MONTREAL TRANSCRIPT.

WITH the current month we shall have completed Vol. I of the Transcript; and on the first of October next we shall enter upon Vol. II, with that determined spirit of exertion which the remarkable patronage bestowed upon our efforts, has been calculated to inspire.

With the second volume we propose to commence the publication of the novel, entitled "The Three Eras in the Life of Woman;" which has recently peen published by Elizabeth E. Smith, an authoress of very uncommon promise.

The numerous characters which figure in this work have been sketched by a masterly mind; and the moral which it is calculated to impress on the reader's mind, is such as, while it is philosophical in its theory, will practically increase the modicum MONTREAL TRANSCRIPT.

reader's mind, is such as, while it is philosophical in its theory, will practically increase the modicum of happiness permitted to our earthly pligrimage. It cannot, then, be too widely disseminated; and we feel satisfied that our friends when they have read it will admit we have catered both for their advantage and entertainment. As it is impossible to possess a new work by any other means equally cheap, and as a broken story loses its interest, we recommend an early intimation by those who propose to subscribe, in order that we may strike off a sufficient number of copies to prevent disappointment.

There is a direct communication to Lake Ontario, and Lake Eric, by a constant succession of Schooners and Boals, affording great advantages for the conveyance of merchandize and agricultural produce to different markets. The water has a fall of forty feet, and power to an extent equal to propelling machinery for any manufacturing purpose, for which eligible mill siles cun be had. A good Tannery could be worked to great advantage, bark being so easily obtained from the forests of Chippewa and the Grand River.

The Subscriber, in calling the attention of Manufacturers and Mechanics to this rising Village, offers to sell some very advantageous Lots, on moderate terms, and long credit, to actual settlers only.

> ENTLEMEN,—I wrote a few remarks me months ago, respecting Emigration to be western parts of this Province. I have set number of instances in which emigrants have sed Kingston, wearied themselves and family, and expended their money, and then returned to this part of the Province. I have sold serial of them better Lands for almost half of the pet they had to give in the western District, sill have now a large quantity of cultivated and undivated Lands for sale; increfore, I recommitteen to call and see for themselves, and not spiritually and them to call and see for themselves, and not spiritually and them to call and see for themselves, and not spiritually and them to call and see for themselves, and not spiritually and them to call and see for themselves, and not spiritually and them to call and see for themselves, and not spiritually and the second second
