MAN'S DUTY IS PLAIN.

THE IMPERFECTIONS OF OTHERS SHOULDN'T BE THE GUIDE.

'Follow Thou Me," an Injunction applicable Under All Circumstances-Wong Chin Foo Attacked - Deplorable Crimes Not the Result of Christianity, but of Man's Wickedness.

"What is that to thee ? Follow thou Me," was the subject of an interesting discourse in Sydenham Street Methodist church last evening. There was a fine audience and the pastor, Rev. J. W. Sparling, spoke with much force. In opening he said, quoting his text from John XXI-22, that the words constituted the rebuke which Jesus administered to Peter for neglecting his own duty while inopportunely concerning himself about the duty of another. It was as if Christ had said : "Peter, trouble your head with your own affairs, your question is entirely irrelevant. What John shall do has no connection with your responsibility. Your duty is personal, present, imperative and independant of the state and condition of all others. I have commanded you to follow me. It is your duty to obey directly, unhesitatingly, and for yourself without being influenced by what those around you may or may not do. My command is plain, your duty of obedience is equally plain." Such was the scope of the text when originally spoken. To-day it contained a general truth of great and vital importance, a truth for the exhibition and enforcement of which there are special reasons. It teaches that the duty to obey and serve Christ is individual, immediate and unchanged by any obstacles that may arise from the deportment of others or from the delusions of man's own mind. The speaker then addressed himself to those unconverted persons who refused to comply with the overtures of the gospel until every extraneous question which could be asked was answered to their satisfaction, and every fancied impediment they could suggest or conjure up was removed.

"In this connection," said Mr. Sparling, "the first class I shall mention consists of those who hesitate or refuse to obey the command of Christ, 'Follow Me,' because they cannot understand all the mysteries connected with revealed religion. There can be no question that there are in the scriptures some things hard to understand, deep and inscrutable problems which no human intellect can solve or mind comprehend. From the very nature of what they propose to reveal it must be so. But are we justified in rejecting revealed religion because there are these mysteries? Can we have a spiritual religion without mystery? However, the practical side of the gospel is clear and plain. 'The wayfaring man though a fool need not err therein. How irrational to reject the gospel because of mystery on the divine side when all is clear and plain on the human side. Men do not reject food because they cannot understand the mystery of digestion and nutrition. There is mystery all around us. Mystery in religion? Yes. But 'What is that to thee ! Follow thou Me.

"There are others who refuse to repent and obey the commands of heaven and behere in Christ, because, for sooth, they do not know how they became sinners, or in other words, they cannot solve the problem of moral evil. That is they will not put out the fire in the building because they cannot tell how it originated! Once in my life I had the misfortune to contract typhoid fever, and to this day I have not a shadow of an idea of how or where I caught it. But that did not prevent me from taking medicine to secure restoration. However sin originated it is here. But though there may be obscurity about sin's origin there is none about sin's remedy! Oh! what infatuation to stand and argue about sin's parentage while sin itself, actual sin, personal sin, wilful sin, sin multiplied in a thousand forms and shapes, is dragging you to death!

"Then there are those who refuse to follow Christ because of the diversity of religious opinion in the world. There are so many sects, they say, they cannot tell which is the right one to join." It was in this connection that the speaker referred to the utterances of Wong Chin Foo and snowed that while there was diversity in the forms of worship and in church doctrine these were only the non-essentials. There was diversity in politics, in business, and in all kinds of secular life. And so there are differences of opinion among men in religion. As long as men think for themselves they will differ. Still there is substantial agreement among good men. The things in which they differ are as nothing compared with the things on which they agree. They believe in the unity of the Godhead, in the incarnation, atonement, sin and repentance, and salvation by the blood of the crucified Jesus. "But," said the minister, "supposing it were not so your duty is still plain: 'What is that to thee? Follow thou Me. "Then there are those who oppose religion because of the inconsistency and imperfections of professing christians. There are some christians no better than men of the world." There were, he admitted, with Wong Chin Foo, grave defects in the christian world there were crimes to be deplored but there were as many if not more heinous crimes in heathendom. As evidence he referred to the terrible slaughter of infants and polygamy which heathendom perpetuated. He referred to the charge that divorces were numerous in christian lands, but said that in polygamous countries divorces were not required for men were allowed all the wives they could support, the Emperor alone being confined to seventy-two. 'Twere better, he thought to have occasional divorces than to have polygamy in the land. But these things did not put christianity on the level with heathendom. The purity of motive that actuated christian hearts was entertainingly illustrated and then a picture drawn as a worldly person would do it between religion and the world. How was the comparison made? Why religion was represented by some miserable scallowag, clinging to the church, a person for whom nature had done little and grace less, and beside him was placed one of the earth's noblemen, a generous big-hearted fellow, and who comes out best by the comparison?

