THE LAW IN FRONTENAC.

A WRITER'S - REASONS FOR CON-TINUING THE SCOTT ACT.

What Would You do if Your Brother Acted Like That |-Support the License System !- A Charivari That Did Not Result in a Big Drunk-Swearing and Blasphemy Quite Common.

KINGSTON, Dec. 9. - (To the Editor): Two incidents will serve for a text to illustrate the need of the Scott act.

On Wednesday, while travelling towards Kingston, the writer overheard this : "Did you hear, Jim, about the shiveree t'other night?"

"Shiveree ? No. Where ?" "Down to-'s. You know the fellow they used to call Toud. He's only 19 years. Well, he went and married --- s widow. They had a big time with cow bells and borns and guns. The horses give them a racket. Our Dave, he told the old man he was coming over to my place, and he slipped a horse out of the stable and went to jine the fun. There wasn't much fuss at the house. The fellow called them in and give 'em two dollars and said they might have a dance. But when the boys got the money they thought they'd have more fun if they'd go down to Pic and get some whiskey. So off they set for Pic, but no whiskey could they get there, only cigars and can-

So much for the probable fear of a Scott act prosecution. How often has a drunken spree during a charivari ended in calamity.

A few hours after hearing the above bit of wayside gossip I was sitting in a K. & P. railway station whose sounding board partitions conveyed to an aggrieved ear the following story wherein a fellow creature gloried in his shame. I omit the ejaculations wherein Ged (our Father) and Christ (our Redeemer) were named every third word or so. And I take occasion here to note that this mode of defiling the air with filthy speech is a favorite occupation of many young lads in this county, to such an extent that cleri cal criticism might perhaps be profitably directed against it.

"I tell you, Sam ,I was in a bad way the other day. I wasn't drunk you know, but I had to get the train without any breakfast, and when I got to Kingston I just stayed at the bar and drank all day and didn't go into have any dinner. I wasn't drunk, but I was sick you know. I can drink whiskey all day long and brandy. I like brandy. can fill myself with brandy, and go to work next day as if I hadn't any.

Horrible, as this story now appears, the recital was when mingled with oats and curses, abominably more horrible. expected if the speaker should appear to some ruffian-like loafer, but to my amazement appeared instead a very broad shouldered manly looking fellow with good features - but a pale face. This is the preparation for the writing that will appear on ita pale tace. What will be its record in a few years, or less ?

I don't care for your opinion about the Scott act, my friend, but answer me thisbefore God. If this pale faced manly look ing lad were your brother would you believe that the license system would make him a sober man? -Yours, FRONTENAC.

Public School Trustees.

KINGSTON, Dec. 9. -- (To the Editor): believe that at the school board meeting last evening Mr. R. Shaw resigned his seat, so that now there are two vacancies. kope one of these will be tilled by a knight of labor. Some of these I know have made a special study of the Kindergarten system, and have a deep interest in the proper trial of it. One of them, as a trustee, would help along the cause about which the citizens generally as well as the knights are concerned, and be able to express at the board the feelings of hundreds with which the trustees do not come into constant contact. The matter of representation at the board should come before the knights of labor at once, and, if they desire one representative from Frontenac ward, should make intimation of the fact. I feel certain their wishes will be respected by the electors. Yours, A TRUSTEE.

We believe that there is no university like Queen's, but we never make comparisons nor insinuate that others are second, John Findlay, the mathematical champion of the class, is back again for a post-graduate course, and amuses himself by acting as postmaster. The following graduates have entered upon the study of law : J. McEwen, W. J. Kidd, J. J. Maclennan, W. A. Logie, C. B. Dupuis and J. F. Carmichael, William A. Cameron, though he writes B.A. after his name, is back at Kingston and intends before many years to follow his brother Dan's example, to heal the sick.

1. A. Cosgrove, during vacation, filled with success the pulpit of St. Andrew's church, Lindsay. He has now crossed the borders, and no doubt is edifying the American cousins by his wit and wisdom.

Malcolm McKenzie will probably take a post-graduate course in philosophy, and next session will see him walking away with the gold medal on that subject as evidence that he knows how to think.

Howard S. Folger is reported as going to New York to study law, but we hope this report is untrue, for Howard's good judgment and well-directed ambition would win him a high place in the courts of his own land.

E. H. Horsey represented the Royal college at the dinner of the Toronto medical school. It is not too much to say that Edward gave the Toronto men an oratorical treat that will ring in their ears till the day they graduate.

Sidney H. Gardiner's heart went out to the study of advanced chemistry, botany and geology, and he is carrying his love of study to a practical point. As there is to be a school of practical science in connection with Queen's, Sid thinks only Queen's men should hold professorships there, and he is, therefore, devoting his whole time and attention to studies which will qualify him for a chair, and from all accounts he is after a chair that will hold two.

