THE CENTRAL BANK LIQUIDATION. Broker E. S. Cox Summoned to Give Evidence.

TORONTO, Jan. 14. At 1.50 yesterday afternoon an attache of the Sheriff's office served Broker E. S. Cox with an order to appear before the Master-in Ordinary at Osgoode Hall at 2 o'clock to be examined, in accordance with the application made by Mr. W. A. Foster the day previous, in connection with his (Cox's) dealings with the Central Bank, The Sheritf's man was busily enhunting Mr. Cox all morning. it was after lunch before he managed to run across the broker in his Toronto-street office. On Thursday evening a clerk from Mr. Foster's office was busily engaged trying to meet Mr. Cox with the service paper but he did not succeed in his search. although the broker was comfortably quartered at his club.

Mr. Cox went directly to the Hall after being served, and was quietly promenading in the corridors outside the Master's office at 2 o'clock, the hour set down for the hearing. His solicitor, Mr. John Bain, Q.C., was telephoned for, but the lawyer was not overtaken, as he was engaged elsewhere. Before going to the Hall Mr. Cox had not had an opportunity of consulting Mr. Bain, although he had seen him before the service of the notice to appear. In the meantime the Master's room, on the ground floor of the west wing, was rapidly filling up, and by 2.30 it was almost crowded. Inside the railing sat Mr. Foster and Account an' Lye. Ouside were Liquidator Wm. Gooderham of the Central Bank, Henry Gooderham, Dr. James Carlyle, James French, Wm. Thomson, W. B. Hamilton, Wm. Robins and others.

It was 2.40 when the Master, Thomas Hodgins, Q.C., took his seat. Mr. Kappele, one of Mr. Bain's law partners, rushed into court about fifteen minutes afterwards and said to the Master that they had just been served and were not prepared to go on with the examination. He asked that an adjournment be made till Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock:

Mr. Foster said he had no objection, but would like to have Mr. Cox's books, his ledger. cash-book, check-books, etc., for 1887 brought into court.

Mr. Keppele said they could have every access to Mr. Cox's books, and it was arranged that Mr. Foster and Mr. Lye would go to the broker's office at 1 o clock to-day and examine them,

The Master then adjourned the hearing until Monday afternoon at 2. While the court was waiting for Mr. Cox's counsel to arrive, Mr. Foster arranged some matters in connection with the bank with the Master. It was decided to appear before the court at noon to-day to devise a scheme for running the office, the employment of clerks, their number and the salaries to be allowed. A REMARKABLE CAREER.

The prisoner has a remarkable record, having successfully carried on his nefarious work in many of the European capitals. He swindled the Lorc Mayor of London out of $3000 on the pre tence that he was collecting money for the suffering Parisians during the siege of Paris. For this he was imprisoned for one year, but upon being released went into partnership with one Kerr and conducted a swindling pub lication in which he pretended to give 'tips' on sporting events. Finally the Countess De Goncault, who lived in a French province, and who had lost $33,000 through the rascals, offered a reward for their conviction. They were apprehended, convicted and received sentences of fifteen years each. Finding life too uncomfortable over the water. Benson emigrated to this country, where he has carried on a successful business on the line.

THE FISHERIES DISPUTE.

American Fishermen on the Lakes Said to be Interfered With.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—It is said that the fishery troubles will become more complicated before they are settled. Representative Chipman of Michigan has laid before Secretary Bayard complaints showing that annoy. ances are put upon American fishermen on the great lakes by the Canadian Government similar to those complained of by the New England fishermen.

The specific complaint is of the seizure by the Canadian Superintendent of Lake Fish. eries, Maro, of nets valued at $20,000, which belonged to one Talsma, a citizen of Michigan. It is complained that the Canadian authorities are annoying the American fisher. men in every way possible and interfering with the fishery industry. Secretary Bayard has taken prompt action in the matter, tele graphing at once to the British Government protest against the seizure of the nets.

A LOAN OF $125,000 TO BE ADVANCED BY THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT.

Notes From The Canada Gazette-Araprior Made an Outpott of Customs-The Ocean Mail Contract-The Labor Commission Interview the Government.

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.-Mr. Alexander Berg, who is interesting himself in the Crofter immigration, is in the city. He has just arrived from England, where he krill plans for the settlement of a large number of Crofters on the Island of Vancouver before the Secretary for Scotland. The latter introduced him to Mr. Goschen and to Mr. Sueth, First Lord of the Treasury, and subsequently they agreed to make an advance, as a loan, of $125,000 at 3k per cent., guaranteed by the British Columbia Government. Mr. Begg is now on his way to British Columbia to get the assistance of the Provincial Government, and if the conditions are accepted some 6000 of these industrious people will settle on the Pacific coast to fish, farm, build boats, or any other kind of work suitable to them. A number of delegates will come over next spring to report on the advantages Vancouver Island possesses for this kind of immigration.

