At 5 o'clock P. M. the Chairman adjourned the Council to the second Tuesday in November.

The District Council of the Prince Edward District have refused to transact business with the Warden, and accordingly adjourned without doing any. The reason, our readers will re-member, is that the Warden refused to sign an address to the Governor General passed by the Council last session. Passing addresses to the Governor on his assumption of office, forms no part of the duty assigned to them by law, and therefore the course pursued by the Warden on the address cannot affect their legal business. Other Councils have passed addresses, and if other Wardens had refused to sign them they would not have violated any duty. This whole subject of addresses is one in which every very subject of addresses is one in which every person is at liberty to follow his own discretion. If addresses are sent, they are replied to as a mataddresses are sent, they are replied to as a matter of courtesy, there is no obligation any where to do either one or the other. As was pointed out to this Council in His Excellency's reply to them last Session, when Councils addres's the Governor on his assumption of office, they do so "in their individual capacity," and therefore the Warden may sign the address or not as it pleases him, for he is under no obligation to do so, such husiness heigh put the business that the so, such business being not the business that the Council is authorized by law to transact. It is supposed the Council will be dismissed.

The Montreal Gazette extracts the chief part of our account of the late proceedings by which our Corporation put £3000 of public money into their own pockets and their friends, and winds up his comments on the discreditable business by the following remarks:

"There may be no intention, on the part of the Corporation, to do anything wrong, but if the whole affair is not a gross job, it is certainly the best imitation of one that we have for a long time met with, and, if known in England, might materially jojure the credit of all Canadian Cor-

JUSTICE.—There are two boys now in Kings-JUSTICE.—There are two boys now in Kingston Gaol, whose case demands attention from the Government. One is about 12, the other 13 years of age, sons of James Leader, living near Mill Creek. They went into a field to pick berries, and the owner set dogs on them; they threw stones to beat off the dogs, and thus killed a chicken. They were brought before Archibald McDonell, Esq., and fined $15; and the father having no means of payment the Archibald McDonell, Esq., and nneu $10; and the father having no means of payment, the boys were committed to Gaol for 20 days, where they are now with criminals of all sorts. The Tories have made themselves merry with the Tories have made themselves merry with the acts of some justices of the new school; we balance the account with this act of a Justice of the old school, fining boys $15 and costs, or 20 days imprisonment, for killing a chicken. The same Justice lately sent a poor man to Gaol for not training, the said man being travelling from Montreal on training day.
