

A Legend of Good St. Valentine.

London, Ontario N6E 1P

Bt. Valentine at Peter's gate Did knock with might and main, "Let ne out for once, ere 'tis too late ; My time has come again."

Then Peter slowly turned the key, And let the good saint go. It was the fourteenth of Februaree. And the ground was white with snow.

The saint he smiled as he paced Broadway. Fis teeth gleamed clear and pearly, for he actually hadn't been out in broad day Since in the third century—early.

"But love," thought he, "and life and youth Are surely the same as of yore, I'll just go around and discover the truth And make things as nice, if not more.

When he paid his first morning call; But the ladies "begged to be excused," They'd been all night at a ball

So the saint in wonder turned away, And bravely tried once more; But here they all had visits to pay, And the footman showed him the door.

But he still kept on, and tried all kinds-The good, the grave, the busy; He saw all sorts of brains and minds. Till they fairly turned him dizzy.

For one was practising Mendelssohn Alone in her maiden bower ; Another was carving an old dry bone, While a third read Schopenhauer.

A fourth in water and oils could paint All things beneath and above

A fifth in good works was a perfect saint : But they'd none of 'em time to love.

Sadly St. Valentine floated back To the gate of good St. Peter. " Alas!" eried he " of girls there's no lack, And I must say I seldom saw sweeter.

"They're good and pretty, gay and wise; They're nothing if not pedantic; They know what they like and what they de But they don't seem to be remantic.'

Then St. Peter clanged the brazen gate, And let in the dear old sinner, Who'd been up early and stayed out late, And probably wanted his dinner. MORAL.

I pray, sweet maids and youths, beware, mind what you're about For now the saint's around, take care, Don't let him " find you out."

-The Ac Gowden Link.

(By John Abereronibie, Bridgeport, Conn.) I'm wae, wae tae see ye, my bonnie wee boy, The pride o' my heart and yer fond mither's joy; I'm wearyin' fu' sair yer blythe face tae see--'re the ae gowden link that binds Lizzie an > morn, and I miss ye at e'en : a hame without Charlie, I ween; toys scatter'd roun' I can see k that blads Lizzie an' me.

> > and the days are like and ilk o'ening its rt for a wee ie an me.

Such an "Alice in Wonderland" sort of youth. Accordingly, Roger pushed forward, and, getting round an intervening The horse, which was tied already four, and no springs. tree, this was what he saw. In a little saddled behind the waggon, was "Behold my beautiful wife," said the of the picture, it may occur to our young glade about ten paces from him, flapping quickly brought, and Ernest mount. German. "Soon I will show you how her gentleman that although Providence starts its ears, stood an enormous elephant with great white tusks, looking as large as a house, and as cool as a cucumber. Nobody, to look at the brute, would have believed place about a mile or so on. Then he started | carting about a corpse. that he had given them a twenty miles' trot after his wounded bull, which could be | "Inside! no, she is outside, she is all won by struggle, and in most cultivated under a burning sun. He was now refresh- plainly discerned standing with one leg up over," and stepping back the German put minds by the passage through the dim, ing himself by pulling up mimosa-trees as eating the sweet fibrous roots. ambition to kill that elephant, the mighty vilderbeeste. The pace at which a vilder- Wilhemina, is you tired, my dear? and of our childhood, when we have entertained black. great beast about a hundred times as big as | beeste can travel on three legs when he is | how is your poor leg?" and he caught hold | Apollyon, and, having considered what he himself, who could pull up a large tree and not too fat is perfectly astonishing, and of a groggy wheel and shook it. make his dinner off the roots. He was a Ernest had traversed a couple of miles of Had Ernest been a little less wretched, in the plain, then, and not till then, can we sugar, one-half cup of butter, plucky boy, was Roger, and in his sports- great rolling plain before he even got and one degree further off starvation, it is say with guileless hearts, "Lord, I of milk, two cups of flour, two eggs, juice sturdy peasant Raymunda, feeds and occurrence Nicolson gave up the sea. He manlike zeal he quite forgot that a repeat within a fair galloping distance of him. probable that he would have exploded with believe," and feel no need to add the sadly and grate the rind of one lemon, one-half amuses the baby; but he is washed and was twice married, and is survived by a would choose to shoot elephants with. he got within fifty yards, and then away ludicrous; but he had not got a laugh left Indeed, without giving the matter another | they went at a merry pace, Ernest's object | in him, and, besides, he was afraid of thought, he lifted the little rifle, aimed it at | being to ride alongside and put a bullet | offending the German. So he merely the great beast's head and fired. He hit it through him. Their gallop lasted a good murmured, "Poor, poor leg !" sympasomewhere, that was very clear, for next | two miles or more. On the level Ernest | thetically, and then alluded to the question moment the air resounded with the most gained on the vilderbeeste, but whenever of eatables. terrific scream of fury that it had ever been they came to a patch of ant-bear holes or a ... Ah, yes, of course. Let us see what and is said to make a fair sort of coffee. his lot to hear. That scream was too much ridge of stones, the vilderbeeste had the Wilhemina shall give us," and he trotted for him; he turned and fled swiftly. pull and drew away again. At last they round to the back end of the cart, which, that scarlet drape about as large as an old- (previously buttered) for about 20 minutes. Mistress of the Robes or of his aunt, the

