TO THE PUBLIC.—I find it necessary to make known to the inhabitants of Farmersville and surrounding country that the rumour that I am about to quit business in this section is false in every respect, and is circulated by my weak opponent. The public will find me as ready as ever to meet the demands of my customers, and with greater promptitude than in the past. I intend to keep six good cutters for the summer trade, and therefore the public can rely on getting satisfaction
if they deal with me, and prompt execution of orders with which I am favoured.

Lines on the Sad Death of Mrs.
Harriet Sheldon.

Dear Friends, doth though know
That our hearts are won to you
Will you send some word or greeting
From that distant unknown shore?

For we three, Darling Hattie—
Miss thy presence more and more.

Just one strain of her voice more,
That we may hear thy voice once more.

Hark! a sound familiar strain more—
It was a voice we've heard before.

It comes like a strain of music more—
From that distant unknown shore.

Asking friends to come from sorrow

For the strain once set free.

Yea, here the strain did come more—
But why this sorrow now for me?

All my trials now are ended,

Now I am at rest, and free,

But all is joy and peace and love,

In this Heaven home above.

Why be bound to things of earth

When all is darkness drear and death?

Lift your thoughts to heaven's great King,

With your joys and sorrows bring to me,

Soon will you leave the events of time

With wings outstretched for this fair clime.

I will watch on this beautiful shore

And extend my hand to welcome you o'er;

So we dear friends will be near me,

From all that pains through Christ's free grace,

And your own dear Hattie will press your hand,

As she welcomes you home to this heavenly land.

A large number of railway employees are leaving this section of the L.
& W. R. R., on account of the trouble they have in getting their pay. There must be a screw loose somewhere.
The contractors are having a great deal of trouble just now about some old accounts for labor and supplies they got last summer and have not paid for. Quite a number of these creditors are suing them and seizing their goods and chattels.

Newboro.

Mrs. W. Elliot has moved to Far-mersville.

The roads about here are getting into very bad condition.

Two cases of Scott Act violation settled here last week.

Mr. Alex. Farrell, turnpike artist, of Perth, is visiting here.

H. Downey, of Perth, spent several days here and at Westport.

Mr. Harrison, of South Crosby, has taken Mrs. Donoghue's house.

Mr. Riddle, contractor, has moved into W. Elliot's house, on Main street.

Mr. Etherington, our head teacher, has resigned his position, to take effect

May 1st.

The farmers are busy making "Tree Sugar." Hope we may get a taste of the toothsome sweet.

The McLaren Bros., bakers, of Westport, will soon open a grocery and provision store in W. Elliot's old stand.

The village "daddies" should see that we have a fire extinguisher of some kind, as we have a "Live Cole" in our midst.

Rev. Mr. Barnet, of Delta, delivered a very effective discourse on Sunday evening, at the Methodist Church.
Text Eph. 3:20-21.

Mr. John Whitmore has decided not to sell his premises, as reported sometime ago. He will keep business running at the old stand.

While not intending to advertise, we cannot fail to remark upon the attractive goods displayed by our several dry goods merchants, for their spring trade.

Mr. C. English has moved his family here. They reside in Mr. T. O'Neil's house. Mr. English has been stationed here as engineer by the B. &
W. R. R. Company, in place of Mr.
D. Hanna.
