Lord Stanley said the instructions and documents referred to by the Noble Lord, could not at that moment be laid on the table of the House with advantage to the public service. At the proper period, when the subject came legitimate, before the House, he (Lord Stanley) would be prepared to vindicate the conduct of Sir C.

Metcalfe.

The motion was unanimously agreed to, and the order discharged.

Sir R. Peel then moved that the address be presented to her Majesty by those members only who were members of her Majesty's Privy Council.—Agreed to.

The greatest silence prevailed in the bouse during the short address of the Premier.

On motion of Sir R. Peel, the house adjourned at a few minutes before two o'clock, until Monday.

In the House of Commons, the address to the Queen was moved and seconded by Lord Clive and Mr. Cardwell, whereupon Mr. Sharman Crawford moved an amendment, to the effect that the supplies should be stopped until the grievances of the manufacturing community were redressed.

Mr. Hume also moved an amendment to the effect that the "provision" laws should be considered and dealt with.

Lord John Russel opposed the amendment regarding the stopping of the supplies.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

The Session of Parliament opened on Thursday, with the Speech, which we publish. In the House of Lords, the Address in reply to her Majesty's gracious Speech from the Throne was moved by the Earl of Eldon and seconded by Lord Hill.

Lord Normanby gave notice of his intention to call the attention of treland, so soon as the proceedings of the trials should be concluded.

The Lord Clannellor, in reference to some remarks from Lord Campbell; stated his intention of introducing meesures for legal reform, in relation to the ecclesiastical courts, &c., in a few days.

The Tories are at fault respecting a Candidate for the representation of Montreal, vacant by Mr. Holmes resignation. Mr. Prummond is the liberal candidate, and Mr. Fisher, and Mr. Bellingham, late editor of the Times, were his opponents, the two latter being in favour of responsible government as understood and practiced by Sir Charles Metcalfe. The Tory papers pretended that Mr. Fisher was sure of success, but they have been made to eat their own weds, for Mr. Fisher has resigned, and Mr. Molson has come forward. He also is in favour of responsible government, as finderstood by the Governor-General, because so understood it leaves matters just as they were under the old regime—the government conducted by the Governor-the go tion of Mr. Smith for the office he held had been a most unfortunate one.

After some few remarks from Lord Ingestre and Mr. Wallace.

Mr. Brotherton said that he should be glad to see the house come to some resolution in condemnation of duelling. At the same time he thought many of the remarks that had been made that evening ought to have been reserved till the Attorney General was present.

Mr. Curtis should vote with much pleasure for the amendment.

On our first page is an account of the opening of the Nova Scotia Parliament, and Lord Falkland's speech. The liberal party have elected a Speaker; but, say the Tories, the elected a Speaker; but, say the Tories, the election was not made a party question. They would have but in one of their party as Speaker if they could, but they could not, and therefore have made a virtue of necessity. The liberals have moved an amendment to the address in answer to the speech, on which Mr. Howe spoke two hours. The amendment will be carried, & Lorc Palkland must re-construct his government. He has plunged himself in a dismal swamp by following Tory advice.

The Coporation have issued an order requiring all Dogs to be shut up and muzzled, under a penalty of 20s, and all dogs found at large to be destroyed. We have not heard of any cases of hydrophobia in this neighbourhood, but we suppose the Corporation act on the maxim, prevention is better than cure. At all events the plague of dogs ought to be abated, whether they run mad or not, and we again remind them of the propriety of strictly enforcing their tax on dogs. A