could not for some seconds make out where came tearing along. Here Ernest at length | which he gave to Ernest to put round his the green English oaks, and have even now his tiny assailant was. Presently, however, drew up level with his quarry, and, grasp- shoulders; second, a large piece of biltong, only reached the falling stage that most of mix these in by degrees; roll out, and to he winded him, and came crashing after ing the rifle with his right hand, tried to or sun-dried game-flesh, and some biscuits; our indigenous trees reached more than a the thickness of about a quarter of an inch him, screaming shrilly, with its trunk and get it so that he could put a bullet through and, third, a bottle of peach-brandy. On month ago. This Turkish oak bears a cut into biscuits with a tip cutter; bake in tail well up. On hearing the shot and the the beast and drop him. But it was no these viands they fell to, and though they huge acorn. It is long, and grows on a a rather cool oven for twenty minutes. standing some way out, in the open in the open in the open in the was still making nature, Ernest never enjoyed anything. The liquid amber tree and the Siberian anticipation of a driving shot at the up his mind, the vilderbeeste slued more in his life. Their meal did not take pea grow in this country. The pea is in a Guinea-fowl, had run toward the spot round and came av him bravely. Had his long, and after it his friend Hans produced little pod not bigger than the pod of the

"Boom-thud-crash!" and the elephant | miserably in that lonely place. was down dead as a doornail. Jeremy had | The sun was sinking now, and he was Good! you shall sleep with Wilhemina the first time.

tusk, began to point out where he had hit which there was a poor chance of his the impetous, and the intelligent. These wraps made of the same material as the story of the adventure from Ernest.

it had not been for Mr. Kershaw here, who shoulder. courted almost certain death to save you | "What is it?" he said, wearily. from the results of your own folly, you | "Wat is it? ach Himmel! wat is it would be as dead as that elephant and as dat is just wat I wants to know. What do them all. But one fine day the sweetest flat as a biscuit? Come down, sir, and you here? You shall die so.' offer up your thanks to Providence and Mr. | The voice was the voice of a German, Kershaw that you have a sound square inch | and Ernest knew German well. of flesh left on your worthless young body!' I have lesterny way," he said in that Roger descended accordingly, consider. | language! " I cannot find the waggons." ably crestfallen.

most rattling good shot of yours at his | ing him in English. "I will embrace you," knee," said Ernest, who had now got his and he did so. breath again. "You would not do it again if you fired at elephants for a week.'

ward Mr. Alston thanked Ernest with tears | off dissolution. in his eyes for saving his son's life. This was the first elephant they killed, and also the largest. It measured ten feet eleven inches at the shoulder, and the tusks weighed, when dried out, about sixty | pounds each. They remained in the (tobacco)?" elephant country for nearly four months when the approach of the unhealthy season forced them to leave it-not, how. | shall find you all these things." ever, before they had killed a great quantity of large game of all sorts.

It was on the occasion of their return to little wife in this place?" Pretoria that Ernest made the acquaintance of a curious character in a curious | gave a little light.

