GALLOWAY'S GREETING

Peace on earth, good will towards men. Is the theme of our earthly song; Peace on earth, good will towards men, Should mould our actions all day long.

It should lead us think how best to bring The happy smile, the cheerful ring Of laughter to the cheerless hearth, And thus make glad this dreary earth.

The way is plain: see GALLOWAY'S Furs, There neither cats skin, sheep, nor curs, But just the thing to keep your warm ; To keep you free from cold and storm, Which must bring peace in this cold clime, And make your Christmas a happy time.

Oh, He's a Lucky Man.

The president of France is a mighty lucky fellow. He gets $25,000 a month, is lodged rent free at Elysee, has all the vegetables and fruits for his table from country kitchen gardens and green houses, flowers for his fetes from city conservatories, and a retinue of men servants, whose liveries, board and wages he does not find. The state gives him oak logs to burn, and oil, gas and electricity to light his palace at night. It furnishes and washes all his house linen, allows him three carriages and horses, and there are state boxes in the subsidized theatres, and game preserves in the state forests all for

HIS EYESIGHT WAS BAD.

But He was Bound to See the Minority in the Hall in Any Case.

Some day ago a commercial union meeting was held in Napanee Alfred Jury, of Toronto, spoke in favor of the movement and Mr. McRoberts, of Toronto, against

There was a lively time at the close of the speaking. Resolutions endorsing and opposing reciprocity were presented and the house was divided. Reeve Carscallen was in the chair He asked for those opposing the measure to show their hands. Quite a number did so. Then the motion in favor of extended trade relations with the United States, either in a system of unrestricted reciprocity or one of complete commercial union, was presented and endorsed by twothirds of the audience. Notwithstanding this the chairman declared the amendment carried. A perfect uproar ensued, and it looked squally for the chairman for a while. Mayor Cook, a prominent opponent of commercial union, Capt. Holmes, and at least tifty others, assured the chairman that he was wrong, and he finally changed his decision and declared the Pringle motion carried. Mr. Carscallen said his eyesight is so bad that he could not see distinctly, and he thought the amendment carried. This is but an excuse, and one that won't go down. The meeting broke up in the wildest disor-

Sara's Great Ambition.

The London World says: Madame Sara Bernhardt's boy will be married on the 20th to his noble Polish fiancee, Princess Terka Jablonowski. Madame Sara is in high glee. They are wildly in love with each other. She says, "C'est beau l'amour le cher Maur ice. In a few months I shall be a grandmother. A new avatar! What joy! What a wedding! All Paris will be there, you know. Of course, you will come." "Comptez sur, moi divine Sara. I would not miss the ceremony for an empire.'

Keep Your Eye on Them.

According to law the city clerk has to furnish the deputy-returning officers with true copies of the voters' lists used in provincial elections. As this list contains the names of wage-earners it is desirable that the scrutineers should see they do not vote. In the municipal elections only ratepayers can exercise the franchise. In the school elections it seems there is nothing to prevent alien ratepayers recording their votes.

A Great Man Dies a Pauper,

M. D. Babcock, inventor of the fire extinguishing apparatus bearing his name, died at the alms house, San Francisco, on Saturday, aged 70. At one time he was in receipt of $10,000 a month for royalty on his machines, but after selling the patent rights his money was soon spent, and for some years he wandered about the state in a destitute condition. Six years ago he was admitted to the alms house.

Judge Macdonald on Queen's. There is no religious test. All denominations attend Queen's university, and past experience proves that every graduates remains a fast friend. A colored gentleman graduated there, and, dying lately, bequeathed all his property, $10,000, to the college, and one of the reasons of his attachment to the college was that he never knew any difference in the way he was treated on on account of his color.

A Gift to the Manager. On Monday last A. T. Smith, manager of the telephone exchange, was called to his office where his staff was awaiting his arrival. He was comfortably placed in a leather upholstered easy chair, and then addressed soothingly by the lady attendants. When they got through he was too weak even to say "Hello." The present was a nice one.

Plenty of Work Done. The Rathbun company has handled, off the K. & P. R. this season, 106 car loads of cedar posts, ties, lumber, shingles, etc. This material would make a train, with engines attached to move it, over_eight miles long. Together with arrivals from other points it made up 121 vessel toads shipped from Kingston during 1887.