"I also admit," he went on, "with sadness that even among sincere honest persons imperfections are to be found. Alas, perfect holiness dwells not in our sin-blighted earth." In conclusion he held that christianity was one of the greatest forces for the development of man, and the development of those graces and virtues which have kept christianity "the salt of the earth," "the light of the world." He pointed out that men need not look to others to find pardon. It could be obtained by looking to Christ. The duty of all was plain, "Follow thou

At Queen Street Church.

Rev. S. G. Bland, in speaking in Queen street Methodist church yesterday regarding Wong Chin Foo's dilemma in choosing a suitable church, said the difficulty was easily overcome. That church was the ideal one that gave the greatest pre-eminence to Christ. Such a place might not be where Christ's name always called forth a bow or where devotion was shown Him in the rituals and ceremonies but in the church, where men and women were living as Christ would have them live, and where everything was done to the glory of God, that was the church to join, no matter what name it bore, for there pre-emineuce was given to Christ.

At the evening service Rev. R. Whiting delivered an appropriate sermon, and afterwards, in the presence of a large audience, extended the right hand of fellowship to thirty-two persons who were enrolled as members of the church.

Why I Am Not a Heathen.

Yan Phou Lee in North American Review. I draw a sharp distinction between reli gion and ethics. Religion pertains to the heart. Ethics deals more with outward conduct. 2 Religion inculcates principles. Ethics lays down rules. Religion without ethics is like a disembodied spirit; ethics without religion is a body from which the soul has fled. The most intelligent form of heathenism, namely, Confucianism, never taught the "relations and acts of individuals towards God, ' the ruler of the universe. Confucius inculcated a lofty morality, but left religion to shift for itself. "Born and raised a heathen I learned and practiced its moral and religious code," by worshipping the prescribed number of idols, and I was useful to others, though not to myself, because I helped to fatten the lessees of the temples, incense vendors and idle priests. "My conscience was clear," because I knew not what I was doing, "and my hopes as to the future life were undimmed by distracting doubt," simply because they were never very bright. In fact, I was not precocious enough to think much on the subject. · · · Christianity has demonstrated its fitness to supply my spiritual needs. Its authenticity as a history no man can deny. I believe, I accept, its truths, as I hope to be happy in this life and to enjoy a blessed immortality in the life to come. Do you wonder that I am a christian? I cordially invite all heathens, whether American or English or Chinese, to come to the Saviour.

WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN MOVEMENT.

The Origin and Progress and Success of It -The Address of Miss Fraine.

A gospel temperance meeting was held in the Sons of Temperance hall yesterday afternoon. Addresses were made by Rev. Mr. Thompson, Miss Fraine, of St. Thomas, and Mr. E. Chown, who presided. Miss Fraine, a very pleasing speaker, said she was interested in Women's Christian Temperance Unions. When it was first decided to organize unions throughout the land the movement was made light of. But the temperance women heeded not what their enemies said and pushed their work zealous ly. The result is that 5,000 women represent the women's christian temperance union, of Canada, and are banded together to fight against the liquor traffic. They had God with them and would therefore suc ceed. She represented the world to be a chess board. The temperance people are moving on it, and fighting their enemy the liquor traffic. Supporters of it try to che.k mate the temperance people but ignobly failed. On the board the liquor traffic is represented by saloons, gilded halls of sin, and everything which money can purchase, while the temperance people had only the weak things of the world to fight for them. But God was with them, and they were therefore able to fight their enemies successfully. She was sorry to state that there were christians who laughed at the temperance movement. These people may love Christ, but they love the world too much to be bold temperance men and women. This movement was not popular with the influential people of the world. But it must become so. It was impossible to understand how christian people could look tranquilly upon the misery brought about by liquor. The speaker concluded by urging those present to take a more active part in the temperance work, and to do whatever they undertook in God's name. She speaks this evening in the same hall.