Lizzie an' herds of buck that swarmed upon the high you will love her." in the country which they had been shoot- and then, mindful of the good things the a profounder constituent disbelief in its wings and breasts of birds. The heads are voorlooper stopped the oxen in order to give love my wife." Ernest, who was sitting on the waggon-box "Really!" said Ernest. and did not stop its career.

performance on the part of a tree could not what he had done, "I can't leave the poor to something that in the dim light reminded though "sweetests and bests" are but excite the curiosity of an intelligent beast like that. Bring me my horse; I will him of the hand hearse in Kesterwick chimerical, there are women in the world go after him and finish him." ing told them not to keep the leg shakes; it shakes, oh, horrid." waggons for him, as he would strike across "Is-is the lady inside?" asked Ernest. indoctrinated belief in a given religion, that Elephants were evidently difficult things to | came to a dry pan or lake about half a mile | in keeping with its hearse-like character. | fashioned ox heart cherry. broad, crowded with hundreds of buck of opened by means of two little folding doors, the speed was too great, but he

the result that the

were quite sixty yards off-was infini- tired horse put his foot in a hole and fell heavily, throwing him to his head and | Ernest. There was a second's pause. The snap- shoulder. For a few minutes his senses ping tip touched the retreating trousers, left him, but he recovered, and, mounting but did not get hold of them, and the con- his worn-out horse, wandered on again. tact sent a magnetic thrill up Ernest's | Luckily he had broken no bones. Had he made no mistake : the bullet went straight | faint for want of food, for he had eaten through the great brute's heart, and broke nothing that day but a biscuit. He had she will be-what you call him-offended." falling to the ankles. the shoulder on the other side. He was one | not even a pipe of tobacco with him. Just of those men who not only rarely miss, but as the sun vanished he hit a little path, or always seem to hit their game in the right | what might once have been a path. He | buried alive. At dawn he emerged, bade followed it till the pitch darkness set in; his friend farewell, and gaining the road Ernest sank exhausted on the ground | then he got off his horse and took off the | rejoined the wagon in safety. and Mr. Alston and Jeremy rushed up saddle, which he put down on the bare, black veldt, for a fire had recently swept off "Near go that, Ernest," said the former. | the dry grass, and, wrapping the saddle-Ernest nodded his head in reply, he could | cloth round his feet, laid his aching head " By Jove! where is Roger?" he went | hitched round his arm, lest the animal on, turning pale as he missed his son for should stray away from him to look for fright when he saw that the great animal the raw meat and chewed it, but it turned and marry your daughter to, has two great brown and tan. was stone-dead, rushed up with vells of his stomach and he spat it out. Then he exultation, and, climbing on to the upper | shivered and sank into a torpor from |

Meanwhile Mr. Alston had extracted the How long he lay so he did not know, it "You young rascal." he said to his son, hour, when he was suddenly awakened by come off that tusk. Do you know that if feeling somebody shaking him by the

"Ah, you can speak the tongue of the "Never you mind, Roger, that was a Vaterland," said his visitor still address

Ernest sighed. It is a bore to be as he and marry eldest brothers or superembraced in the dark by an unknown male annuated cotton-spinners. He may be right And so the matter passed off, but after. German when you feel that you are not far or he may be wrong. The materials for

Ernest signified that he was. "And athirsted?"

Again he signified assent. "And perhaps you have no 'gui

"No, none. " Good! my little wife, my Wilhelmina,

By this time the stars had come out and wings a day's journey nearer Heaven. "Come, rouse yourself, and come and see As soon as they got to the boundaries of my little wife. Oh, the pferd!" (horse)- the Transvaal Ernest bought a horse from "we will tie him to my wife. Ah, she is best," he grows cynical, and no longer puts trimmed with the same shade of plush, are a Boer, on which he used to ride after the beautiful, though her leg shakes. Oh, yes, faith in superlatives. From atheism there worn to afternoon teas by young women ing no horse would live. One day, as they lady in question was to provide him with, feminine section, and in turn, as already not used. With these are worn with levely a few days after our cabins were finished were travelling slowly along a little before he added solemnly, "Lead on, Macduff." said, the misogynist walks daily along the effect breast knots of pink roses. For carmid-day, a couple of bull vilderbeeste "Macduffer! my name is not so; my edge of atheism. Of course there is a way riage wear red becomes more and more galloped across the waggon-track about two name is Haus; all ze great South Africa out of these discouraging results. If the popular. Several dark red suits are shown hundred yards in front of the oxen. The know me very well, and all South Africa mind that suffers and falls through its with trimmings of black mink, and bon-

