THANKSGIVING IN NEW YORK.

How One of the City Churches Brought It

Nearer to the Poor.

The young men of the Avenue A brotherhood, connected with St. George's church, New York, gave up their hotiday on thanksgiving day to serve 500 men and women. From one to ten p.m. the work, directed by Mrs. J. F. Ruggles, was almost uninterrupted, and not always pleasant. The dinper at one Mrs. F. Vanderbilt gave to the women of her Helping Hand. Then 150 women of St. George's Helping Hand arrived, and after singing, under Rev. Henry Wilson's direction, they sat down to a bountiful repast. The dinner given to the men in the evening was provided by Mrs. F. Vanderbilt, and was a most unqualified success. At eight o'clock the chapel was filled with men, of whose average moral character the less said the better. Yet no congregation ever listened with more attention and respect as Dr. Wilson earnestly and simply preached the gospel. Brought there from undoubtedly selfish motives they heard the simple truth, which in more than one case was food for their starving souls, as the dinner was for their starving bodies. When, at nine o'clock, they filed into the dining hall perfect order was observed, and all joined in the hymn :

"Follow, follow, I will follow Jesus." For nearly an hour they ate, in businesslike way, as though they never had enjoyed a "square meal" before, yet with no unbecoming noise or greediness, and when, towards the close, a very dirty guest arose and proposed a vote of thanks, the "aye" that was the response shook the building. Many on leaving shook hands with the "servants" and expressed their gratitude. The first table having been cleared the neighborhood was drawn upon, and about forty sat down and consumed the fragments of the feast. Some were poor tramps and outcasts, and though they were apparently without the wedding garment who can tell what the King saw in their hearts when He came in to see the guests? Something of good, certainly, which may be quickened by sympathy and nourished by His spirit, through the willing hands and hearts of His faithful servants at Avenue A mis-

Besides the above 190 families received a generous dinner. Each caller of the 190 represented from two to thirteen at home, so that 678 persons in all received dinners.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Suggestions Before the Committee-Improving the Fire Alarm System.

The committee on fire, water and light may recommend that the chemical engine and a team of horses be located on Barrie street, and that the building now occupied by Brown & Son, as a carriage works, be used as a fire station.

Nine fire alarm boxes are expected to arrive from Toronto this week. One of the boxes will be erected at Williamsville. The wires connecting the fire alarm boxes with the fire station have been removed to the electric light poles. A new line has been strung on Wellington street. A new galvanic battery, which will work the fire alarm system more satisfactorily than at present, has arrived.

A new gong, 36 inches in circumference, has been ordered. It will take the place of the gong now in the station, which will be removed to the chief's house.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE.

Prof. Dupuis to Deliver the First.

Last evening a meeting of the directors of the Mechanics' Institute was held in the rooms of the art school. There were present James Redden, chairman; Rev. W. B. Carey, R. Gardiner, R. M. Horsey, James McArthur, J. M. Machar, William Neish, F. S. Rees and H. Savage. J. M. Machar, chairman of the lecture committee, submitted a list of a course of eight lectures to be delivered by professors of Queen's University and others in the new year. It was thought they would prove attractive, the subjects being chiefly of a technical character. A committee was formed to make the necessary arrangements in regard to advertising and printing. The first lecture will be given on the 10th Jan., 1888, by Professor N. Dupuis, and is expected to be of great interest and extend the usefulness of this

The growing importance of the newspaper as a literary medium, to which the magazine scarcely approaches, is found in the increasnumber of famous writers whose best work is continually found in its columns. And this increase is destined to be even more perceptible during next year. Louisa M. Alcott, Grace Greenwood, T. De Witt Talmage, Will Carleton, Mrs. Lew Wallace, Wilkie Collins, Marion Harland, Simon Cameron, Fanny Davenport, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher, and Robert J. Burdette are among those who will write for the newspapers during the new year under the management of Mr. William J. Box, of 7 Murray St., New York.

A Good Corn Sheller. A marvel of cheapness, of efficacy, and of promptitude, is contained in a bottle of that famous remedy, Putman's Painless Corn Extractor. It goes right to the root of the trouble, there acts quickly but so painlessly that nothing is known of its operations until the corn is shelled. Beware of substitutes offered for Putman's Painless Corn Extractor, safe, sure and painless. Sold at drug-

A DEATH AT WATERTOWN.

He Has Friends in the City-look Too Much Chloral to Sleen. Watertown Times.

"Chloral Hydrate." Written on the outside of a paper these two words told the story of the last hours of D. Champ. Smith, who was discovereddead in his room in the City hotel, Watertown, on Sunday afternoon. A chambermaid went into his room and found life extinct. She summoned George W. Kelly, an employee in the barber shop of E. A. E. Meyer. He shook the body, exclaiming "Get up, Smith; Smith, get up." Land lord Roach was informed. Ceroner Rexford was eating his dinner when notified of Smith's death. He was accompanied by UPRIGHT PIANOS. Smith's death. He was accompanied by Landlord Roach and went to the dead man's room. The body was cold and had probably been so for several hours.

In the pocket of the pants of deceased. there were about forty cents. In his coat was a letter from his mother and a few business cards. On the dresser was the paper containing the crystal-like powder which had undoubtedly caused his death, and two other powders of a yellowish color done up in ballots.

The work of notifying the relatives was proceeded with by Mr. William Kenyon, a companion of the dead man, who lived near him at his home about three miles from Kingston, Ont. County Treasurer Thomas Vanluven, deceased's brother-in-law, was sent a telegram notifying him that D. C. Smith was dead.

It is not thought by men in Watertown that Smith committed suicide. It is much more probable that he took chloral and went to bed hoping for a good night's sleep. He was in excellent spirits on Saturday evening. He was in the habit of taking chloral to quiet his nerves, and his death Auction Sale of Timber was the result of a mistake. Smith's room was on the third floor.

Smith's face is familiar to many Water town people. He was his worst as well as his last enemy. He spent last winter in the city and during this summer has been em ployed by Mr. Bailey Mearness, in the Cascade cheese factory, at Burr's Mills. He returned to the City hotel about four weeks

The deceased is said to have a brother in Chicago who is a physician, one in Florida and another on his mother's farm in Canada. His father, who was an officer of the Canadian government, has been dead for several years. His sister is the wife of County Treasurer Vanluven, of Kingston. Mr. T. F. Vanluven brought the remains

The Blending of Life And death is one of the mysterious functions of the human organism. There are constantly battling two rival elements; the one throwing off waste and effete matter-death, the other to supply living atoms to build up and sustain-life. It is when the system grows sluggish, when the effete and dead particles are not eliminated and remain to clog life's channels, that Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut render greatest service. They cleanse the system, restore the liver to a healthy action, correct morbid secretions, renew the springs of life by making digestion more perfect, and proved by use the most perfect family medicine in existence. Accept no substitute for Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, At all druggists and dealers in medicine.