Mr. Andrew Allan was here to-day, and his business is understood to have reference to the ocean mail contract, although enquiry of the Postmaster-General to-night elicited the information that nothing had yet been de-

Messrs, W. Carson, Jules Hellbranner and Michael Walsh of the Labor Commission are here to consult with the Government with reference to the future action of the commission. It is understood that the Government is anxious that the commission should complete its labors in time to report before the meeting of Parliament, so that any legislation which may be found necessary may be taken at the coming session. The commissioners think this is scarcely possible, as they believe it to be absolutely necessary that they should visit Montreal, where they will probably remain ten days or two weeks, Halifax, St. John and a number of other places before they will be in a position to report. The commissioners who were here had a conference with Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Acting Minister of Finance, to-night and the matter will probably be settled to-morrow as to whether the commission is to bring its labors to a close in time to report to Parliament or not. The Postmaster-General and the Minister Reilways and Canals have made an arrangement by which the mail service with Prince Edward Island will be greatly improved during the winter. A train will be run daily on the Island Railway from Cape Traverse on the arrival of the ice-boat from the mainland and connect at Emerald Junction with the train for Charlottetown.

Mr. R. J. Devlin has purchased the Kently property on the south side of Sparks-street, about midway between Elgin and Metcalfe, for $35,000. The property has a frontage of 66 feet on Sparks by a depth of nearly 200 to Queen, so that the price is over $2.50 per square foot.

THE MANITOBA MUDDLE

The Fall of the Government Generally Conceded.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 13.—While it is generally conceded that the Harrison Government wil fall, it is not certain what the ultimate result will be. Leading Opposition members decline to say anything except that besides their owr fifteen solid votes they have enough promises to ensure Harrison's defeat. Mr. Greenway would doubtless be called upon to form s cabinet, but whether he would form a combination with lesser lights among his opponents or not he refused to reveal to the press representatives to day. "I won't count my chickens before they're hatched" is all he would say.

Burke's overwhelming defeat places the Government in a bad fix, even if it could exist by the casting vote of the Speaker. Under the circumstances it is unlikely that the another constituency just now and take the | tigation will last some time. chances of another defeat. The Harrison Government seems to have been unfortunate since its formation, there being many combinations against it. One great factor in the defeat of the Provincial Secretary was the opposition of the very Conservatives who have been trying to oust Mr. Norquay for years. When that accomplished they turn about and use that as an argument why his successors should be defeated. GLENGARRY'S ELECTION.

REVELATIONS OF THE MOST DIS-GRACEFUL NATURE OCCUR.

Money Paid to the Voters in the Name of Loans-The Purpose of Them Clear And Indisputable - Mr. Purcell's Responsibility Established -- He is Disqualified-. he Punishment Sufts the Offence.

CORNWALL, Jan. 14. - His Honour Justice

Rose gave judgment yesterday in the Glengarry contested election case, disqualifying Mr. Purcell, M.P. In the evidence there was revealed some of the most corrupt dealing, the only screen to the bribery being that in cases where money was paid Mr. Purcell's agents were ordered by him to take the notes of parties to whom they paid money. The judge said that he found that corrupt practices generally prevailed throughout the county, and he connected the respondent with the $10 paid to Peter Kennedy. Walter Rousseau's evidence was to the effect that he had been told by Purcell when he met him at Williamstown that if he found it necessary to use money to be sure and take notes for it. Subsequently to this conversation there was paid to three Frenchmen in Martintown the sum of one hundred dollars each. This was paid by D. H. Mackenzie. These men had in the first place spoken to Rousseau for money and Rousseau referred them to Mackenzie and he paid them the money, taking their notes for the same. His honor held that Mackenzie and the respondent Purcell had close business relations of a financial character, and that the money paid by Macken zie was really money got on the security obtained from Mr. Purcell. This money was loaned by Purcell in Peter Kennedy's case. Then money, $100, was received by Kennedy on the day of the nomination at Alexandria in a very mysterious way. The evidence of Evans, Purcell's book keeper. which was accepted as truth by his honor, stated that Purcell had authorized him to give Peter Kennedy the sum of one hundred dollars, and to take his note for it. that H. R. Macdonald, the hotel-keeper of Alexandria, would point out Kennedy to Evans, who did not know Kennedy. Evans had gone to the hotel and Mc-Donald pointed out Kennedy, and Evans asked Kennedy to walk upstairs with him and in a room at the head of the stairs he handed Kennedy a hundred dollars, saying. I am authorized to give you this and to take your note for it." Kennedy seemed surprised at the note, said that it was for elect-D.A. 136, Powers, Chicago, was defeated by | ion purposes, and that he did not see why he should give his note as it was for the election. Evans stopped him, telling him he did not want to know anything about that. Kennedy signed the note and took the money. In court Kennedy testified that he never asked for the money; did not know where it came from ; that he received the money as stated by Evans, and, in signing the note, did not know who it was payable to or the amount, whether it was for three months or six, or with or without interest. He denied, however, that he had said it was for election purposes, though he could give no reason why he took the money under such peculiar circumstances. His honor held that this, with the evidence of Rousseau and the money paid to the Frenchmen at Martintown, was sufficient evidence of corrupt practices of which respondent had knowledge, and therefore called the respondent Purcell, and Vanier, Tyo, Saucier and D. H. Mackenzie, to appear before the court to be held for trial for corrupt practice at a day to be hereafter > named by him. Mr. Purcell's lawyers gave notice of appeal to the supreme court, and Mr. Macmaster said he would facilitate them in this in every way possible.

This proves that Mr. Rose was not in his store after 8.30. No corroboration of Wray's evidence, that he saw Rose at his store just before the alarm was given, has been forthcoming. The evidence went to show that the fire did not originate in Mr. Rose's store, but in rear of Rose's, Lahey and Mc-Kenty's. It was a frame building leaning against the two stores, with stairs leading to the second storey into a hall running to the front.