Ernest fired at the last of the two galloping | to feel that the situation was interesting. | arid, positives, with here and there a little bulls. The line was good, but he did not A lady to whom his horse was to be tied, comparative oasis to break the monotony make sufficient allowance for the pace at and whom all South Africa was enamored of its general outline. Its owner may learn which the bull was travelling, with the of, could hardly fail to be interesting. Ris- that the fault lay with him, for believing result that instead of striking it forward | ing he advanced a step or two with his | too much, for trusting too far, for setting and killing it, the bullet shattered its flank | friend, who, he could now see was a large, | burly man with white hair, apparently self, only several degrees lower beneath "Dash it !" said Ernest, when he saw about 60 years of age. Presently they came | proof; and at last may come to see that church, only it had two wheels instead of who may fairly be called " sweet and country and meet them at the outspan It occurred to him that his friend might be is not what Providence understands by on the crest of a rise about a thousand his head on one side in a most comical mirage-clad land of disbelief. The true easily as though they were radishes, and yards away. But if ever a vilderbeeste was fashion, and, regarding the unofficial believer is he who has trodden down dispossessed by a fixed determination not to hearse with the deepest affection, said in a belief, not he who has run away from it. Roger saw this and his heart burned with be finished off, it was that particular low voice, "Ah, liebe vrouw, ah, When we have descended from the height The favorite colors are rose color and paces and equal to the occasion. To turn was weveling on.

" The nustonburg road." s head, instead one thousand paces off it. My wife and I tree.

ing. The probability of Jeremy's had been living, through and through. He City of Rest, and my wife and I, we must stopping the beast at that distance—they wandered on aimlessly, till suddenly his journey on, on, on will we find it." " Where do you come from now ?" asked > "From Utrecht, from out of the east, where the sun rises so red every morning over Zululand, the land of bloodshed. Oh, the land will run with blood there. I know done so, he would probably have perished it : Wilhemina told me as we came along but I don't know when. But you are tire will sleep beneath her. No, you shall,

Ernest crept into the cavity, and at once fell asleep, and dreamed that he had bee

*CHAPTER XXXII.

ERNEST ACCEPTS A COMMISSION.

A young man of that ardent, impetuous and a thing to love, contrasted with the large button on either side of the coller. young man of the sober, cautious, moneysafeguards standing between him and the ruin which dogs the heels of the ardent, fashionable "sling" sleeve, and thos are, his religion and his belief in women. It suit show, when the arm is raised, a lining never questioned the former; the latter, so | matching the suit. far as his own class in life is concerned, are to him all sweet and good, and perhaps there is one particular star who only shines for him, and is the sweetest and best of and best of all throws him over, being a younger son and marries his eldest brother. or a paralytic cotton-spinner of enormous wealth and uncertain temper, and then a sudden change comes over the spirit of the ardent, intelligent, and impetuous one. Not being of a well-balanced mind, he rushes to the other extreme, and believes in his son heart that all women would throw over such ascertaining the fact are wanting, for all or picot edges, are used. They are folded wet see a soldier with a cold. But I did wandering excursions for the wide, was "You are hungered?" said the German. women engaged to impecunious young gentlemen do not get the chance. But, right or wrong, the result upon the sufferer is the same-his faith in women is shaken, if not suffering be of the truly noble order, it may | nets of red velvet and jet. in time come to see that this world is a with a rifle by his side, a steady shot. Although he was so miscrable, he began world not of superlatives, but of the most up as an idel a creature exactly like him good." Or, to return to the converse side us in the world with a full inherited or faith. Faith, perfect faith, is only to b has to say, given him battle and routed him

(To be continued.)

Various Odd Trees.

Fortunately for Roger, the elephant all sorts, which scampered away as they and pulled out, first, two blankets, one of green leaves late. These outlast some of had entered the bush, and, horse been unused to the work, he must some excellent Boer tobacco, and over their sweet pea, but its yellow bloom in spring, it, out he came, have had his inside ripped out by the pipes he told him how he had lost his way. on a tree near the lake, makes one of the the crooked horns, but he was an old hunter Hans asked him which road he had been charming sights of the park in May. Bad boys break off its branches in winter for use as "shinny" sticks in their games on "Then, my friend, you are not more than the ice, and thus mar the symmetry of the

JOTTINGS FOR THE LADIES.

