TIPPERARY ASSIZES.

The following is the cross-e amination (in part) of an approver named Dor andly:—Cross-examined by Mr. Rollestone. How old are you? I am 'twenty-six years old. You are a martied man? Yes., I have a wife. Counsel: God help her. Have you any children? Witness: I have. How do you support yourself? I have a quarter of land, for which I pay 7s. 6d. How far is Caltuhun from your house! Two miles. How long do you know Fogarty? Three or four years. Upon your oath, would you not shoot a man if you were asked? I don't think I would. And why did you go to shoot a man for Fogarty! I did it because I knew him. (Sensation.) So, if any man you knew asked you to murder another, you would do it? When I am on such business, I would not kill a man unless I was attacked. (Murmurs.) Then you were on such business before? I was. Were you ever in goal for Shanhan's murder? I was. And so you planned the murder of poor Hogan in a public house in this town? I did, after drinking. Now, can't you tell us what public house you were in? I cannot, but it is in a street leading up to the Court-house. How long were you there? A quarter of an hour. So in a quarter of an hour you made up your mind to murder a man you did not know? I did. (Sensation.) Were you at the murder of Shanahan! I was. (Here he coolly detailed the particulars of Shanahan's murder, amid great sensation.) Mr. Rollestone: How did you murder him? We killed him with stones in his own yard, near Lord Hawarden's. (Renewed sensation.) Was there not a charge of rape against one of the party on that occasion? There was. Now, answer me this question: did you not stand in the door of Bolton's house, of rape against one of the party on that occasion? There was. Now, answer me this question: did you not stand in the door of Bolton's house, while three of the murderers committed a rape on his daughter? I did. And the corps of the murdered man lying before you in the yard? Yes. (Here as audiable thrill ran through the court, and there was a pause for a moment.) Was not poor Bolton murdered because he sent home a gun you took from Lord Hawarden? He was. Where did you sleep that night? At my own hease. On your oath, did you ever see Shanahan until the night you helped to murder him? I did not see Shanahan until that night. Shanahan until the night you helped to murder him? I did not see Shanahan until that night. (Sensation.) Can you tell how long you were butchering him? I can't say. Was it on Sunday you did it? I can't tell whether it was or not; it is ten years ago. Counsel? Ten years ago, and you are now twenty-six, so you began your trade as a murderer at sixteen years old? I did. I did. (Sensation.) Were you at the killing of Ryan? I was. When did that murder take place? About a year after. Were you at the killing of Hayes? I was. When did that occur? On the sixth of August last; he was killed in the evening; did not see him killed, but led in the evening; did not see him killed, but saw him dead. Well my fine boy, when did you turn informer? I don't know what you mean? Upon your oath, don't you know what I mean? When did you split, or burst, as they say in the Terry slang—when did you stag? (Laughter.) I gave my first information in the Thurlesbrige-wall. What were you in there for?! robbed I gave my first information in the Thurlesbrige well. What were you in there for? I robbed two houses near Toomavara. (Murmurs.)

ARECEOTE OF BURKE.—One of his majesty's ANECECTE OF BURKE.—One of his majesty's ministers once undertook to take Burke to task, after a speech in the House of Commons, in which he had spoken rather freely of royalty. Burke listened until the gentleman had ceased, then turning gently to the speaker, he said; "Sir, the honorable gentleman has exhibited much ardor, but little discrimination. He should know, that however I may reverence the king, I am not at all bound, nor at all inclined, to extend that reverence to his ministers. I may honor his majesty, but, sir, I can see no possible honor his majesty, but, sir. I can see no possible reason for honoring," and he glanced round the treasury-bench, "his majesty's man-servant and maid-servant, his ox and his ass."

A LEARNED MAYOR .- Lord Mansfield, when A LEARNED MAYOR.—Lord Mansfield, when on a circuit at Shrewsbury, having been asked to dinner by the Mayor of the Town, his lordship observing an antique clock in the room, remarked to the Mayor "that he supposed Sir John Falstaff fought by that clock," to which the Mayor replied "he could not tell, for he had not the pleasure of knowing Sir John." Lord Mansfield then tried his host on another subject, and remarked "that the town appeared very old," to which the Mayor replied—"It was always so, please your lordship." ways so, please your lordship.

PREVENTING A VETO.—A story is told of Mr. Van Buren, that while on a tour through the Van Buren, that while on a tour through the West, in 1840, he was upset in a stage coach, and as he stood up to his knees in mud, and asked the driver how the accident happened, was told by that personage that he had already upset eleven members of Congress, and by so doing, he secured the votes of every one of them for appropriations to the National Road, and as he never before hid had a Prasident for a Presser. never before had had a President for a Passennity of doing his duty to the West, in endeavor-ing to prevent a veto, in case another appropria-tion should pass.

COATS OF ARMS.—A gentleman employing a porter, named Russell, asked him jocularly:

"Pray, is your coat of arms the same with the Duke of Bedlord's (Lord John Russell!")

"Our arms," answered the fellow, "are, I suppose, pretty much alike; but there is a confounded difference in our coats!"