THE PROTECTION OF LIFE.

I. J. Christie - R. T. Burns.

The Petition Anent the Railway Crossings - A Meeting of Reeves is Called.

On Saturday the committee, who have had much to do with the petition sent to Ottawa, praying for protection from railway accident in this vicinity, met and decided to ask the reeves of the five front townships to call a meeting. At this meeting the work of the committee will be reviewed. and the committee, no doubt, relieved of further responsibility. It is expected that the people will appoint delegates to go to Ottawa and press the petition upon the consideration of the railway committee. The meeting of reeves will occur on Saturday next, at the St. Lawrence hotel, and they should take action at once. The special committee (composed of Messrs. Fair, Clyde and Graves) has done a useful work. It has put the case in the way of being successful, and, the public, failing to do the duty now imposed upon them, it will step in, assume new responsibilities and seek the accomplishment of the end aimed at.

Will Have to Comply With the By-Law. R. McCammon was charged at the police court this morning with having erected a wooden building on his premises, which action is contrary to the by-law. Defendant said he was not guilty of breaking the law. He had not erected a building. What he put up was four posts and a roof. There were no sides to the structure, and therefore it did not come within the meaning of the law. The magistrate held that he had violated the by-law relating to wooden buildings, and would have to comply with it or be fined. McCammon asked that his case be adjourned until to-morrow. Request

SELLING LIQUOR TO MINORS.

The Evidence Taken by the Magistrate in the O'Toole Case- 1 Boy's Danger. The evidence of Dr. T. M. Fenwick was heard at the court this morning with reference to the intoxication of Cavan O'Toole, a boy 13 years of age. The doctor stated that he was notified by the police one day last week that Cavan O'Toole was in the police cells and very sick. He came and saw O'Toole, finding him insensible from the effects of alcohol. He exhibited the symptoms of poison, and a great deal of difficulty was experienced in bringing him around.

The magistrate—"If the boy had not been found by the police and brought to the station house, and you had not attended him, what do you think would have been the results?" Dr. Fenwick-"The boy might have died from the effects of the alcohol, or if he bad been left where the police found him he might have died from exposure. He was in a very critical condition when I saw him." Magistrate—"I suppose it is a serious thing for a boy of the age of O'Toole to use

Dr. Fenwick-"Very serious and very dangerous.

The Magistrate-"How much alcohol would injure a child like the prisoner?" Dr. Fenwick—That is a rather difficult question. The effects of alcohol depend greatly upou the physical condition of the person who takes it. I don't think O'Toole is able to stand much alcohol." McParland was charged at the police court this morning with having sold liquor in quantities, less than three half pints. He was found guilty and fined $50 and costs. It was in his store the whiskey, which O'Tool and other boys drank, was secured.

THREE KNOCKED OUT.

A COLD DAY FOR THE FOOT-BALL-ERS OF KINGSTON-

A Fair Game on the Cricket Field, and An Intensely Interesting Conflict at Toronto-The Cadets Defeated by the Montrealers.

On Saturday the football season was opened in this city by a match between the Kings tons and Ottawas. The following composed the teams : Kingstons - Elliott, back ; McAllister,

White, (captain), Fields, half backs ; Renton and Bureau, quarter backs ; Loucks, Mitchell, Mowat, O'Shea, Gildersleeve, Fralick, Skinner, Jack and McKelvey, for-Ottawas Taylor, back ; May, Low, (captain), Grout, half-backs ; Sparks, quarterback ; Bowie, Clendennen, Muirhead, Badg lev, Phillips, Anderson, Bentley, McGarret, Bray and Matthewson, forwards.

