A Creaking Hinge

Which the joints, or hinges, of the body are stiffened and inflamed by Rheumatism, they cannot be moved without causing the most excruciating pains. Ayer's Sarsaparilla has effected, in our city many most remarkable cures, a number of which baffled the efforts of the most experienc ed physicians. Were it necessary I could give the names of many individuals who have been case it has certainly worked wonders, relieving

NOTICED IN NEWSPAPERS.

Personal Paragraphs Concerning Men and Women Whom the World Knows. Mr. Percival Leigh, one of Punch's original staff, is still actively connected with that brilliant journal.

Stephanie of Austria is young, plump and joily, with bright yellow hair and a quick temper. She likes Americans and American doughnuts,

A. W. Dimock, the millionaire banker, has had his wife's features carved in a meerschaum pipe and his own in another. The work has been done very artistically. Each pipe cost Mr. Dimock $500.

John Hill, the "Norwegian king" of Grundy county, Ills., canceled his contracts with farm tenants at $4 cash rent per acre and will take in lieu half of the corn they raise, which will not be much.

Gen. Booth, the leader of the Salvation army, is planning an invasion of Zululand and South America, and preparatory to the organization of his forces for this foreign campaign be has issued a call for 5,000 officers to be trained as missionaries.

Frascueto, the celebrated toreador, the hero of many bull fights, who came near getting killed by an unusually pugnacious beast at Marseilles not long ago, has agreed to give four performances in Mexico for the modest sum of $80,000 and a benefit.

Mr. Claus Spreckels, the great sugar refiner, is reported to be contemplating the experiment of growing beet root sugar in this country in one of the central western states. It is claimed that the climate is similar to that in Germany and Austria, where beet root cultivation is a most important industry.

A sheep raiser named Thompson, living in the division of Victoria West, Cape Colony, South Africa, drove a flock of 1,430 ewes up to a small building in which he intended to take shelter from a storm. As the sheep huddled around the building, it was struck by lightning and shattered, and 790 of the sheep were instantly killed.

Miss Winnaretta Singer, the daughter of the sewing machine millionaire, is worth more than $1,000,000 in her own right. But notwithstanding this, and the fact that she is about to marry the Prince de Seey Montbellard, she cultivates her talent for painting as assiduously as though her bread and butter depended upon it.

Mr. Cross, of Westerly, R. I., has in his possession a tall eight day clock which belonged to Commodore Vanderbilt's mother and stood in the kitchen of the old birthplace on Staten Island. From the depths of that clock, which old Mrs. Vanderbilt used as a savings bank, she took $100 of hard saved money and gave it to young Cornelius to start in business. That $100 was the foundation of the Vanderbilt millions. Mr. Cross married a daughter of Commodore Vanderbilt, and the old clock was her share of the homestead furniture.

A wealthy resident of Odessa named Adolph Kohan, who recently died, left the sum of 100,000 rubles and 3,000 acres of land for the erection of cheap dwellings, provided the city will grant additional land for the purpose and will for all time exempt the dwellings from taxation. If the city authorities do not agree to these conditions the entire property is to be placed at the disposal of the governor general of Moscow.

Mrs. Isabella Mitchell, M. D., of Detroit, has invented a process for preserving meat and vegetables at a merely nominal expense. Mrs. Mitchell was graduated as a physician from the Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery about eleven years ago, and in the course of her studies and practice became interested in developing the uses of ozone and finally discovering that it was not only a tonic and health giver, but also a great preservative agent. She has, she claims, succeeded in perfecting her methods, and her mechanical appliances are already protected by patents, while she has filed a caveat for the fluid used, the composition of which is yet a secret.

A Glimpse at Lyman Trumbull. Residents in the vicinity of Oakland have abundant opportunity to point out the Hon. Lyman Trumbull to visiting friends. He is to be seen nearly every summer afternoon working among the old fashioned flowerbeds of the garden surrounding his plain house on Lake avenue. His brother and sons live around him. The ex-senator bears his years well. His face is no more wrinkled than when, fifteen years ago, it was a subject for the pencil of Nast. He lives quietly, going into society very little. He is supposed to be out of politics. The newspapers rarely ask him for his views. But passengers on the suburban trains notice that when occasionally some acquaintance approaches his seat with a bit of political information to convey his eye lights up. He rides home on the train every day for lunch, returning to his office

His law practice is enormous. It is said to be worth $50,000 a year. There are, it is said, not half a dozen lawyers in the west who command fees so large, especially upon corporation law. The firm, as a rule, handles none but heavy cases, but lately the ex-senator's son, Perry Trumbull, has returned to his father's office after ten years' experience on the board of trade, and has resumed practice in that class of business. - Chicago News,

A Model Conductor.

There is a conductor on a car of the Columbia avenue branch of the Traction company's lines who is a model after which many in his position might pattern themselves with great advantage to the street car traveling public. When the car is in that condition that usually every time an additional passenger boards it the conductor calls "Move a little farther front, please," the man, instead of bawling the request from the rear platform, where it has no effect, enters the car and asks those in the rear, individually and politely, to move up farther, and every time they do so. Again, when the seats are filled by people who might, by sitting closer together, make room for another, when the other arrives, this conductor enters the car and asks the people, in a gentlemanly manner, to move so that the new passenger can have a seat. The conductor referred to is one in 1,000.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Trees for St. Petersburg.

The municipality of St. Petersburg has decided to plant two rows of trees in all the streets which are more than twenty-three meters broad. There are sixty-five such streets in the city. The Dutch linden tree will be selected for this purpose, as being best adapted to the climate of St. Fetersburg and one of the most rapidly growing trees. It is estimated that the cost will be 25 rubles per tree, or 625,000 rubles in all, as about 25,000 trees will be required.—Boston Transcript.

For the Colored People.

One of the most select hotels in Saratoga is one which is open to colored people only. Its proprietor is said to be worth $200,000. Among his guests this year have been several young colored women of wealth and position. Two of them wore diamonds of great value. One of these dusky beauties was considered the belle of Saratoga by her race, and her somewhat haughty manners showed that she realized what is due to a queen of beauty .-Chicago Times.
