PARIS, Sept. 25. - The Gaulois publishes report, which it does not credit, to the effect that the remains of Napoleon I. have been stolen from the tomb in the Hotel Des Invalides and cast to the winds.

Paris, Sept. 26.—The evening papers deny the truth of the report concerning Napoleon's remains.

Public Office Not a Trade.

London, Sept. 24. John Bright, in a letter approving the action of the Northumberland miners' association, in refusing to longer subs ribe toward the payment of salaries to the representatives of their districts in the house of commons, says he does not favor the payment of salaries to members because he does not wish that parliamentary lifeshould be a trade, as it is enough so already.

Robbery at Brockville.

BROCKVILLE, Sept. 26 .- A daring burglary was committed on Saturday night in the office of G. H. Weatherhead. The bur glars effected an entrance through a window and found the safe unlocked, the clerk having forgotten to turn the combination. The cash box was carried into the back yard, broken open and rifled of $468.86 and some gold coins amounting to about $50.

Line to be Subsidized.

London, Sept. 26. - The Imperial cabinet has decided to subsidize the Canadian Pacific mail line from Vancouver to China and Japan. The decision come to is to grant a subsidy of £45,000 sterling yearly, with £15,000 from Canada, for a monthly service. The conditions are the carriage of the mails from an Atlantic port, the building of new steamers to meet admiralty requirements, the use of armed cruisers when required to carry men and materials, and low rates. The alternative proposal has not been accepted of £400,000 yearly for a fortnightly service, of which £80,000 would come from the British treasury.

A Horrible Accident.

MAXVILLE, Ont., Sept. 26. -A son of Archibald Christie, Indian Lands, met with a terrible accident, while playing on a mow of straw in his father's barn. A threshing mill was at work, and a lad was throwing the straw back-handed over his shoulder with a long pronged fork. In this position he could not see the little fellow approach, and one of the prongs entered his brain, immediately under the right eye ball. He found him insensible and apparently lifeless. There is some hope of recovery, although the doctor is of the opinion that the prong entered the brain as far back as the cerebel-

THE QUEEN AND CANADA.

London, Sept. 24.—Some journals, commenting on the reported intention of the queen to visit Canada, urge that a royal visit to the dominion would be of great benefit to the throne of the empire. A visit to Canada, however, would necessitate a visit to the other colonies, and this would be impossible for the queen. It is suggested, however, that the Prince of Wales might, with great advantage to the state, endeavor to find an opportunity to visit Canada and the other colonies. I am personally aware that the prince has long taken a keen interest in the progress of the dominion. He has, at his own request, been supplied with the best available maps of the Dominion, photos of Canadian scenery, and other printed information, and, did state exigencies permit, would gladly undertake an intercolonial tour. Doubt, however, is expressed whether it would be possible for him to do so.

He is Quite Restored. A press despatch said : "The Rev. Principal Grant, in Toronto, in connection with Queen's College endowment fund, has been laid up by painful illness." Enquiry at his home developed the fact that the principal was not seriously ill, that he had nearly recovered, and would be able to participate in the public meeting in Toronto to-morrow.

trial to-day Mr. Carson, counsel for the crown, complained to the judge that Dr. Tanner, a member of parliament, had yesterday, within the court, called him 'a mean, ruffianly coward," and had expressed the hope that his head might be broken. The court made a note of the complaint. Mr. O'Brien, replying to the charge made against him of having used seditions language in a public address, declared that the court was not competent to try him, because it was foreign in its composition to the requirements of the British constitution. At this point the judge stopped Mr. OFBrien, saying | town on the 9th on the occasion of the fight the discussion of politics would not be al. between the police and populace. Personally he felt very proud of being one of a long line of and holy place. Possibly he himself would be the last of that long line, for the English Lation, to which the last appeal must be made, would reverse the decision pronounced to-day, and declare it no longer a crime to defend their homes and assert the liberties of the Irish people. Mr. O'Brien, when he emerged from the court room after the trial, was received with an ovation from a large crowd which had assembled to assert their approval of his

William O'Brien is Convicted.

CORK, Sept. 24. - The trial of William O'Brien under the Crimes act, which was commenced at Mitchellstown yesterday, was concluded to-day. The accused was found guilty and sentenced to three months' imprisonment. Notice of appeal was given. Immediately after sentence had been pronounced against Mr. O'Brien on the first charge he was placed on trial on the second charge. This was of the same nature as the other. Upon this he was also found guilty and sentenced to three months' imprisonment, the term to be concurrent with the other. Mr. O'Brien appealed from both judgments, and was liberated on bail.

CORK, Sept. 24. - At the trial of O'Brien yesterday, Harrington declared that a deliberate attempt had been made to suppress Constable O'Sullivan's report of O'Brien's speech. Mr. Carson said the observation of Harrington was a pure fabrication. Harrington-"You lie." Magistrate Eaton-"I cannot allow such remarks here. If you repeat them you will be removed from the court." Harrington, excitedly-"You need not trouble yourself. I shall remove my self. I shall have nothing more to do with such a solemn farce." An excited crowd followed the car in which O'Brien was taken back to prison, hooting and yelling at the soldiers who fixed their bayonets and then proceeded. Dillon and a number of priests pacifie the crowd.

Mitchellstown was illuminated last night, rows of candles being placed in all the windows on Main street. Messrs. O'Brien and Harrington took the night mail train at Limerick and proceeded to Dublin. When they left Mitchelstown they were followed some distance by a cheering crowd. The streets of the town were alive with people until 10 o'clock, when the crowds quietly dispersed on the advice of Commoner Condon. Mr. Harrington will return to Mitchellstown on Tuesday.