Latest Fashion Notes.

The latest fancy from Paris is a little with dancing toilettes.

The newest cloaks for little girls have waists reaching only to the arm-pits, mere like a deep yoke than a waist, and skirts Pleated fronts to basques are worn by persons who have very slender figures, even in the heaviest velvet materials. They have two pleats at the top of the shoulders next the collar, and then drawn to the middle, becoming plain at .he waist line.

Nearly all the newest wraps have the is probable that he will start on his erratic of soft, striped surah; this same lining is career with a full store of both. He has employed for the little fancy muff also

The tendencies in draperies is to make them long and full and quite dissimilar to anything hitherto fashionable. These draperies have heavy, pointed fan folds and very little looping. The effect is obtained by the varying length of the points in which the drapery hangs rather than by loops. These modes are seen with plain skirts and large tournure.

Instead of folds or frills in the neck and | cartridge out of my box, nor even pick up | over the double-trees and get him if sleeves, modistes now send home each dress | a carbine cap. I have been on night pick- | kicked twice by the roan colt. He | ... waist finished off with ribbons, which may ets, mounted, when the pickets had to be his mother waiting patiently until so. be white or in direct contrast with the relieved every fifteen minutes, because if body had time and inclination to take 1.0 dress material, such as rose-pink in moss- left longer the men could not load and fire. baby. He saw his grandmother perch ! green dresses, or red, or orange in those of But we never caught the slightest cold, nor self on the hub of the hind wheel on the dark blue. The gauze ribbons, with looped | did I ever in times of cold and exposure to | foot, while she made vague, circumferent over not quite double so that both the catch one cold in the army, and I never had | world with the other. He saw his brothe; fancy edges will show just above the collar such a one before or since. It came from let themselves down over the tailgate and of the dress. All the French waists show an effort to to us. We were at Camp Davies, Miss., last the waggon was empty, and there were destroyed. Nor does the mischief stop there; make the shoulders as high and square and the southern outpost of the great fortress of visible signs of excitement about the horse his religion often follows his belief in the the waist as long and slim as possible. Corinth. Having been there some months, "The raid is discovered," said the box, other sex, for in some mysterious way the This effect is gained by a shirring across we began to build neat log cabins, with cutting the roots of a healthy stalk of corrections. two things are interwoven. A young man the chest and on the shoulder seams, and openings for doors and windows-no glass and carefully hilling up a vigorous lange of the nobler class of mind in love, is gener- the fulness drawn down as far as possible or doors, of course. One of our mess weed. Presently he saw his father commendation of the nobler class of mind in love, is gener- the fulness drawn down as far as possible or doors, of course. "What the mischief," thought Ernest to ally for the time being a religious man; his to the waist and there shirred more closely being a young bricklayer, we thought out of the house with the gun over is himself, "can a German be doing with his affection lifts him more or less above the again. This gives the slim effect seen in to surprise our neighbors in style and shoulder and the cat under his arm. " its things of earth, and floats him on its radiant | French fashion plates, and while giving an | confort, and we sent for brick, and culprit is arrested," calmly remarked the improved slenderness and grace to thin, het built us a large chimney and fire- young robber, as he leaned thoughtfully The same thing applies conversely. If a langular figures, hides all the pretty curves place, and we built a good fire. That lupon his hoe, and watched his father disman's religious belief is emasculated, he of good ones.

becomes suspicious of the "sweetest and The tailor gowns of dark copper red, is but a small step to misogyny, or rather to with small red velvet turbans without a veldt. They had none with them, because | "The deuce I shall !" ejaculated Ernest; that disbelief in humanity which embraces | brim, and adorned with gray or brown

For wear to the theatres by those ladies who are prepared to adopt the English fashion of appearing without bonnets, are do. It is our hot rooms that give us our shown little Marie Stuart coifs of silk and plush, the face being surrounded by pearl beads matching the hue of the coif Attached to it is a long scarf of surah that is drawn around the throat. These can be worn without disarranging the hair and thrown off and on more easily than a lace scarf, while thoroughly protecting the head and throat from the night air. Shoes for balls are still very open on top, the ends are pointed and they are worked | The Little Pink-Toed Twenty-Pounder at with beads. They are trimmed with a small bow or "strass" buckle. These shoes are of satin to match the dress. Black satin and velvet shoes for dinner wear are worked with gold beads or tinsel. Those used by young girls under light wool or gauze dresses are of cream, blue or bronze kid. They either match the dress or trimmings in color. It is not necessary the stockings should match the dress.

