Somewhere the thing we long for Exists on earth's wide bound Somewhere the sun is shining When winter nips the ground. Somewhere the flowers are springing Somewhere the corn is brown, And ready unto the barvest To feed the hungry town

Somewhere the twilight gathers And weary men lay by The burden of the daytime, And wrapped in siumber lie. Somewhere the day is breaking. And gloom and darkness fice ; Though storins our bark are tossing, There's somewhere a place sea.

And thus, I thought, 'tis always. In this mysteriousdife, There's always gladness somewhere In spite of its pain and strife; And somewhere the sin and sorrow Of earth are known no more, Somewhere our weary spirits Shall find a peaceful shore.

Somewhere the things that try us

Shall all have passed away, And doubt and fear no longer Impede the perfect day. O brother, though the darkness Around thy soul be cast, The earth is rolling sunward And light shall come at last. -Alfred Capel Shaw, in Good Words

A NOVEL.

"One word, my father, and I will trouble thine cars no more, since for thee my voice | the cold reply. the white men say, up 'into the heavens with a loud voice: 'Mazooku, son of a pot of money.' that I may pass to thee; and if I be awful. already dead, then shall I be there at thy "You did not come to speak to me about on me?" side even as thou callest. This thou wilt do orchids, Mr. de Talor." for me, O my father and my chief, because, lo! I have loved thee as the child loves | pleasure afterwards-ch?" her who suckled it, and I would look upon time, my chief from generation to genera- ward."

The great Zulu drew himself up, raised I hope? ran swiftly thence, nor would he see Ernest | myself. again before he went. "The pain of death was over, he said.

As the sound of his footsteps grew faint, | such an old friend too !

Africa, Jeremy, my boy. It makes me very old friends are concerned." sad, and sometimes I think that, as he says, it is a pity we did not go under with of me, Cardus?' Alston and the others. It would all have "Thank you," said Jeremy, after reflectabie us i um.

CHAPTER XLIV. MR. CARDUS ACCOMPLISHES HIS REVENCE.

of his only son, at that date a lad of fifteen ; but it was too late, the associations and | "Yes, I suppose so, Cardus." habits of childhood are not easily overcome, and no earthly power or education could accomplish the desired object. When his son was twenty years of age, old Jack

This son had inherited a good deal of his make the best of his advantages. First he speculation. wick Ness estates, and bloomed into a Methuselah in heart." country gentleman. It was shortly after this latter event that he made a mistake he was called, was well off, and resisted his | was established by your father." advances, whereupon De Talor, in a fit of

in consideration of his wealth and position firm do, Mr. de Talor ? They set to work, was partially drawn, the wild-looking head almost simultaneously. " Hard-riding eighteen per cent. cheaper. But the De in which there was a very peculiar look, Atterleigh" got into money difficulties Talor house had the ear of the markets. were fixed intently upon Mr. Cardus' face. through over gratification of his passion for and the contracts with all the leading lines | When he saw that he was observed, he hounds and horses : Mr. Cardus was taken | and Continental firms, and for a while it | vanished. abroad for the best part of a year in con- seemed as though the new house must go "Now go," said the lawyer sternly to the nection with a business matter, and a man to the wall ; and if they had not had con- prostrate De Talor ; "and never let me see named Jones, A friend of Mr. de Talor's siderable capital at command they must, your face again ! staying in his house at the time, fell in love | have gone to the wall." with Mary Atterleigh. Herein De Talor "Ah, and where did they get it from ? to go?" groaned De Talor. saw an opportunity of revenge upon his That's the mystery," said De Talor.

