The fact to which I would tumbly solicither attention, is the actual existence of the Medicand Leach in the unders of Canada, notwithstading the general, if not the universal, belief to the contrary.

The value of the Leech, as a medical agent, can be fully appreciated by professional men alone. To them, it is well known, that the absence of the leech cannot, in many in unstances, be supplied by any other means we possess. In other words, the leech, whether in the practice of physic or of surgery, has advantages over all its substitutes. Every person is aware that there are leeches in abundance in the brooks, or, as they are regularly called, "creeks" of this province—but every medical practitioner knows that all leeches cannot serve him. There are different kinds of this animal, as there are of quadrupels, &c. That the greater number of Canadian leeches are useless, I must at present admit—because in the abeace of better proof, the impression is and has been that they are medicinally of no has abue been that they are medicinally of no has abue been that they are medicinally of no has passed because the importation of foreign schos forms a part of our commercial intersorae witk amportation of foreign schos forms a part of our commercial intersorae witk appreciation. That all our leeches, however, are useless, I embrace this opportunity of fearlessly contradicting, as far, at least, I have, in the course of this season, removed a number of leeches from a brook (creek) in the close vicinity of this piace in order to ascertain if they would extract blood. This they did to my complete satisfied. The not only speaks—but they did to my complete satisfied. The not only speaks—but the feature of the same of the season, removed a number of leeches from a brook (creek) in the close vicinity of this piace in the leech with the feature of the season, removed a number of leeches from a brook (creek) in the close vicinity of this piace in the leech with the leech wi

In the wonder is easily explained. They have now been kept in the house used in the wonder is easily explained. They have now been kept in the house reformers that rob us; therefore our adicals hold their peace, as they did when a reformed Assembly gave Mackenzie of O'Grady £300 for doing nothing.

Another intolerable grievance is, that we are not the command of the St. Lawrence of Montreal, nor will Lower Canada so improve the navigation as to render that compand undecessary. In three years our St. awrence canal will render the river navigation as to r sthrough this Province, but then we are there is a line of distinct round yellow this Institution, on whose prudent exertopped.
