Neglected by the lazy passers by,
I noticed shyly at the corner stand,
With moisture falling from his sightless eye. A child came by-a laughing little creature-

With joy and innocence in every feature—

Skipping forth gaily to an apple stand;
She saw the beggar, and became less gay.

Then flung the bit of silver in her hand luto the old mar's hat, and ran away!

THE "TIMES COMMISSIONER" in IRELAND.—
We earnestly call attention to an extract from the report of "The Times Commissioner," which will be found in another place. It is a description of the marvels which have been wrought by Lord G. A. Hill, on an estate purchased by him only seven years ago, in the county of Donegal, on the 2nth-west coast of Ireland, collected partly from a little work written by his Lordship, entitled Facts from Givectore, partly from other documents and the personal observations of the commissioner himself. The experiment it records is of the highest interest, as having been performed on a portion of the Irish peasantry at their lowest point of depression, and suffering from the evils of their land-tenure, as it exists among them, in its mischevolaty developed and absurdly extravagant form: it is important too, as showing what, in spite of the idleness, the wilfulness, the obstructive habits and customs of a thoroughly neglected, lazy and ignorant population, may be effected by the steady and regenerating energy of a single resolute and high proposed will. The conclusions to be drawn from it are of immense importance, as showing what may be done, and what ought to be done for Ireland: what are her portenies, as showing what may be done, and what ought to be done for Ireland; what are her real grievances, and what her real remedies. They are not without their bearing upon England; for, though we have not a rustic population in the same stage of destitution, or grotesque ignorance, or territorial relations, as that of Gweedore, though we know no agricultural dis-Gweedore, though we know no agricultural district of 9,000 souls with but "one cart, one plough, 20 shovels, 32 rakes, two feather and eight chaff beds, the people sleeping principally on rushes or mountain bent;" though we have no instance of the three men becoming joint part-ners in a horse, and leaving the fourth foot un-shed because neither of the three felt himself ners in a horse, and leaving the fourth foot unshod because neither of the three felt himself bound to shoe it; nor of half-an-acre held by 26 people in separate portions, at an enormous rent; yet we have an agricultural population whose physical condition might be much improved,— whose intellectual condition might be much raised, whose productiveness might be much increased by a spirit similar to that which has converted into fertile cornfields the once "bleak wilderness" of Gweedore, in the wilds of Donegal.
We cannot quit this subject without expressing our sense of the public obligation which The Times Commissioner is conferring; at first, we confess, we looked upon him with a certain suspicion and distrust, but he appears to be discharging his duty intelligently, honestly, and well. Most cordially do we agree with the reflections suggested to him by what he saw at Gweedore. "Did converting the Roman Catholic population to Protestants," he asks, "effect this change? They are Roman Catholics yet.
Did Saxonizing them, and making them Orangemen, effect it? They are all Celts. Did the getting up of monster meetings, and talking about "Reneal" effect it? No. The remedy

The late Judge Pease, of the Supreme Court of the State of Ohio, was a noted wag. A young lawyer was once making his first effort before him, and thrown himself on the wings of his im-agination into the 7th heaven, and was seemingby proparing for a higher ascent, when the Judge struck his ruler on the desk two or three times, exclaiming to the astonished-orator—" Hold on—hold on, my deas sir !—Don't go any higher, for you are already out of the jurisdiction of this

A fire broke out last evening, about 8 o'clock, in the large Store-house on Rees' Wharf, occu-pied by Mr. McMullan, which was totally con-sumed. Mr. McMullan's Dwelling House, and sumed. Mr. McMullan's Dwelling House, and a large range of other buildings connected with it, and only separated from the Store bouse by a space of about 30 or 40 feet, would have been consumed also but for the active and efficient exertions of the Fire Department. How the fire originated is unaccountable; no stove, fire-place, or chimney being connected with it. Mr. Mc-Mullan locked the building about 4 o'clock is the afternoon, and no person is known to have had access to the premises in any way whatever. There was no Produce, we understand, in Store, and its contents consisted of 500 bags Salt, some puncheons of Rum, and a few crates of Crockery; which, we believe, were partially, if not cry; which, we believe, were partially, if not wholly, covered by insurance. The Store-house belonged to Mr. Joseph Beckett, and is insured in the British America Office for £500. Mr. McMullan's loss is confined to damage done his dwelling by water, and the removal of his house-hold effects; we believe he is also insured. It is to be feared that this fire is the work of an incendiary.- [Examiner.

