LIGHT AND AIRY.

On the Press Boat. Oh, the breezes blow And the white yachts go Far out o'er the heaving sea; And I rise and sink Till I really think

It will be the death of me. Oh, my breath comes quick, I am deathly sick, And as pale as a Chinese ghost Ah! that billowy swell, As the steam tug fell,

While the swift yachts fly. I heave—a sigh, And I long-how I long-for home And I gaze at the beach-· Far out of reach-And I wish that I hadn't come. -Somerville Journal.

Made me long for death almost.

Constantly Reminded of Her.

He was stroking her bair fondly-she had beautiful hair, which was not overlooked when inscrutable providence was painting things red-and they were very, very happy.

The old folks had gone to bed. "And during the busy hours of the day George, dear," the girl went on, 'do thoughts of me ever come to you? Do you think of me occasionally while immersed in the cares and responsibilities of your busy business life?"

"Do I think of you occasionally?" he replied, with tender reproach. "Yes, indeed I do, love, every time I see a white horse."-New York Sun.

The Only Way.

The surest and simplest highway to fame Is to be an adept in the national game. In pulpit, in politics, business, in all The professions of life there's a chance that you'll

You may make up your mind that fame, fortune As long as you play with a regular nine.

A Maligned City.

Young Mr. Waldo (visiting in Chicago)-I am very agreeably disappointed in Chicago, Miss Breezy. I have always understood that your city was somewhat backward in the refining influences which tend to exalt and embellish civilized life.

Miss Breezy (with genteel indignation)-Chicago is very much maligned, Mr. Waldo. The stories told that we possess but little culture and refinement are simply guff.-New York Sun.

Last Season's Account. Announcement cards we now receive; Our clothier humbly begs the leave To call our brief attention To all the latest styles for fall; To patterns large and patterns small, Of which he makes brief mention.

And then concludes with, "Please remit."

A Mortifying Fluke.

-Clothier and Furnisher.

Caller (to Mrs. Wabash of Chicago) - Were you at the dinner party given by Mrs. Breezy last week?

Mrs. Wabash—Yes. Caller-It was a success, of course? Her dinners always are. Mrs. Wabash-Ye-es. Everything was very nice, but there were only nine kinds of pie. Mrs. Breezy explained that the baker had disappointed her.—New York Sun.

Winter is Coming. 'Twill soon be here,

The season drear Of snow and bad sore throats; We'll then expect To resurrect Last winter's overcoats.

-Clothier and Furnisher.

An Enormous Boom. "Yes," said the man from Biggsville, "we are having an old fashioned boom. Four railways heading our way, street car company organized, new stock yards"-"New stock yards?"

"That's what I say." "How large are they?"

"Oh, they're small yet. I'm using 'em for a hog pen just now."-Lincoln Journal.

> None for Her. She didn't like "galways," And vowed she'd ne'er own A spouse through whose whisker The breezes had blown.

-Merchant Traveler.

Two Pitiful Cases. Two bruised and battered patients lay side by side in a hospital ward. "I'm a base ball umpire," said one; "who are you?"

"I was one of the judges at a baby show," said the other; and then the orderly came and gave each of them a hypodermic injection of morphine. - New York Sun.

What He Told.

The angler fixed his gaudy flies; Right gracefully he tossed 'em; He hooked two trout of monstrous size, And then, by Jove, he lost 'em! -Boston Courier.

The Suppressed Sex. A contemporary asks: "Did it ever occur to anybody that if the women of this country should march en masse to the polls to vote no power on earth could stop them?" Turn a cow loose near those polls and the enfranchised women would scatter "en masse." No power on earth could stop the panic. - Martha's Vineyard Herald.

A Natural Mistake.

Woman (who has given him something to eat)—I s'pose you find a tramp's life a very hard one?

Stranger-Tramp, madam? I'm no tramp. I'm just getting home from a summer resort. -New York Sun.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment. These purifying and soothing remedie deserve the earnest attention of all persons liable to gout, sciatica, or other painful affections of the muscles, nerves, or joints. The Ointment should be applied after the affected parts have been patiently fomented with warm water, when the Ointment should be diligently rubbed upon the adjacent skin, unless the friction causes pain. Holloway's Pills should be simultaneously to diminish pain, reduce inflammation, and purify the blood. This treatment abates the violence, and lessens the frequency of gout, rheumatism, and all spasmodic diseases which spring from hereditary predisposition, or from any accidental weakness of The Ointment checks the local malady, while the Pills restore vital power.

A Frank Confession.

Wife-"What are some of the require ments necessary to make a successful poke player, my dear ?" Husband (thoughtfully)-"Well, a man

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to the taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other

A Sufferer's Letter. I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years. I have lost my sense of smell entirely for the last fifteen years, and I had almost lost my hearing. My eyes were getting so dim I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can see to thread as fine a needle as ever I did. My sense of smell is partly restored; it seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for catarrh-Mrs. E. E. Grimes, Rendril, Ohio.

Unknown. There is no remedy known to medical science that can excel Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry as a cure for cholera morbus, diarrhoea, dysentery, or any form of summer complaint afflicting children or

Not As Low As He Might Be.

One of Horace Greeley's peculiarities was his intense dislike of tobacco. The story is told that on one occasion a gentleman, knowing this, intentionally passed him a box of cigars that he was handing round to a small company, whereupon Mr. Greeley said: "I thank you, I haven't got as low as that yet. I only drink and swear."

To Avoid Baldness or Grey Hair.

"Use Dr. Dorenwend's Great German Hair Magic. It keeps the scalp clean and free from dandruff, and promotes the growth of the hair. It prevents premature greyness and stops all falling out of the hair. On perished, it will invigorate them and force a new growth of hair. Ask for Hair Magic. It is the only reliable. For sale by J. G. King, A. P. Chown, and all druggists.