A Row at Fermoy.

FERMOY, Sept. 26.-Mr. Tanner, Irish nationalist member of parliament, in response to the demand of a crowd, made a speech from the balcony of his hotel. He denounced the action of the police at Mitchellstown and the trial of Editor O'Brien as brutal. There was a charge of the police upon the crowd, and a melee was the result. The crowd stoned the police, many of whom received several injuries. The police used their batons and injured fourteen persons, who were nearly all conveyed to the hospital. Dr. Tanner mingled with the combatants, and had his hat smashed by a baton.

FERMOY, Sept. 26. - The priests secured order on the police removing their swords. Stones were afterwards thrown, injuring many constables. The mob, clubbed by the police fetched from Mitchellstown, pelted them with stones and bottles. Some were disabled. Captain Plunkett commanded the police and restored order.

Cannot Suppress the League.

MITCHELLSTOWN, Sept. 26.—The National league evaded the police and held a meeting to-day in a private house. Mr. O'Brien, yesterday drove to Limerick, returned by a circuitous route deceiving the police. In a speech he said : ""We are here to tell Mr. Balfour that the branches of the National league will decline to consider themselves suppressed until every decent man, aye, and many decent women in the communities are placed in jail."

Conviction of a Poor Law Guardian. John Mandeville, chairman of the board of poor law guardians of Mitchellstown, who was jointly indicted with Mr. O'Brien for CHALLENGE CUP RACES. on the same occasion as Mr. O'Brien's, was pedled from the judgement and was permitted to remain at liberty on bail pending the decision of the appeal.

Davitt's Mission to America.

London, Sept. 24. - The Cork. correspondent of the Times says that owing to the blunders made by William O'Brien during his recent American trip the donations to CORK, Sept. 24. At the opening of the the National league from America have dwindled, and Mr. Davitt has gone to America to endeavor to repair the damage done by O'Brien. He kept his departure a secret until the last moment, as he feared he would be arrested and that his project would thus be nipped in the bud.

The Discussion Over the Water Line Measurement....Mr. Watson, Designer of the Thistle Gets a Snubbing For His Blunder-The Thing is Greatly Magnified Anyway.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26. - The Tribune says the last vestige of a cloud which might have obscured the prospective view of a magnificent yacht race was dissipated yesterday by the decision of George L. Schuylar, referee, that the discrepancy between the stated water line length of the Thistle and the water line length obtained by actual measurement is not sufficient to disqualify the Thistle from starting in the race. Yachtmen regard the decision with much satisfaction, because since the controversy arose it has been shown that from beginning to emd Mr. Bell, the representative owner of the Thistle, has acted in the most sportsmanlike manner, and has at no time sought to obtain lowed in the proceedings. Mr. O'Brien press alleges that the archbishop has warn any unfair advantage for his boat. Some ed the clergy that if the boycotting of the disappointment was expressed because of the distinct avowal of the referee that it established no precedent to apply to future contests for the cup, and it was understood that this was the main thing sought. But the general opinion was that the decision will practically establish this precedent, land." Everything is quiet at Fermoy this | calculations this time, and though forgiven he must be more careful to secure a close agreement between his estimated and actual figures if he again tries his hand at design NEW YORK, Sept. 26. - Everybody seems to be satisfied with the reports of the um pire except Mr. Watson, the Thistle's designer, who writes a letter to the news papers to-day in which he says: "Mr. Schuyler very properly exonerates Mr. Bell from all blame in the matter, placing it with perfect justice on its designer, but as he previously implies that an error has been made, through mistake or design, it becomes necessary for me to protest against at least half of this insinuation. While the Thistle has been sailed in Britain, as she will be here, at a line lower than her designed draft, and is consequently from her great overhang forward and aft 1 ft. 53 in. longer than I intended or supposed she would be, I most emphatically deny that she should be longer or shorter than the 85 ft. she was designed for. I would rather loose all chance of the cup than that one of the many millions of people which Charles Read calls 'the most generous nation under the sun should suppose we tried for it except in a strictly honorable way."

Feeling of Mr. Bell.

Mr. Bell was especially anxious that it should not be thought that he regarded the bringing up of the subject at this time as an effort to affect the validity of the Thistle's right to race at her present length.

"I am desirious of having this point settled as anybody else," he said, "for whichever boat wins there is sure to be another challenge issued almost immediately, and it is only right that there should be no opportunity for dispute. I did not understand that the terms of the deed of the gift called for the water line length at all, and only sent the approximate length as a matter of courtesy to supplement the small amount of information contained in the custom house certificate. Why, General Paine told me himself that he spent a whole day trying to figure from the custom house certificate whether the Thistle was eighty or ninety feet long."

The Thistle is affoat once more, and is about as bright and handsome a looking piece of marine architecture as ever rode the waters of New York bay.

Just before the bottom touched the water a photographer when abroad and took pictures of Captain Barr and his crew. While he was still at his work Lieutenant Henn, of the Galatea, and Designer J. NEW YORK, Sept. 26. - Mrs. Black, wife of Captain Black, counsel for the Chicago anarchists, said yesterday : "If these men are hanged their wives will dispose of their children and theu commit suicide. Nina Van Zandt has frequently assured me that if her husband, Angust Spies, goes to the scaffold, she will die by her own hand the same hour. The other women tell me the same thing.