Economy of NOT TAKING A NEWSPAPER.—A gentleman stepped into the counting-room of one of the few merchants in this city who do not take the Journal, last Wednesday morning, and asked him the price of flour, and how many barrels he had. Upon being answered, he quietly said, "I will take the whole." The seller had the gratification to learn in the course of the morning the intelligence by the Great Britain.—Nothing like judicious econoymy.—[Providence Journal.

MOVING GREASE AND PAINT SPOTS .- It is said that the valuable English balls, for removing grease and paint spots from cloth, &c., are made of fuller's earth 30 parts, Fretish chalk 1 part, yellow some 20 parts, pearlash 15 parts. Make this into a paste with spirits of turpentine, and give it a slight color with a little valler. and give it a slight color with a little yellow ochre, then cut it into pieces. This is the Lon-

THE preceding figure is given to represent the INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION. It is the INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION—
It is the great EVACUATION for the impurities of the body. It will be noticed that a thick cloudy mist issues from all points of the surface, which indicates that this perspiration flows uninterruptedly when we are in health, but ceases when we are sick. Life cannot be sustained without it. It is chrown off from the blood and other juices of the body, and disposes by this means, of nearly all the impurities within us.—
The language of Scripture is, "in the BLOOD is the Life." If it ever becomes impure, it may be traced directly to the stoppage of the INSEN. SIBLE PERSPIRATION. It never requires any internal medicines to cleanse it, as it ALWAYS purifies itself by its own heat and action, and throws off all the offending bumors, through the INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION. Thus we see, all that is necessary when the blood is the INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION. Thus we see, all that is necessary when the blood is stagnant, or infected; is to open the pores, and it felieves itself from all impurity instantly.—
Thus we see the folly of taking so much internal remedies. All practitioners, however, direct their efforts to restore the Insensible Perspiration, but it seems to be not always the proper one. The Thomsonian, for instance, steams, the Hydropathist shrouds us in wst blankets, the Homopathist deals out infinitiesimals, the Allopathist bleeds and doses us with mercury, and the blustering Quack gorges us with pills, oills, pills.

To give some idea of the amount of INSEN-SIBLE PERSPIRATION, we will state that the learned Dr. Leweuhock, and the great Boer-haave, ascertained that five-eighths of all we receive into the stomach, passed off by this means. In other words, if we eat and drink eight pounds per day, we evacuated five pounds duced by a stoppage of the INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION.

Let me ask now, every candid mind, what course seems the most reasonable to pursue, to unstop the pores, after they are closed.—Would you give physic to UNSTOP the pores? Or would you apply something that would do this upon the surface, where the clogging actually is? Would not this be common sense?—And yet I know of no physician who makes any external application to effect it. The reason I assign is, that no medicine within their knowledge, is capable of doing it. Under these circumstances, I present to physicians, and to all others, a preparation that has this power in its constances, I present to physicians, and to air others, a preparation that has this power in its fullest extent. It is McAlister's All-Healing Ointment, or the World's Salve. It has POWER to restore perspiration on the feet, on the head, around old sores, upon the chest, in short, upon any part of the body, whether diseased slightly or severely.

It has POWER to cause all external scres, scrofulous humors, skin diseases, poisonous wounds, to discharge their putrid matter, and then heals them.

It is a REMEDY that sweeps off the whole catalogue of cutaneous disorders, and restores the entire cuticle to its healthy functions. It is a REMED Y that forbids the necessity of so many and Jeleterious drugs taken into the

It preserves & defends the surface from all derangement of its functions, while it keeps open the channels for the blood to void all its impurities and dispose of aft its useless particles. There is a connection, harmony, and feasibility in it all that defies contradiction. It is a simple, but wonderful principle that preserves in healthy operation the entire machinery of our being. It indissolubly holds together the SURFACE and the INTERNAL VISCERA, the INTERNAL VISCERA, the INTERNAL VISCERA and the SURFACE. They are inseparably connected and cannot be disjoined. The surface is THE outlet of five-eighths of the bile, and used up matter within. It is pierced with MILLIONS of openings to RELIEVE the intestines. Stop up these It is pierced with MILLIONS of openings to receive the minestines. Stop up these pores, and DEATH knocks at your door. It is rightly termed All-Healing, for there is scarcely a disease, external or internal, that it will not benefit. It will be found the most useful as well as the cheapest family medicine in the world. I have used it for the last fourteen years with success without a parallel. I have used it for all diseases of the chest, Consumption, Liver, and the most dangerous of internal maladies, involving the utmost danger and responsibility, and I declare before Heaven and man, that not in one single case has it failed to benefit, when the patient was within the reach of mortal means. I have had physicians, learned in the profession; I have had ministers of the Gospel, Judges on the Bench, Aldermen and Lawyers, gentlemen of the bighest crudition and MULTITUDES of the POOR, use it in every variety of way, and there has been but one voice, one partielled universal voice, saying "McAlister, van". ty of way, and there has been but one voice, one of disease in the system to have cold feet.

