniformity in the scores.

The Bellevilles arrive here to morrow and play against the Kingstons. The match will be a rare good one, and people will have a fine opportunity of making up for the disappointment experienced yesterday.

There is not a club in the country which er for Glover & Brais, importers, St. Paul | tries so hard to cater to all nationalities as does the Newark club. There is the great African battery, Stovey and Walker; the Irish battery, Hughes and Derby; and the German battery, Miller and Cantz.

McKinley, who was brought to the city to pitch for the Kingstons but was unable Page had three cheques in his possession | to carry out his agreement in consequence issued by Beauchemin & Fils, payable to of a sore arm, had an operation performed bearer, one for $25, a second for $76, and a on it at Toronto yesterday by a man named third for $32. All of these he had had ac. Thompson, He cured Alberts, short-stop cepted at the Banque du Peuple, where for Toronto, and claims that McKinley will Beauchemin & Fils had funds on hand. Mike Kelly tried his hand at pitching against the Detroits last week, and in five innings sent six men to first base on balls and made three wild pitches, but his support was nearly perfect, and the big hitters could only get three bases off his delivery; and such a funny thing he made of it, too. "I am the boy wonder," said Kelly. "Observe me closely." "Tell the gentleman on the Free Press that that was a wild pitch and not a passed ball." "I beg your pardon, a small account to his credit in the savings Mr. Tate." "What was that, Mr. Sullivan -a ball? I thought it was a strike. Excuse the cheque for deposit. The clerk accepted | me." These and like comments Mike kept up from first to last. Then his attitudes were killing. He posed after the manner of every pitcher in the league. He turned the crowd almost completely over. They laughed and shouted, and the umpire was convulsed. He was laughing so he could hardly call balls and strikes.

Letting Themselves Down Easy.

Belleville Ontario.

The News has a unique account of Monday's baseball game, and attributes the Bellevilles' victory to pure luck. There may have been a streak of luck, but the Belleville team has so often laid low the players of the limestone city that their status as players will not be hurt by sneers. It says McNichol was "so freely batted that his admirers lost much confidence in him." Mc-Nichol struck out five men, while Burke only struck out four, and some of these because the green umpire called balls or strikes without too careful reference as to where the ball passed. In the third and eighth innings no man for the Park Nine reached first, three being struck out. The Bellevilles did not play as well as usual, but they was much profound mystery, has made a played well enough to win, even if their confession before Consul General Waller at opponents had been more saving of errors. | Speaking of errors each side made 6, not 10 to Belleville and 4 to the Park Nine. The climax of erratic reporting is reached to tell in the newspapers, it was dropped by | when the Park Nine is credited with 27 duly distributed "put outs," when their opponents only batted 8 innings.

Belleville Intelligencer. The News is unfair in ascribing the defeat reme court, which discloses not only Scott's of the Park Nine here to overthrows by which seven runs were scored. Two of the seven runs were not the result of overthrows, as one was the result of Farrell's being hit by a pitched ball and another was scored on Gilman's hit. The Whig's account of the game is perfectly fair and the score ac-

ACCIDENTS ON THE RAILWAYS.

A Series of Fatalities-The Verdict on the Chatsworth Disaster.

Elliott Waters, of the Peoria Watch Co., who was injured in the recent accident, died this morning. He had a hole in his thigh as big as a man's wrist, together with internal injuries.

This morning a cattle train was standing on the main track of the C. B. & Q. RR., at Napierville, when another stock train crashed into the engine, ploughed through three cars loaded with steers, totally demolishing them, killing and maining the cattle. Engineer Robinson, of the second train, was severely bruised. A collision occurred on the B. & O. RR.

by one freight train running into another. Seventeen cars were wrecked. The engineer and conductor of one train were fatally injured. The firemen were also probably hurt fatally.

The Chicago express, which left Chicago via Cleveland, jumped the track at Bayard station, wrecking one sleeper. One person was killed and three seriously injured. As the Rawhide freight on the Milford branch of the Boston & Albany RR. was approaching the terminus in Milford, Mass., the brakes did not work. The end of the rails was cleared and a dash made into a meadow where the locomotive sank deep into the earth. The engineer was thrown from the cab and seriously injured. One brakeman had both legs broken.

Coroner's jury in the railway disaster at Chatsworth, Ill., returned a verdict that: Section Boss Coughlin was guilty of gross criminal negligence in leaving fires burning across the track.