Some Recipes.

qualifying words, " help Thou my teaspoonful of soda; bake in small square dressed according to traditional ceremony grown-up family. tins and ice on sides and top.

state three-quarters of a pound of flour, two same office towards his father. Doctors ounces of butter, then add three-quarters of visit the baby twice daily, and every day A "Kentucky coffee-tree" bears a broad, a pound of pounded sugar, the juice and he drives out with his governess and flat pod, something like the tamarind pod, rind of one lemon and two eggs; mix well Raymunda-sometimes with the Queen. together with half a wineglassful of brandy, In court ceremonies Raymunda must not The Cornelian cherry, from Italy, has a and make into small cakes; bake in tins carry the king; that is the duty of the Lemon Turnovers .- Three dessertspood leditor of Cassell's Saturday Journal for the over the lester fuls of flour, one of powdered sugar, rind one lemon, two ounces of butter, two or and a little milk. Mix the flour, sugar al the grated rind of lemon with the milk to the consistency of butter, then add the egg well beaten and the butter melted. some tin saucers, pour bake them in

TAKING COLD.

An Old Soldier Relates His Experience A Boy, a Man, a Guerand the Conse-

During the War. Writing to the Scientific American from No matter how strong may be very link Cincinnati, Andrew Van Bibber says: in a chain of circumstant evidence there pompon of crisp tulle, from which rises a Cincinnati, Andrew Van Bibber says: in a chain of circumstant evidence there heron's plumes, to be worn in the hair Reading in a recent issue of your paper and is always a doubt, a laci certainty, that article of Dr. Brown Sequard on "Taking should weaken it and cause us to disefus" Cold," it occurred to me that colds are it. I remember a story my grandfully peculiar to civilized life and to our com- used to tell of a case in which an impress fortable, warm rooms. I have had colds as life was sacrificed for a guilty person. frequently perhaps as any one, but during boy on a farm, for some misdemeaner, war one period of my life I was entirely free sentenced by his father, a stern man from them, with one exception. I served an eye to saving a half price ticket, through the war in the Fifth Ohio cavalry, deprived of his annual circus privilege, and beginning at Shiloh and ending my service in addition, he was to hoe so many rove. with the march to the sea. We were an | corn while the rest of the family tool active regiment, always at the front and the lady's pad act, the bare back riding of therefore always remarkably unencumbered Jack Robinson, the club that killed Captain The new overcoats for young girls turned with tents or comforts. We were Cook and other attractions of the great out by Redfern have the high, military exposed to all weathers and all sea- moral show. The boy watched the water collars fastened with a little irregular sons. Many a time we were rained on for drive away, with tears in his eyes, 1: intelligent mind which makes him charming shaped strap, that is loose and buttons to a a week or more. When the sun came out then he went at his corn rows will the next week or the week after, it dried determination to make a short crop, it For wear in wet weather are shown silk us. Many a time, long after dark, after a could be worked without detection. I'm food. The wind was bitterly cold, and he making mind (infinitely the most useful rubber cloth long wraps, with sling sleeves. march in rain and mud all day, we have he grew hungry after awhile and went in But at this moment the young gentle- was wet through; the hyenas came and article), which makes him a " comfort" to These are in indefinite plaids, with the pre- been filed into miry woods, where we slept the Louis and investigated the pantiman hove in sight, and, recovering from his howled round him. He cut off a piece of his relatives and a thing to respect, avoid, vailing color shades of dark blue, red, green, in the running water wash. There were seven pies—it was an Anataing between us and our blankets. I have can household-seven blackberry pi seen men wake in the morning with their baked for Sunday. The boy, who was in hair frozen in the mud. But none of us feeling very well himself, soon plated his caught cold. We swam the Tennessee person anterior to six of the pits. 1 river after midnight, when the mercury paused thoughtfully, and with keenings t was at zero and among floating ice and midway on the seventh. One-half of the came out with our clothes to our armpits he left. He then caught the family of frozen like sheet iron and then marched | thrust her nose and feet into the remains till morning. In the cold winter of 1863- of the pie, and dropped her on the line. 64, we were in the mountainous country of white sanded floor of the pantry that si c East Tennessee, where it is as cold as might track around on it. Then have t Ohio. We were there from November | back to his corn rows. Evening bruil t until arch, without any tents or shelter | the family home. The boy saw them tir b of any kind, moving every day and sleeping joyously out of the big waggon. He taket in a different place every night, with the how the overripe apples fell from the temperature frequently below zero. I when his sister jumped over the side and have, with my comrades, ridden upon lighted flat-footed on the ground. He the skirmish line when I could not lift a saw his father let himself excessive comfort, or what seemed comfort | sneak away to avoid doing any work. settled us. Four of us had to go to the appear behind the barn. The sharp report hospital with tremendous colds on our of a gun rang out upon the quiet of the sunchests and in our heads. We never had set hour. "There," said the boy, with the such heavy colds in our lives. This was confident expression of one who knows about the middle of our three years of ser- what he is talking about, "there goes vice, and before and after that I never saw | another victim to circumstantial evidence. an exposed soldier with a cold. Of course | -Bob Burdette. we got marching orders. I believe all old | Death of a Man Rescued by Grace Darling. soldiers will bear me out that in active campaigns, where there was great exposure to the weather, no one had a cold. And come to think of it, in my experiences in Colorado and Utah, in recent years, I they stand more exposure than our cattle fall till spring, exposed to the weather of a absolutely free from them. But when you are in Rome you must do as the Romans

