COUGHS AND CONSUMPTIONS.

THE high reputation that ANDERSON'S COUGH DROPS and PECTORAL POWDERS have gained for Coughs and other affections of the breast and lungs leading to consumption, renders it unnecessary to say much in recommending them to the public, as no stronger proof of their possessing uncommon virtues could be given than will be found by reading the Certificates accompanying each bottle, given by those of the first respectability, who have used them in cases of long standing; and some of them, where their physicians had given them up as past recovery, have been entirely restored by the use of this medicine. The fact that they have not been in use five years, and that the demand the present season has been much greater than at any former period is also a strong argument in their favour.
Thousands have shortened their days by neglecting coughs when first attacked, which have soon terminated in a seated Consumption, and proved fatal.—Scarcely a case of Colds, Coughs, Pain in the side, difficulty of breathing, want of sleep arising from debility, or even Consumption but may be relieved by a timely use of this Healing Balsam. Each dollar bottle of this medicine contains about 40 doses, which proves them to be a cheap medicine, considering their virtues.

NEW CERTIFICATES.

I hereby certify, that for more than a year previous to 1821, I was afflicted with a troublesome and alarming cough, which rendered me unable to labour or even to walk many rods without causing profuse sweating, and after trying many things without relief, I obtained a vial of Anderson's Cough Drops, from the use of which I soon found great relief, so as to be able to resume and continue my usual labour, and I have reason to believe that the use of them was the means of saving my life, as I had but little hopes of recovering again when I commenced taking them, and think them undoubtedly the best medicine in use for complaints of the lungs.

ELISHA DAVIS.
Hudson, May 20th, 1823.

This is to certify that I the subscriber had been afflicted with the asthma for twenty years, and the paroxysms were often so violent as nearly to deprive me of breath. During one of the most violent returns of the Asthma I was advised to try Anderson's Cough Drops, and I did so, and to my surprise, I was very soon entirely relieved, and felt no more of it for six months.—Upon a return of a paroxysm of the Asthma, I have made use of the same medicine and it has invariably given me relief. As it respects the asthma, and its attendant symptoms, difficulty of breathing, &c. I consider Anderson's Cough Drops a remedy, in praise of which too much cannot be said. I further certify, that my son-in-law had for some time been supposed to be past recovery of a consumptive complaint, when I advised him to make a trial of Anderson's Cough Drops, and from the use of them, he has so far recovered his health as to be again able to attend to his business.

COMMUNICATIONS.

FOR THE HERALD.
To Miss M— W—

Adieu sweet girl, a last adieu!
We part to meet no more;
Adieu to peace, to hope, to you,
And to my native shore.

If fortune had propitious smil'd,
My love had made me blest;
But she, like me, in sorrow's child, By sadness dire oppress'd.

I go to India's sultry clime, Oh! never to return;
Beneath some lone embow'ring lime Will be thy soldier's urn.

No kindred spirit there shall weep, Or pensive musing stray; My image thou alone wilt keep,
And griefs soft tribute pay.

ALEXANDER.
7th Jan. 1824.

A NEW-YEAR'S WARNING.

*Beware of debt! for 'tis the bane of life;
A fruitful source of misery and strife.
How many a man from happiness is hurl'd,
To meet the scowls of an ungrateful world.
That scoldish wretch, who tempts you with his wares;
Calls you his friend, and coils you in his snare;
Of him I speak! and bid you to beware.
No sooner on his hook your name appears,
Than you become his slave; perhaps for years.
Others more generous; caution you with care; Pay-day must come; and you must needs prepare.
Their Books to balance, once in every year; Who's gains are honest, and their conscience clear:
Benevolent and kind, they view with pain, Misfortunes soon, when in her hapless train; Forgive the debt, receiving a rich prize.
The blessings of the poor, the good and wise!
I love that man, who's dealings plainly shew, His goods are to be paid for, laid in low; Receives your Produce, at the market price; Inspects with prudence, yet not over nice.
If credit you demand, the time is set,
When every honest dealer, pays his debt.
Credit, at best, is sorrow in half mourning;*

A pleasing moment, of an inward burning The dread of honest men: a byren true:
That wretched poetry should never woo.
One unpropitious season blasts your toil:
You claim indulgence, for a longer while:
The debt in sickness, and in sorrow spent:
The Doctor comes, with a last argument:
And tho' to harass you; is much unwilling, Welcomes the aspect, of your latest shilling.
The third year comes; your credit's out of date:
A writ, or capias is served, as sure as fate:
You start! and to your wife relate your grief, Who sighs in sorrow—around your children weep.