MISSIONARY GATHERING

A Pleasant Evening Spent in Queen's University-The Association's Work.

The missionary association of Queen's held its first public meeting for this session last evening in convocation hall. Quite a good representation of students and a large number of citizens were present to enjoy the excellent programme which was presented. The Rev. John Mackie, M.A., presided, and, after opening the meeting with prayer, in a few well-chosen words he explained that the object of these meetings is the fostering of a missionary spirit among the students, and, by having the different pastors of the city to preside, thus create in both pastors and people a more lively interest in the work of the association. The members ef the foreign mission band were then called upon to sing the opening chorus, "Go Ye into All the World," after which the chairman called upon Mr. J. A. Sinclair, who had spent the summer in mission work for the association in the north-west, to relate some of his experiences and give his impressions regarding mission work there. Mr. Sinclair showed clearly that something should be done immediately for that great field A very interesting paper was read by Mr. O. L. Kilborne (medical) on the value of medical missions, especially as a pioneer agency. He pointed out that in America there is one medical man to every 500 of the population, while in heathendom there is only one medical man to every 3,000,000 of population. Miss McKellar, of the ladies' medical college, read an instructive paper on Madagascar missions, dealing with the geography of the island, the condition of the people, and the planting and progress of Christianity thereon Mr. J. J. Wright, B.A., gave a talk on "The relation of home and foreign missions," showing that the work is one both at home and abroad, and that the same spirit of consecration is needed if the work is to be successfully done. He showed also that those 'who engaged in this work must do so not only for their own sakes, and for the sake of those in darkness and despair, but above all for the sake of their Lord and Master Jesus Christ, and that although their difficulties may be many and their trials great, and although often cast down by reason of doubts and fears, yet they will be able to say, "All is well," because Christ is at the helm.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

CHANGES MADE IN THE SCHOOLS' TEACHING STAFF

All the Teachers Now Under Agreement-The Kindergarten System Under Consideration-Resignation of Mr. Shaw-Appointment of steturning Officers.

A regular meeting of the school board was held last evening. There were present at it: Messrs, Savage, (chairman); Anglin, Allen, Dunlop, Horne, McCammon, Shaw, Williamson, and Wilson.

COMMUNICATIONS. From Silby & Co., offering to supply a Kindergarten outfit for fifty-two pupils for

From Miss S. English, asking for a situation as teacher. - Referred to the committee of school management. From Capt. Thomas Donnelly, under date of Nov. 28th, as follows: "I write to ask if the board intend to take some action to remove the slur which Bishop Cleary has seen fit to cast on the wives and daughters of this province. Surely, if outside boards of education are taking action to deny his statements, it is very necessary that the Kingston board do something officially toward that end, or the outside world will think that what his lordship has said is true of the public school children of this city, where he has the best chance of observing. The reading of Capt. Donnelly's letter provoked a warm discussion. Mr. Shaw contended that the board should take notice of the letter, and do something which would be satisfactory to the writer. The following resolutions were submitted :

Moved by Mr. Anglin, seconded by Mr. Wilson, "That as Bishop Cleary states over his own signature that the statements that were reported to have been made by him about the public school girls are not true, and as the bishop has left for Rome, Mr. Donnelly's communication be placed on Moved in amendment by Mr. Shaw, sec onded by Mr. Dunlop, "That the secretary be instructed to advise Mr. Donnelly that this board does not consider his lordship Bishop Cleary worthy the attention of this or any other board of education in the province of Ontario.

Mr. Dunlop said the amendment he sec onded was the one which the board should adopt. He contended that the statements made by the bishop in Napance had not been contradicted.

Messrs, Anglin and Wilson strongly opposed the motion of Mr. Shaw and argued that no board, composed of sensible men, would think of passing it, in view of the remarks which the bishop had made regard ing the public school pupils while address ing the priests of this diocese.

The amendment was submitted and lost on the following division: Yeas, Messrs. W. Dunlop, A. Horne, R. Shaw; nays, Messrs. S. Anglin, J. McCammon, A. William son, T. C. Wilson and W. Allen.

The motion was carried. The de islon was: Yeas, H. B. Savage (chairman), W. Allen, S. Anglin, J. McCammon, A. Williamson, T. C. Wilson; nays, Messrs, W. Danlop, A. Horne and R. Shaw.

The question then arose as to how the board would answer Mr. Donnelly's communication. Mr. Shaw submitted a motion embodying the words, which he had used in framing the preceding amendment, and urged that it be sent to Mr. Donnelly. It, too, was again defeated.

It was then moved by Mr. Wilson, seconded by Mr. Williamson, that the letter of Mr. Donnelly be accepted, and that the resolution regarding it, passed by the board, be sent to him. - Carried.

THE COMING ELECTIONS. The nominations for school trustees for 1888 will be held on the last Wednesday in December, and the elections on the first Wednesday in January. The following returning officers were appointed and the buildings for polling selected.

