Tiernan, New York's remarkable fielder, astonished the Californians by his marvellous playing.

It is said that Denny, third baseman, will never be thoroughly contented until he signs a Giant contract.

Pitcher Seward has signed an Athletic contract for 1888 at an advance of $400 over his last year's salary. Pittsburg has signed nine men-Dunlap, Barkley, Coleman, Maul, Farmer, Henderson, Morris, Kuehne and Sunday. Pyle, the old Newark pitcher and later with the Chicago club, will be signed by the Jersey City club before the week is over.

Pyle says his arm is all right. There will be more temperance contracts drawn up this year than ever before. The managers say they will sign men to play base-ball and not to drink whiskey.

Dave Rowe has been selected to manage the new Kansas City club, and will close contracts with the Brooklyn and Metropolitan players assigned to the cowboy club. It is stated that the American Jockey club are negotiating for an extensive farm at Plainfield, N.J., with a view of locating their track there when Jerome park shall be no more. Hardie Henderson's contract with the

Pittsburg club reads that he is to obtain $2,000 for the season, and if he abstains from imbibing the amber-colored liquid he is to receive an additional $300. Spalding says that Clarkson was never for a tour of gentlemen cricketers from the North of England to Canada and the United States in 1889. The team will be captained by Mr. J. Adamson, of Durham.

It is worth mentioning that Mark Allan, the horse that drove the $10,000 trotting mare, "Mollie Wilkes," out when she made her record of 2:221, was got by "Kentucky Prince, jr.," now owned by Mr. Samuel Coulson, Montreal.

Mr. Winans, the Baltimore millionaire, has given up his principal shooting ground in Rosshire, the great forest of Glenstrathfarar, which is one of the best in Scotland, extending to 51,000 acres, and being rented at £5,750 a year. This forest was leased from Lord Lovat, and it was sublet to Mr. Vanderbilt, the tenant of Beaufort castle. It is expected that as Mr. Vanderbilt has taken Beaufort castle, with its shootings and fishings for five years, he will also become Prof. Reynolds' Entertainment Declared Off-Tickets Given to the People.

Prof. Reynolds, mesmerist, was unable to give an entertainment last evening. He could not get a sufficient number of sub jets because his audience would not let him try if they were susceptible to his influence. He got two subjects. They were boys. One of them had been on his platform the night previous. The professor decided to give the spectators their tickets back and dismiss the meeting. He is surprised that more students do not attend his entertainments. In other cities where he has been, and where there are colleges, the students form the largest portion of his audience. He intends visiting Kingston again next winter. On account of the presidential election he will start on his tour through the United States and Canada earlier in the

OBSERVATIONS AROUND THE LOB-BIES OF THE HOUSE.

Only Half of the Members Present at Yesterday's Sitting - A Message from the Lieutenant-Governor-A New Short Line To the "Soo."

TORONTO, Feb. 4. - Half the seats vacant n the Legislature yesterday afternoon. This nade very little difference, for the House sat or but fifteen minutes. Many of the gentlenen from the rural parts are puting away for debate, but the debate that they long for loes not seem to come. The order of the day s short sessions and good pay.

Half a dozen important bills were sent up for a first reading. Among these were bills respecting the debenture debt of the town of Wingham (by the Treasurer) and one by Mr. Gibson (Hamilton) to amend the Division Court Act.

The Provincial Secretary laid on the table a ceturn showing the regulations respecting Upper Canada College.

A message was received from the Lieutenant-Governor thanking the House for its address in reply to His Honor's speech at the opening of the House,

Around the Lobbies.

Ex-Warden Erastus Jackson was at the head of a deputation from the Council Council that waited on the Attorney-General yesterday afternoon. With them came Ald. Mc-Millan, both the Ald. Carlyles and Ald. Mc-Dougall. Mr. Jackson generally has a grievance of some kind as between the city and county, and this time he complained to the Attrney-General that the county most emphatically objected to paying jurors' fees and other court taxes for the hearing of cases in this judicial county from other counties the Province. This extra sum amounted annually nearly $5000. Brother Jackson waxed energetically over the alleged uncalled-for tax on his county, and he offered to compromise if the Premier would make North York a separate county, with Newmarket (the home of Erastus) as the Ald. McMillan, Chairman of the Executive Committee, said the city would certainly not object if all the litigation in the Province were tried in Toronto. They wanted the people throughout the country to come to this city to transact business of whatever nature. They were always glad so see them, as they were a benefit to the town. Besides, the city paid fully 4-5 of these extra costs and did not grumble. The aldermen who had come with him had been summoned together hurriedly, and had not given the matter a very full consideration. But he was certain the City Council was decidedly opposed to any prohibition being cast in the way of bringing business to Toronto, be it legal or otherwise.