Perchance you meet a friend, who stands your ball,
And saves your person from a noisome jail:
The limbs of law no sooner are let loose, Then you are caught, within their gripping noose:

An Execution, on your goods is set;
With costs of Action, far beyond the debt:
Sold at the stake, for less than half they cost; Cows, horses, sheep, and all you valued most,
Strip of your Stock, and goods, what now remains?

Your naked Form! that cost you so much pains: Alas! that men such wretched risks should run; E'en that is sold at length, and your's undone.
Intending no offence—however calmer,
Is the blunt advice, of Tom the Farmer.
Bellville.

FOR THE HERALD.

Mr. Editor,

I have just noticed a short communication which appeared in your Herald, signed "Durham", mentioning a cause that was tried in the Court of Requests at Port Hope, on the 15th ult. wherein John Brown, Esq. was Plaintiff, and a poor man by the name of Jacob Odel, Deft. I think my friend "Durham" is somewhat to blame, inasmuch as he seems to treat this matter with indifference:
—I was not present at the trial of the cause, but received a brief statement of it from a friend who witnessed it, which differs in many points from the statement given by your correspondent; and the subject of this short communication is merely to assist my neighbor "Durham", in his attempt to expose the extraordinary conduct of the Plaintiff.

When the cause in question was called on for trial, and Mr. Brown requested to produce his demands against poor Odel, he brought forward a Promissory Note made by the Deft. for £1 5s 2 1/2d, and which was an endorsement of 20s—the Deft. insisted on a further payment of 5s.; which was admitted by Brown, upon the Deft.'s swearing that he had made such payment, thus leaving a balance due on the note, of the unfortunate Two-pence half penny—for which the Commissioner gave judgment!!! I was indeed Mr. Editor much astonished, when I heard of this most singular decision of the worthy Commissioners, and the more so when I was further informed, that Mr.
Brown, in their presence, protested, that he would not have used this unfortunate man, had he not (with many others) signed a petition, praying His Excellency to erase his name from the Commission of the peace!!
How far the Magistrates were justifiable in giving judgment for the Plaintiff in this I am quite unable to say, not having any knowledge of law, or law decisions; (thank God for it) but I had always supposed that these petty Courts, were more Courts of equity and good conscience than otherwise; and that those presiding therein, were not bound to adhere to the strict letter of the law—If this be really the case, I think that the Magistrates should not have saddled this man with 12 or 14s. cost, merely to gratify the feelings of an individual; bearing in mind his confession—that he had sued him out of revenge. Nor did Plaintiff stop here; he was not content with having obtained a judgment for five shillings, but peremptorily demanded an execution, in order to levy this enormous sum forthwith upon the "Goods and Chattels" of the poor Defendant. This demand, however, his brother Magistrates manfully refused. I have indeed understood that some friends of the Deft. made a contribution, and were so fortunate as to make up a sum sufficient to liquidate the debt, that is, the five shillings—the poor Deft. himself paying the 12 or 14s. cost. I have to beg that my friend "Durham" will excuse my correcting his statement of the affair, as I am sensible he was misinformed as to the particulars.

I am, Mr. Editor,
Your old Friend,
MOSES MUSTY.
Port Hope, Dec. 22d 1823.

FOR THE HERALD.

Mr. Editor,

I have been for 47 years a constant traveller, in fact I have got my living, and made a tolerable handsome fortune solely by travelling. Many of my friends call me a "rude, hardened old sinner," because I happen to think that travelling has given me an unbounded licence to make any remarks upon people, manners, and things that I may think proper. I think quite otherwise, however, and shall take this opportunity to mention a singular "thing my eyes beheld" a very short time ago. Passing thro' the flourishing village of Port Hope, my attention was arrested by a fine large brick building, which from its appearance I supposed was intended for an Inn. Curiosity led me to take a nearer view of the house, and on approaching it, I observed, nicely cut in stone, these words, "JOHN BROWN, Esq.
1823." A circumstance so singular led me to make some enquiries, when I learnt that a Merchant in the village had built the House a short time since, whose name was "John Brown"—that he had understood his name was about to appear in the Commission of the Peace, and had therefore caused the above letters to be written on the front of his new building I turned involuntarily from this statefy edifice, not knowing which most to admire—the taste of its proprietor, or the skill of the Architect.

I am &c.
NICHOLAS.