A KING IN HIS CRADLE.

Madrid.

do, and take warm rooms and colds.

Majesty has his own vast suite of apart- lows. They "thought it was an angel. by a bevy of ladies of honor, under the Lemon Cakes .- Rub together in a dry direction of his "governess," who held that Ginger Cakes .- Beat to a cream half a Infanta Isabella. Queen Christina is a Gerris oaks, from Turkey, keep their pound of butter with four eggs, add half a most devoted mother, spending all her is often the case with the lungar lace a pound of flour, half a pound of powdered | time with her boy, and the Infanta Isabella is equally attached to her nephew.

The Greatest Men.

London Graphic

NOISOBOULd a greatest living men. name the

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE.

On Tuesday, in the little village concery of Whitburn, the grave closed over the remains of James Nicolson, who was pathing s the only remaining survivor of the caco of the steamer Forfarshire, who were to galnever saw an Indian with a cold, though lantly rescued by the English herome, Grace Darling, in 1838. Nicolson was the a a young man of 22, and acted as intitut colds. If a person would camp out from on board the steamer, when sin was wrecked on the Farne Islands. He w. s severe winter, he would never take either a | not inclined to be very communicative on cold, pleurisy or pneumonia, and would be the subject of the disaster, and herer recalled the subject without being deeply affected by the recollection of the sufferings he and his fellows endured on that terrible night. It was gathered from him that for three hours he hung on to a rope, using his teeth and nails as in a death-grip. He afterwards got a footing on the rock, and on exploring it in the darkness was plad. The baby king of Spain is a fine, hand- | dened by finding a sea-fowl's nest contribsome child who enjoys robust health, and | ing the remains of eggs which had be a does credit to the immense amount of care | hatched. This gave the unhappy will a with which he is surrounded. Though | ray of hope that they had gained and in valcourt etiquette requires that the six- tion on the sea-washed island where the months old Alphonso XIII. should be devouring element would not reach them. treated with the most rigid ceremony, his He also related the first impression of the mother will never call him "the king" | unfortunate men on seeing a bout with a unless on very strict State occasions, but woman in it approaching them through the uses the simple term of "my child." His | morning mist, and over the foaming bilments next to those of the Queen Regent; and this sufficiently indicates the severe Lemon Cake, -One and a half cups of and a special guard keeps his bed room strain their minds had endured through

A Mayor Honored.

One of the penalties of greatness is ile obligation of sharing one's man a with a new invention or fashion. Brough in gave his name to a vehicle, Wellington to Loots, and the late Premier to a bag : but all this is nothing to the fate of the Mayor of Bolton. A lioness in a menageric meently is often the case with the human race, a difficulty grose as to naming the tawcorners. Eventually, while one vas calle Stella (probably at the instance of the proprietor) and another Committhe instance, let us sav._ A" prize was recently offered, by the | who dropped in to