SCIENCE AND PROGRESS.

THE COLOSSAL STATUES DISCOV-ERED IN AFGHANISTAN.

Americans Ahead of the English in Electric Railways-A Simple Illustration of the Principle of Inertia.

A pretty illustration of the principle of inertia can be shown by taking a peach or other soft, riper fruit and inserting a knife blade a short distance into the flesh.' If a peach is the fruit selected the edge of the knife should be in contact with that part of the stone where the two halves are joined together, forming an edge or angle.

A SIMPLE SCIENTIFIC EXPERIMENT.

Take another knife in the right hand, and with its back strike the first knife a sharp blow at a point as near the fruit as possible (see Fig. 1). The shock of the blow, says Nature, instead of pushing the fruitaway, will drive the knife completely through it before the force can be transmitted to the fruit; and in the case of a peach the hard stone will usually be split in two. Only common, cheap knives should be used for this experiment, as they are liable to be broken or damaged.

The Hudson Bay Expedition.

It appears from Licut, Gordon's report of the last expedition of the Alert to Hudson bay that all hopes of establishing a trading route from England to the west coast of Hudson bay must be abandoned. The navigation of Hudson strait preced extremely. dangerous on account of the prevailing fogs, the strong tides and the narrowness of the waters, but principally on account of the heavy ice of Fox basin, which frequently clistructs the western entrance of the strait, and of the faulty working of the compass. These results of Lieut. Gordon's experience acree exactly with what was maintained by all experts when the scheme was first pro pour had Although the principal object of the empedation has failed, its scientific result are considerable. These consist chiefly of tra meteorological and hydrographical observ tions of two years, from the fall of 1884 w the fall of 1886, and other occasional rema 'ts of the observers.

The New Anæsthetic.

Professor F. C. Novy, of Am Arbor, Mich., in a discussion and analysis recently published, shows that the new anæsthetic stenocarpine or gleditschine, which has attracted considerable attention, is nothing but a mixture of cocaine and atropine. More exactly, Professor Novy determines it to consist, essentially, of 6 per cent. of cocaine hydro-chloride; 50 per cent. of atropine sulphate, and about a third of 1 per cent. of saliclylic acid, the latter being used as a preservative.

Electric Lighting in the United States. In a public lecture on "Electric Lighting," delivered during the meeting of the British association, Mr. George Forbes, after remarking that there were probably more than 300,-000 are lamps in the United States, said that the Americans were also getting the start of the English in electric railways and tramways, and generally in the application of electricity to motive power.

Remarkable Monuments.

Near the small town of Bamian, in Afghanistan, at the foot of the Hindoo Koosh chain of mountains, several colossal statues were discovered about a year ago, which in point of size, The Popular Science News avers, excel any representation of the human form ever carved by the hand of man.

The valley in which Bamian is situated is bordered by precipitous cliffs of a hard conglomerate rock; and in the sides of one of the cliffs five immense statues have been cut out of the solid rock, the largest of which is no less than 173 feet in height. The cut gives a view of the town of Bamian, with one of the statues standing in its niche in the rock. The interior of this niche was covered with paintings of human figures, some of which are still well preserved.

THE LARGEST STATUE IN EXISTENCE. Rude staircases are cut in these figures, by which access can be gained to the heads, the same as in our modern colossal statues. Some time after the completion of the statue, its draperies were formed by masses of stucco molded into their proper shape and fastened to it. The general appearance of these statues indicates that they were the work of the Buddhist monks, who were very numerous in this region about the time of the Christian era. The largest one at least was doubtless meant to be a representation of Buddha. They were probably made about nineteen hundred years ago.

These remarkable monuments were rediscovered by modern English and Russian explorers.

Health Preserved

Is, without doubt, the jewel of great price, and the one least valued. Disregard of symptoms that clearly indicate abnormal action of the liver stomach or bowels, is nothing less than criminal. Health through neglect too often vanishes like a "Will O" the Wisp," and the anxious seeker secures but pain and disappointment for his labor. No aid towards the preservation of health can surpass Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. These pills, being composed of vegetable substances, exert their remedial action without the evil effects too often following the use of pills containing mercury. For all bilious disorders they will even prove a positive specific. Hamilton's Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine and by Polson & Co., Kingston.

Holloway's Pills. Though good health is preferable to high honour, how regardless people often are of the former-how covetuous of the latter! Many suffer their strength to drain away ere maturity is reached, through ignorance of the facility afforded by these incomparable pills of checking the first untoward symptoms of derangement, and reinstating order without interfering in the least with their pleasure or pursuits. To the young especially it is important to maintain the highest digestive efficiency, without which the growth is stunted, the muscles become lax, the frame feeble, and the mind slothful. The removal of indigestion by these pills is so easy that none save the most thoughtless would per mit it to sap the springs of life.

Try And Be Cured.

Lame back and nervous debility, associated with rheumatism, is sometimes met with in every day life, but as a rule we find not more than two of these complaints in the same party. Be this as it may. The only sure and perfect cure is electricity and the best form of administering it is by Norman's electric belts and insoles. W. J. Wilson is agent, and from him you can procure testimonials and circulars relating to any of, your complaints.