The Attorney-General said it was a right that any litigant possessed to have his cause heard in any county town be chose. He thought that it was a benefit to any city to have all the legal business it could get. Besides, he gould not see that the Government or the House could or would interfere with the present arrangement. Mr. Mowat practically laughed the idea out of court.

Then when the deputation began to withdraw Brother Jackson threatened that this meant a sure rupture and strained relations between the metropolitan and rustic divisions of the judicial County of York.

Mr. Wm. Beatty of Parry Sound was around the corridors yesterday putting in many good words for the proposed line of railroad which is to run from Gravenhurst via Parry Sound to French River, thence to the "Soo." By this route Mr. Beatty claims that Toronto would be 100 miles nearer the Soo than by any existing line or any that could be built. The Grand Trunk engineers have surveyed two routes from Gravenhurst to French River; the one via Parry Sound to the west of the Muskoka lakes, and the other connecting with the Ontario and Pacific Junction road at Burke's Falls. The route via Parry Sound, Mr. Beatty says, is twenty-five miles shorter than via Burke's Falls, and would be about ninety miles from Gravenhurst to French River. The other line would only have to be built from Burke's Falls, but it is a roundabout one. Engineer Bailey of the Grand Trunk has made a careful survey of the whole Parry Sound country and has reported to his company, but the latter, it is said, are not committed in any way to any of the schemes. It is said that railroad building in any part of the district would be comparatively easy and

Mr. Beatty expresses himself as fearful lest if the Burke's Falls route should be adopted a sudden device will seize the builders to shoot across country to Montreal, and thus cut Toronto and Western Ontario out of their natural and legitimate share of the great Northwest trade which will pour down via the

It is said that after the Grand Trunk people gain control over the Northern and Northwestern roads, which is now only a matter of a few days, they will show their hand with regard to railroading in the great district of Parry Sound.

With their acquired lines to Gravenhurst | him. they would be in a good position to hold the key of this new short line to the Soc. Mr. Beatty looks somewhat like Rev. Dr. Wild, is a great talker, and thinks well of the Sound, where he has great interests. He disclaims being one of the famous nine martyre of John Sandfield Macdonald memory, although Mr. Armstrong, who sits for the Sound district, occasionally asserts that be is.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Weekly Review of Trade-Quiet the Prevailing Feature.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Dun Wiman & Co.'s weekly review of trade will say: Quiet has been the prevailing feature in business during the past week. Yet, it is generally estimated that the volume of business transacted compares favorably with that of last year. Prices refuse to rise, though meats and vegetables are a shade higher. There is a little larger decrease in other articles, even retail prices of coal at Philadelphia having yielded 25 cents.

Money is easier and in good supply at all interior points reporting, and accumulates New York banks so rapidly that some six months' loans at 4 per cent, have been made.

A stiffer tone prevails in the iron market, the best grades being scarce and a shade higher.

In wool a distinctly better tone is seen, with considerable buying by manufacturers who feel the improved demand for woolen goods. But foreign competition keeps prices very low, and the wool season is so near its end that no material advance in prices is expected. Staple cottons remain firm, but business is limited by scantiness of stocks. In prints some advances are reported.

The markets for provisions have been comparaticely inactive, with lard 25 cents per 100 pounds stronger.

Cotton has declined a quarter with slender sales and sugar is an eighth lower, but oil has advanced 12c to 40c and copper 164c.

Sales of corn and oats have been small and of wheat only 20,000,000 bushels in New York, nearly all speculative.

The uncertainty as to the action of Congress on financial and tariff matters does not diminish and doubtless affects some branches of industry and trade, but the Ways and Means Committee is said to favor the purchase of bonds even with half the trust fund held for the redemption of bank notes.

The Quebec Demonstration.

QUEBEC, Feb. 3. - An idea of the extreme precautions deetned necessary to allow the Caron banquet to pass off quietly here next week can be formed from the postponement to the end of February of the rendering of the judgment of the Court of Review on the jury's finding of a year ago in the famous libel case of Amyot v. Tarte, arising out of events connected, with the Northwest Rebellion. Of course another cause is assigned for the postponement, but the knowing ones claim that the true reason is the fear of the Militia Minister's friends that if the judgment, which is going to set aside on technical grounds the verdict in favor of Col. Amyot and against the Militia Minister's organ, was rendered before the banquet, the Ninth Battalion would be very likely to make things rather unpleasant for Sir Adolphe during the festivity. At least, this is the report actually in circulation. The Tories are straining every nerve to drum up a crowd for the political demonstration of the Young Conservative Club at the Academy of Music here on Feb. 9. Over 1000 special tickets have already been distributed, but fearing that the Quebeckers may not avail themselves of them very numerously an agent has been sent to Montreal to distribute a few thousand more there. The ladies are also to be attracted by a tree invitation to the galleries of the hall. The speakers are to be principally Langevin
