necessary for me to resort to Court Mariniz any punishment for either neglect of duly a any other offence.

I have, in fact, only one regret on the submand that regret consists in the necessity of a removal from Upper Canada in consequence my services being required elsewhere, and it somewhat lessened by knowing that I shall subjuggain visit North America, having been apointed to the command of the Royal Englishmat Newfoundland.

I hope at some future day, if my life is span to revisit Kingston, which is to me almost at home.

Col. Dundas's Reply.

Kingston, May 1st, 18th.

Gentlemen,—I beg to return you my best that for the very flattering and complimentary manner, which you have been kind enough to convey to me tarperssion of your approbation of my conduct, and that the 83d Regt., during the period I have had the honour be Commandant at this station. Nothing can be sugratifying to my feelings, than the knowledge that the gentlemen with whom I have been so frequently plan is communication, should have viewed my conductive with so much favour and consideration. I beg to sure you how sensible I am of the support I have ways received from the Magistrates of this Diam who from their position and local, knowledge, mere well able to give, and so readily afforded me everiformation in their power. I cannot but receiled in the troubles of 1838, it was entirely of their eactim that a force of the gallant and loyal militia of the britet, was speedily assembled for the protection of the Town, on the finat sound of slarm, and in the absent the military force; and to the energy of the asset the military force; and to the energy of the asset for the military force; and to the energy of the most fination. In wishing you individually every happing invasion. In wishing you individually every happing and prosperity, and also that the resources and well of this Town and District, may rapidly increase alively recollection of the kindness and favour land at your hands, so frequently experienced.

H. DUNDAS,

Lt. Col. 83d Regt.

Commandat.

We beg to inform the friends and patr of the Chronicle & Gazette, that we have procured the rooms in the rear of the office late occupied by Henry Cassady, Esq., in Ka Street, and now by Charles Stuart, Esq. Barrister at Law, to whom, as well as to the Rev. R. D. Cartwright the proprietor, w tender our thanks for the accommodation. In these premises we are prepared to execute all orders in the printing line, until the office a rebuilt at the former corner, having already purchased a press and type to enable us a carry on the business. We hope to be able to publish the Chroni-