THE RIO GRANDE.—We presume our readers all understand that the Rio Grande, Rio Bravo all understand that the Rio Grande, Rio Bravo and Rio del Norte are so many different names of the same great River, which rises in the Southern slope of the Rocky Mountains and runs nearly due South almost 2,000 miles into the Gulf of Mexico. Its course is in good part through a thinly peopled desert, in some places mountainous, in others composed of wide, sterile plains. Valuable mines of Gold and Silver exist in the province of Santa Fe, some 1,500 miles from its mouth. The River is generally rapid and rocky, rendering navigation dangerous if not impossible, but we believe it may be ascended by steamboats some 4 to 500 miles. Matamoras, some 70 or 80 miles from the Gulf, is the usual head of navigation.

Kingston, Feb., 1845.

THE preceding figure is given to represent the INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION.-It is the great EVACUATION for the impuri-ties of the body. It will be noticed that a thick cloudy mist issues from all points of the surface, which indicates that this perspiration flows unin-terruptedly when we are in health, but ceases when we are sick. Life cannot be sustained without it. It is thrown off from the blood and other injuries withe holy and disposes by this other juices of the body, and disposes by this means, of nearly all the impurities within us.—
The language of Scripture is, "in the BLOOD is the Life." If it ever becomes impure, it may be traced directly to the stoppage of the INSEN-SIBLE PERSPIRATION. It never requires any internal medicines to cleanse it, as it ALany internal medicines to cleanse it, as it AL-WAYS purifies itself by its own heat and action, and throws off all the offending humors, through the INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION. Thus we see, all that is necessary when the blood is stagnant, or infected, is to open the pores, and it relieves itself from all impurity instantly.—Thus we see the folly of taking so much internal remedies. All practitioners, however, direct their efforts to restore the Insensible Perspiration, but it seems to be not always the proper

And yet I know of no physician who makes any external application to effect it. The reason I assign is, that no medicine within their knowledge, is capable of doing it. Under these circumstances, I present to physicians, and to all others, a preparation that has this power in its of fillest extent. It is McAlister's All-Healing Ointment, or the World's Salve. It has POWER to restore perspiration on the feet, on the head, around old sores, upon the chest, in short, upon any part of the body, whether diseased slightly unds, to disorby.

It has POWER to cause all vocable and in the size of the world, and the constant drugging them.

Mother than the make this appeal in the behalf that the final responsibility may be you own, if they die prematurely. Aside from every interest to ourselves, we charge yeu to take head to what we now tell you. We are not now actuated by the least desire of gain; but knowling as we do that vast bodies of infants and chilled and impossible to prevent, we hold up our warning voice, and doclare in the face of the world, and doclare in the face of the world warning voice, and doclare in the face of the world warning voice, and doclare in the face of the world warning voice, and doclare in the face of the world warning voice, and doclare in the face of the world warning voice, and doclare in the face of the world warning voice, and doclare in the face of the world warning voice, and doclare in the face of the world warning voice, and doclare in the face of the world warning voice, and doclare in the face of the world warning voice, and doclare in the face of the world warning voice, and doclare in the face of the world warning voice, and doclare in the face of the world warning voice, and doclare in the face of the world warning voice, and doclare in the face of the world warning voice, and doclare in the face of the world warning voice, and doclare in the face of the world warn

There is a connection, harmony, and feasibility in it all that defies contradiction. It is a simple, but wonderful principle that preserves in healthy operation the entire machinery of our being. It indissolubly holds together the SURFACE and the INTERNAL VISCERA, the INTERNAL VISCERA, the INTERNAL VISCERA and the SURFACE. They are inseparably connected and cannot be disjoined. The surface is THE outlet of five-eighths of the bile, and used up matter within. It is pierced with MILLIONS of openings to RELIEVE the intestines. Stop up these pores, and DEATH knocks at your door. It is rightly termed All-Healing, for there is scarcely a disease, external or internal, that it will not benefit. It will be found the most useful as well as the cheapest family medicine in the world. I have used it for the last fourteen years with success without a parallel. I have used it for the cheapers. with success without a parallel. I have used it for all diseases of the chest, Consumption, Liver, and the most dangerous of internal maladies, involving the utmost danger and responsibility, and I declare before Heaven and man, that not in one single case has it failed to benefit, when the patient was within the reach of mortal means. the patient was within the reach of mortal means. I have had physicians, learned in the profession; I have had ministers of the Gospel, Judges on the Bench, Aldermen and Lawyers, gentlemen of the highest erudition and MULTITUDES of the POOR, use it in every variety of way, and there has been but one voice, one united, universal voice, saying "McAlister, your Ointment is GOOD."

place.

Deafness and Ear Ache are helped with the like success, as also Ague in the Face. COLD FEET. COLD FEET.

Consumption, Liver complaint, pains in the chest or side, falling of the hair, one or the other always accompanies cold feet. It is a sure sign of disease in the system to have cold feet.

Its first action is to expell all humor. It will not cease drawing till the face is free from any matter that may be lodged under the skin, and frequently breaking out to the surface. It then heals. When there is nothing but grossness or dull repulsive surface, it begins to soften and soften until the skin becomes as smooth and desoften until the skin becomes as smooth and delicate as a child's.

