The Marks Case.

Sheriff Smart, of Brockville, went up to the Central Prison, Toronto, on Thursday last, for the purpose of removing Jas. Marks from that institution to the Penitentiary at Kingston. Most of our readers will remember that Marks was sentenced to one year in the Central for an assault on Hugh Mulvena, of Farmersville, and that he was subsequently convicted of manslaughter, for having caused the death of Mrs. Mulvena; for which he was sentenced to 5 years in the penitentiary, the term for which he began on the expiration of his sojourn in the Central.

Lecture.

A large and appreciative audience assembled in the south Methodist church, on Thursday evening last to listen to a Lecture by Rev. George Burnfield, of Brockville, on "Scenes and people of foreign lands". The Rev. gentleman is without doubt one of the ablest platform speakers of the present day, and being in excellent voice, he did good justice to the subject. The lecture was delivered in the conversational style, and was a brief resume of scenes and incidents that he had witnessed in Egypt, the Soudan, Arabia and the Holy Land. At the close of the lecture he exhibited a number of curios and antique relics of the east, which he had procured during his trip.

Fire Protection.

We see by the Brockvilles papers that now that the water works have been completed and accepted by the town, the hand fire engines are not required, and will very likely be sold. Would not this be a good time for our citizens to bestir themselves and procure one for the better protection of property in this village. Surely there is need of something being done in the direction of fire protection, and this opportunity to procure an engine that has been thoroughly tested, and which can no doubt be bought at a reasonable price, should be taken advantage of at once. Farmersville has been very fortunate the past few years in having no serious configurations, but if a fire should get started we have not the simplest appliance for extinguishing fire excepting a good supply of ladders. If we even had a well organized Hook and ladder company it would be of great service during a fire, for in our present condition we are completely at the mercy of the devouring element.

Getting Ready.

Chief Engineer Smillie, and a corps of workmen were engaged on Monday and Tuesday locating the site of the station and sidings on the farm of H. Cameron, north of the village. At the request of a number of land owners through whose land the road will pass, a new line was started on the farm of S. A. Taplin, and running to a point on the farm of Dr. Giles, will connect with the old line. The contract for the construction of the road is reported as being let to McDonald, O'Brien & Co., of Ottawa. This firm are busy getting their plant and supplies on the ground and work will be commenced at once.

Council Meeting.

The Municipal Council of Rear Yonge and Escott met in the town hall on Monday evening, and passed a by-law to extend all the property of the B. & W. Railway that may be erected within the municipality from taxation for a period of 21 years with a proviso that the company comply with the terms of by-law number 303 (granting a bonus) respecting the location of a passenger and freight depot within the police corporation of Farmersville; and further that the company shall instruct the parties authorized to issue and sign the debentures issued by the township, to destroy the coupons for the first year's interest on said debentures. We believe that by the terms of this agreement the municipality will be the gainer, as, unless the company erects very large and expensive passenger and freight stations in the municipality, the taxes the company would pay would not amount to the interest on the debentures the first year.

Baseball.

Last Saturday afternoon an interesting game of baseball was played between the Farmersville High School Club and a team composed of young men belonging to the village but not High School scholars. From the beginning of the game it was evident that the High School boys were overmatched, but notwithstanding this they played their very best until the close of the ninth innings. The utmost good humor prevailed throughout, and everyone left the ground perfectly satisfied. The playing on the whole was very good, that of Messrs. Emerson, Koyl, Fisher and Green being exceptionally so. Indeed, Koyl as a pitcher and Green as a catcher are players that would do credit to a professional club, their excellent work being in no small degree due to their uniform good nature and urbanity. At the close of the game the customary cheers were given for the clubs, Mr. Bruce, the umpire, and the Queen.

natural consequence a feeling of great insecurity prevailing in the village.

The Odd Fellows' Lodge of this place lost heavily by the robbery. Mr. Lamb is Treasurer of the institution, and had recently drawn from the bank $225 to meet an order which had been issued. This sum was in the safe, and forms part of the booty secured by the burglars.

One of the most disgraceful episodes ever brought to light in Canadian politics was that which is known as the Beatty-Woodworth affair. The facts disclosed by Messrs. Blake and Edgar, and by the Globe, clearly proved that the member for West Toronto and the member for King's N. S., "stood in" to make a pile through their connection with the north-west Central Railway. The edifying quarrel over the spoils, by the two principals in the conspiracy to rob the Canadian people, and the damaging disclosures made before the Railway Committee were all unheeded by the Government, which was by its supporters sustained in its action in renewing the charter, the details of which are so well known. There is now a new development. An Ottawa dispatch to the Globe, of the 4th inst., says that the Government has notified Mr. Jas. Beatty that his deposit in connection with the North-West Central Railway is insufficient, and that a new company will have to be incorporated to build the road. Mr. Beatty feels extremely bad over his failure, and Mr. Hay is here sympathizing with him. Mr. Woodworth has offered to form a company to build the railway, and the Government has also received proposals from another syndicate organized by Mr. Macdonald, the former contractor for the Scuris & Rocky Mountain Railway.

DARING SAFE BURGLARY.

FARMERSVILLE IS VISITED BY AN ORGANIZED GANG, WHO GOT AWAY WITH CONSIDERABLE "BODDLE."

There was great excitement in the village on Friday morning last, caused by the startling announcement that a successful and very daring burglary had been perpetrated during the night, C. L. Lamb's general store being the place operated upon.

Jas. Judson, one of the clerks, on opening the store in the morning was surprised to find the front door open, and other evidences of a nocturnal visitation. Advancing into the store, he found that two of the lamps had been used since the night before, and that the cash box and other things belonging to the safe were strewn promiscuously around. The safe itself had been forced open by means of an explosive, and its interior ransacked. Judson hastened to the proprietor's residence, and reported what had taken place. Mr. Lamb was of course much perturbed by the startling news, as he had left a considerable sum of money in the safe the night before. Investigation showed that all the cash in the safe, amounting to nearly $275, had been abstracted. Mr. Lamb's books and securities and a pocket-book containing notes, ctc., belonging to A. E. Donovan were not taken, the burglars evidently not wishing to encumber themselves with anything less negotiable than legal tender.

The burglary was well conceived and carried out without a hitch. A small hole was drilled through the outside shell of the safe, into the lock, and through this hole an explosive was introduced which was powerful enough to wrench off the front plate of the door, exposing the bolts, which were then easily withdrawn. A number of webs of cotton were piled around the safe, to deaden the noise of the report, it is supposed. It is very surprising that no one was aroused by the operations of the burglars, as there were persons sleeping within a few feet of the burglarized premises. So far as can be ascertained, no one heard any noise excepting Isaac Aligire, who lives ten or twelve rods south of the store. He heard something which he concluded was a clasp of thunder, but which must have been the report of the safe explosion.

The perpetrators of this daring robbery are likely to remain undiscovered, as there is no clue whatever to their identity. Some days ago a man arrived here who professed to be able to cure stammering. He perambulated around the village apparently without an object, but visited all the places of business and looked around enough to have become well posted as to the ins and outs of the buildings and the habits of those who occupied them. He was an elderly looking man, and seemed to hold communications with another stranger, a younger man, who wore spectacles. Both disappeared a day or two before the burglary, and suspicion falls upon them. Be the culprits who they may, it is evident from the success and method of their operations, that there is an organized gang of them, and there is an