Cataraqui Ward-Thomas Miller, Catara jui school house. Ontario Ward -G. McMahon, Ontario

paint shop. Rideau Ward - Webster Augustus, Louise

Victoria Ward T. Healey, Gordon street St. Lawrence Ward - J. Purdy, Mr. Purdy's shop, Princess street.

The returning officers will be paid $4 each for their services on nomination day, and if elections are held, they will receive $1 extra. The rent of the polling booths will be the same as paid in previous years. THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

The following accounts were recommended to be paid: A. Bogg, $8.25; Smith Bros., $34; A. Davidson, $24.73; B. Asselstine, $3.86; H. B. Carnovsky, $7; J. McLeod, $28.50; H. S. Smith, $15.60; T. McAuley, $28.53; J. Thompson, $4.37; A. Davidson, $39.10; T. Trenier, $6.40; H. B. Savage, $18.65; W. G. Kidd, $77.43; J. Agnew, $31; P. Walsh, $224.75; Power & Son, $129.75. The secretary reported having received $150 the grant to the Model school; $45 from the McLeod bequest, and $28.50 as non-resident fees. - Adopted.

SCHOOL MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE REPORT. This document stated that the committee had drawn up an agreement for each teacher appointed (unless a good reason was submitted for the absence of teachers) to serve according to the Public School acts and regulations for public schools and so preventing them leaving their profession of teaching without at least one months' notice. All the teachers had signed or consented to sign the agreement except the third teacher on the list of those appointed for the Central school. The result caused changes to be made in the classes throughout according to time of service. The following changes were submitted:

Central school-Miss Gill to take the vacant place : Miss Eva McDonald to fill Miss Gill's place; Miss Lovick, Gordon street school, to succeed Miss Mattie Crawford. Louise school-Miss Minnes to take Miss Eva McDonald's place; Miss L. Walker to take Miss Barry's place.

the place of Miss Minnes; Miss English to take Miss Lovick's place. Cataraqui school-Miss J. English's place to be taken by Miss L. Barry.

Queen street school-Miss Mattie Craw-

Gordon street school-Miss Polson to take ford to take Miss Polson's place. The committee have to some extent dealt with the question of the Kindergarten system, and has received figures as to material to be furnished. It has not had time to find out such things as expense of teachers, and this being specially important the board was asked to let the matter stand over until next meeting. It does not think there is anything to be said against the Kindergarten system except that of cost, and if it can reasonably limit that the committee recommends the adoption of the system. The report also recommended that the inspector get 1,000 certificates of honor at $80, and 3,000 certificates of promotion at $50, the certificates to be got from Chapman & Newsom, Toronto.

The attention of the board was directed to the fact of teachers being late, and it was suggested that the principal of each school be advised to look after, personally, the time books, and report to the board weekly the hours of arrival at the schools of each teacher. The committee asked for $50 for prizes. The report was adopted.

RETIREMENT OF MR. SHAW. Mr. Shaw retired after having submitted his resignation as trustee. He could have served another year for Frontenac ward without seeking re-election. The resignation was accepted, which with the retirement of Mr. McCammon, seeking municipal honours, will leave two vacancies to be contested for at the trustee election.

The following motion, bearing upon Mr. Shaw's resignation was carried unaminous-

Moved by Mr. Wilson, seconded by Mr. Dunlop, that this board accept the resignation of Mr. Shaw with much regret, he being a member whose services were able and efficient and who always took a deep interest in educational matters.

Mesurs. Dunlop, Wilson and Inspector Kidd, spoke to the motion and referred to the valuable services which Mr. Shaw had rendered in the interests of education in the city as a trustee. They deeply regretted that he should deem it advisable to sever his connection with the board.

The board adjourned at 10:30.

Public Inauguration of the MacLachlan Testimonial in Toronto,

Rev. Dr. Grant presided at a meeting in Toronto last evening on behalf of a movement in favor of the poet MacLachlan testimonial. The desire was to raise funds wherewith to present the poet, Alexander MacLachlan, Amaranth, with the farm on which he resides, and which is encumbered to its full market value. The poet is in his 68th year, and his admirers are determined that no pecuniary anxiety should trouble his declining years. Large individual contributions are looked for, and an extensive appeal will be immediately made both in Canada and the United States. Dr. Grant made an address on behalf of the poet. The doctors had forbidden him to address meetings, and some of his friends might possibly think he disobeyed orders, but, having promised last June to do everything in his power to make the MacLachlan testimonial a success, the committee would have had some right to think a promise from him of very little account had he refused to come, or crawl, to one meeting. Gratitude alone to MacLachlan for two or three stanzas, had he written nothing more, would be sufficient to make him do much more than that. Mac-Lachlan was characterized as a true poet.
