THE EUROPEAN has been commenced

THE EUROPEAN has been commenced with the most flattering prospects of success, upwards of a thousand names have been recorded on the subscription list before the issuing of the first number.

The objects of the paper are to keep up a more strict term of intimacy between this country and Europe than at present exists; not merely by publishing foreign intelligence, but by defending foreigners from insults, to which we have been occasionally subjected through the illiberality of a portion of the press, and by fairly advocating our claims to the native American, who, if he discards all prejudice in the examination, cannot fail to acknowledge them.

As Ireland has been the most slandered nation, so shall our columns be more devoted to its support than to any other. In the European Irishmen will, at all events, have one uncompromising friend, whose voice shall never be suppressed while the tongue of slander, or the hand of oppression is raised against them or their glorious country.

It shall be one of our constant endeavours to conciliate the friendship of the native American; and if we do this in a straight forward and independent manner, we know he will like us the better.