WORMS. If parents knew how fatal most medicines were to children taken inwardly, they would be slow to resort to them. Especially "mercurial lozengers," called "medicated lozenges," "vermituges," pille, &c. Even were it possible to may positively that worms were present, it is not safe. The truth is, no one can tell invariably when worms are present. Of course the reme. safe. The truth is, no one can tell invariably when worms are present. Of course the remedy is not applicable to the complaint. Now let me say to parents, that this salve will always tell if a child has worms. Let it be rubbed on the neck and chest, to keep them from going up, and then down on the bowels, and they will soon leave. It will DRIVE every vestige of them away. This is a simple and SAFE cure. No injury can come of it any way. But should it be cholic, inflammation of the bowels, or gripe of the intestines, it will effectually cure them as the worms.

TOILET. I have it done up in fine order for the dressing case. Although I have said little about it, as a hair restorative, I will stake it against the world! They may bring their oils far and near, and mine will restore the hair two cases to their one. That some sores are an outlet to the impurities of the system, is the only reason, because they of the system, is the only reason, because they cannot pass off through the natural channels of the Insensible Perspiration. If such sores are healed up, the impurities must have some other without a timil and approximately a such sores are healed up, the impurities must have some other without a such sores are healed up, the impurities must have some other without a such sores are such as a such sores are healed up, the impurities must have some other without a such sores are such as a such sort of the such sorts. outlet, or it will endanger life. This is the reason why it is impolitic to use the common salves of the day in such cases. For they have no power to open other avenues, to let off all this morbid matter, and the consequences are always fatal. This salve will always provide for such fatal. This salve will always provide emergencies. There need be no fear; it is perpathist bleeds and doses us with mercury, and the blustering Quack gorges us with pills, pills, pills.

To give some idea of the amount of INSEN-SIBLE PERSPIRATION, we will state that the learned Dr. Leweuhock, and the great Boerhaave, ascertained that five-eighths of all we receive into the stomach, passed off by this means. In other words, if we cat and drink eight pounds per day, we evacuated five pounds various diseases with which children are afflicted, we should esteem it the first medicine in existence. How great are the sufferings of infants and children, when they can neither state their wants nor point out their pains? And how many thousands are swept off by giving internal medicines, when their young bodies and tender frames are unable to bear up against them? Whole armies are thus sent to their graves merely from pouring into their weak stomachs powerful drugs.

DAVID JOHN SMITH, Esq., Proided the pounds pouring into their weak stomachs powerful drugs. To give some idea of the amount of INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION, we will state that the learned Dr. Lewenhock, and the great Boer-have, ascertained that five-eighths of all we receive into the stomach, passed off by this means. In other words, if we cat and drink eight pounds per day, we evacuated five pounds of it by the Insensible Perspiration.

This is none other than the used up particles of the blood, and other juices, giving place to the new and fresh ones. To check this, therefore, is to retain in the system five-eighths of all the virulent matter that nature demands should leave the body. And even when this is the case, the blood is of so active a principle, that it determines those particles to the skin, where they form scabs, pimples, ulcers, and other spots.

By a sudden transition from heat to cold, the pores are stopped, the perspiration ceases, and disease begins at once to develope itself. Hence, a stoppage of this flow of the juices, originates so many complaints.

It is by stopping the pores, that overwhelms mankind with coughs, colds, and consumptions. Nine-tenths of the world die from diseases induced by a stoppage of the INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION.

Let me ask now, every candid mind, what course seems the most reasonable to pursue, to unstop the pores, after they are closed.— Would you give physic to UNSTOP the pores; Or would you apply something that would do this upon the surface, where the clogging actually is? Would not this be common sense!— And yet I know of no physician who makes any sickness among children."

RHEUMATISM.—It removes almost immediate ly the inflammation and swelling, when the pair of course ceases. Female Complaints.—Its glory and power FEMALE COMPLAINTS.—Its glory and power is manifest un no way more than in this department. Inflammation of the kidneys, of the womb, and its falling down, weakness, and irregularity; in short, all those difficulties which are frequent with females, find ready and permanent relief. SCALD HEADS.—We have cured cases that actually defed everything known, as well as the tally defied everything known, as well as the ability of fifteen or twenty doctors. One man told us he had spent $500 on his children, without any benefit, when a few boxes of the outment cured them.

Couns.—People need never be troubled with them if they will use if.

them if they will use it.

As a Family Medicine, no man can measure its value. So long as the stars roll along over the heavens—so long as man treads the earth, subject to all the infirmities of the flesh—so long as disease and sickness are known—just so long will this good ointment be used and esteemed. When man ceases from off the earth, then the lemand will cease, and not till then. JAMES MCALISTER & Co.,

CAUTION.

As the All-Healing Ointment has been greatly counterfeited, we have given this caution to the public, that "no ointment will be genuine unless the names of James McAlister, or James McAlister & Co., are written with a pen upon every label." The label is a seel engraving, it he the figure of "Insensible Perspiration" on the face.