The salve will restore the Insensible Perspiration and thus cure every case.

For Screula. Salt Rheum, and Erysipelas, it is probably the safest and surest cure in the world. The same may be said of Piles, Sore Lips, Chapped Hands, Quinzy, Sore Throat, Dyspepsia, and all Nervous Diseases, and Spinal Complaints.

For Burns it has not its equal is the world!

And for Chest Diseases, such as Asthma-

And for Chest Diseases, such as Asthma oppressive Pains, and the like, there is no internal remedy comparable to it.

licate as a child's.

WORMS.

If parents knew how fatal mest medicines were to children taken inwardly, they would be slow to resort to them. Especially "mercurial lozengers," called "medicated lozenges," "vermifuges," pills, &c. Even were it possible to say positively that worms were present, it is not safe. The truth is, no one can tell invariably when worms are present. Of course the remedy is not applicable to the complaint. Now let me say to parents, that this salve will always tell if a child has worms. Let it be rubbed on the neck and chest, to keep them from going up, and then down on the bowels, and they will soon leave. It will DRIVE every vestige of them away. This is a simple and SAFE cure. No injury "an come of it any way. But should it be obtained in the strength of the intestines, it will effectually cure them as the worms. There is probably no medicine on the face of the earth at once so sure and so safe in the expulsion of worms.

It would be cruel, nay WICKED, to give in

It would be cruel, nay WICKED, to give internal doubtful medicines, so long as a harmless, certain, and effectual external one could be had.

TOILET.

I have it done up in fine order for the dressing case. Although I have said little about it, as a hair restorative, I will stake it against the world? They may bring their oils far and near, and mine will restore the hair two cases to their one. That some sores are an outlet to the impurities of the system, is the only reason, because they cannot pass off through the natural channels of the Insensible Perspiration. If such sores are cannot pass off through the natural channels of the Insensible Perspiration. If such sores are healed up, the imputities must have some other outlet, or it will endanger life. This is the reason why it is impolitie to use the common salves of the day in such cases. For they have no power to open other avenues, to let off all this morbid matter, and the consequences are always fatal. This salve will always provide for such emergencies. There need be no fear; it is perfect.

Diseases of Children.

If the ALL-HEALING OINTMENT pos-If the ALL-HEALING OINTMENT possessed no other virtue than merely to cure the various diseases with which children are afflicted, we should esteem it the first medicine in existence. How great are the sufferings of infants and children, when they can neither state their wants nor point out their pains? And how many thousands are swept off by giving internal medicines, when their young bodies and tender frames are unable to bear up against them? Whole armies are thus sent to their graves merely from pouring into their weak stomachs powerful drugs and physics!! It is to such that the All-Healing Ointment tenders so safe, pleasant, and harmless receive into the stomach, passed off by this means. In other words, if we eat and drink eight pounds per day, we evacuated five pounds of it by the Insensible Perspiration.

This is none other than the used up particles of the blood, and other juices, giving place to the new and fresh ones. To check this, therefore, is to retain in the system five-eighths of all the virulent matter that nature demands should leave the body. And even when this is the case, the blood is of so active a principle, that it determines those particles to the skin, where they form scabe, pimples, ulcers, and other spots.

By a sudden transition from heat to cold, the pores are stopped, the perspiration ceases, and disease begins at once to develope itself. Hence, a stoppage of this flow of the juices, originates so many complaints.

It is by stopping the pores, that overwhelms mankind with coughs, colds, and consumptions. Nine-tenths of the world die from diseases induced by a stoppage of the INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION.

Let me ask now, every candid mind, what course seems the most reasonable to pursue, to unstop the pores, after they are closed.—Would you give physic to UNSTOP the pores! Or would you apply something that would do this upon the surface, where the clogging actually is! Would not this be common sense!—And yet I know of no physician who makes any external application to effect it. The reason I dren die early, which is supposed to be inevita-ble and impossible to prevent, we hold up our warning voice, and declare in the face of the whole world,

Children need not die more than others.

But it is from the want of proper noarishment and the constant drugging they undergo, which mows them down as the rank grass falls before the scythe.

Mothers! we repeat again, and if they were the last words we were ever to utter, and of course past the reach of all interest, we would say, "Use the ALL-HEALING OINTMENT for