Mr. W. C. Carruthers acted as referee and gave his decisions in his usual impartial

The game opened at 3 o'clock. Ottawa won the toss and concluded to defend the western goal, thus having both sun and wind in their favor, a great advantage, as at this time a heavy wind was blowing. Kingstons kicked the ball in play, but it was quickly collared and brought buck by the Ottawa men. Scrimmaging followed for nearly the whole of the half time, making the game rather monotonous and devoid of skilled play on either side. When half-time was called neither side had scored. At a change of time the men from the capital settled down to work and played a very good game to the finish, succeeding in scoring two touch downs and two rouges, in all ten points, while Kingston only managed to secure one rouge. In the last half of the game Ottawa did some fine passing. Low played in good form, as also did Bowie and Clendennen. Kingston showed very poor play from the start, doing little or no passing, and about the same amount of kicking. Renton showed that he has not forgotten some of his old tricks. Gildersleeve played well in his position. Elliott, as back, played a good game, tackling and punting the ball in fine style. But it requires practice to play football, and this the Kingston team showed by its play was something strange to them, for this year at least.

'Varsity Defeats Queens.

An exciting game of football was played Saturday afternoon on University grounds Toronto, between 'Varsity and Queen' College clubs. About 1,500 people were present and watched the game with interest, at times becoming so excited as to break down the ropes and crowd on the grounds notwithstanding the efforts of several of the police to keep them back. However they did not seriously inconvenience the players.

Following are the teams: Varsity - Back, Garrett; half backs, H. Senkler (captain) and Mill; quarters, C. E. Senkler and J. L. McLean; wings, I. Senkler and L. Boyd; forwards, E. Rykart, W. Cross, J. Boyd, Sullivan, J. Moss, McLaren, Watt and Mckay. Queen's College-Back, H. McCammon: half backs, H. and E. Pirie; quarters, Farrel and Smellie; wings, Rankin (captain), White, Bain and Pratt; forwards, T. Me-Cammon, Fleming, McFarlane, Marquis, Gorman and Gandier.

Both teams played magnificently, but it was the opinion of many veteran football men on the ground that Queen's col lege played decidedly the better game. During the first part of the game Moss and Rykart collided. Rykart was stunned and Moss got an ugly cut on the forehead: both, however, recovered sufficiently to resume play in a few minutes. During the first half Queen's college secured two rouges and a touch down. 'Varsity followed suit, and shortly afterwards got a try witnout a kick, thus leaving the score 8 to 6 in favor of 'Varsity at the end of the first half. During the second half Queen's college received two more rouges, thus making the score a tie. At the end of the second half, as the score was a tie, the referee allowed twenty minutes' more play. Fifteen minutes passed without eather team scor ing. The Torontos now forced the play near the Queen's goal. The excitement was intense. Just before time was up 'Varsity scored a touch down, thus winning the game Mr. Muntz, of the Toronto club, acted as referee, giving entire satisfaction to both teams. For the 'Varsity: H. Senkler, L. Boyd, Rykart and Moss played remarkable well, as did both the Piries, Rankin, and Fleming for the Queen's Montreal Defeats the Cadets. MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—The football season opened auspiciously Saturday afternoon with a match between Royal military college and Montreal first fifteen on the exhibition grounds. The cadets won the toss and played down field with the wind, and made a vigorous attack on the Montreal gaol. After a series of scrimmages the cadets scored a try. More hard scrimmages followed and the leather worked up the field and a lot of quick play left the ball in the cadet 25. A burst by Montreal took the ball over the line and Fry obtained a try, which was successful. The score was now four to four. Cayley made fine punts to Montreal's 25, when Hodgson got in and ran into touch. Then followed a lot of hard play, in which the greater weight of the home team told, and just before half time Campbell obtained another try for Montreal, making the score 8 to 4.

In the second half the Montreal team had the best of it, having every advantage. From a long kick by Hodgson, Lawson and Black were able to rush the ball into cadet territory. Cayley, by a grand piece of play, sent the ball up field, where J. Campbell got it and by a long shot sent it back, where a scrimmage ensued, when Cleghorn got it and passed back to Hodgson, who, by clever dodging, managed to transfer the play to the lower end. When the ball was returned Campbell got possession and kicked into Morris' hands. After this the Montrealers had the best of the game, and when time was called they had increased their score to 28 points against their opponents' 4. The cadets play the Britannias to-day.