that his real road to the possession of the shall clear it up a little presently. To your destination, it should be-to the lady lay through the pocket of her father, return; after a while the buyers began to devil! and even went so far as to advance him the find that Rastrick and Codley's grease was The wretched man staggered up. necessary funds to bribe Atterleigh ; for, a better grease and a cheaper grease, and as though Jones was well off, he could not at the contracts lapsed, the companies You've got it all your own way now. You buttercups and violets, and the sheep are the present style of dress permits extravasuch short notice lay hands upon a sufficient renewed them, not with the De Talor house are --- hard, you fare; but perhaps frisks on the green turf of gance, as Japanese ladies have been known sum in cash to serve his ends. The plot succeded. Atterleigh's scruples | Doubtless you remember." were overcome as easily as the scruples of Mr. de Talor groan edin acquiescence, and have been pleasant to you to see her marry men in his position without principle to the lawyer continued :

result that when Mr. Cardus returned from it he hands of the new firm." abroad he found his affianced bride the wife of another man, who became in due course | really were-the low sneaks!" the father of Jeremy and Dolly ment drove Mr. Cardus partially mad, and, Cardus, Esq., Solicitor of Dum's Ness." mind a monomania for revenge on all looked wildly at the lawyer and sank down concerned in bringing it about. It became again. ing all his gemarkable intelligence and of wine?" energy to the matter, he early discovered years he pursued his encievedrying plan | monopoly of the grease-trade, which is, by after plan to achieve his ruin, and as one the way, at this moment paying very we purpose the reader shall now learn. and out of it emerged Mr. de Talor ._

out of the window.

Dorothy was right, the man was much | market.' fallen, the insolent air was gone, and he He was too upset to speak.

than half his former size. become quite a fire-eater since then, and came to me to ask advice." been knocking over the niggers right and "Yes; and you told me to speculate."

few words, not many, for he disliked the are an able man, and understand th used to dislike his insolence.

frightened me out of my wits. Now It Ash, one of the best in the City.' think of it, I've never 'ad any luck since I "Confound them for a set of rogues! saw that thing."

At this moment the housekeeper Grice came to say that Mr. Cardus was ready to I have an interest in their business." see Mr. de Talor if he would step into the

Dorothy thought that their visitor turned his mind sufficiently to cause him to hurry | behalf, in pursuance of such instructions |

he found the lawyer pacing up and down. Mr. de Talor, and year by year, when your you know I sometimes think that I am not above, and thy sight returns, and thou art "Pretty flowers, Cardus, those, very. fifty thousand; then came more losses and tating to himself, "how wonderfully Provionce more a man, then turn thee and cry Orchids, ain't they? Must have cost you more loans, till at length we have reached dence works even in the affairs of this his spear, and for the first and last time in . On the contrary, Mr. de Talor, the said, quietly, pointing to the receipt written his life gave Ernest the royal salute-to, interest being now eight menths overdue, I across the bill. which, by the way, he had no right at all- have given my London agent orders to De Talor turned almost livid with fear, "Bayette, Bayette! 'Then he turned and foreclose, for I don't conduct such business and his lips and hands began to tremble.

Mr. de Talor fidgeted his legs about.

De Talor turned pale. "Foreclose! Good God, Cardus! it is not possible, on | round him, with the melancholy black eyes | lands was mentioned. It was said that "There goes our last link with South a fact. Business is business, even where | "Among your friend Jones' papers. You thus put an absentee to expense. To us it exclusive consideration.'

Mr. de Talor owed his great wealth not | your landed estates at Ceswick's Ness and | Atterleigh. There lies the proof before | speculators a profit which becomes a tax to his own talents, but to a lucky secret in the neighborhood, amounting in all "- you. By-the-way, Jones need never have for all time on those who make the land the manufacture of the grease used on rail. referring to a paper -" to one hundred and repaid you that ten thousand pounds, for it productive. An effective remedy for the ways discovered by his father. Talor pere seventy-six thousand five hundred and was marriage-brokage, and therefore not grievance of farmers in this respect would had been a railway guard till his discovery | thirty-eight pounds ten shillings and four- | recoverable at law. It was you, I say, who | be to take all municipal taxes off improvebrought him wealth. He was a shrewd pence; or, reckoning in the overdue inter- were the first cause of my life being laid ments and put them all on the value of man, however, and on his sudden accession est, to one hundred and seventy-nine waste, and who nearly drove me to the land minus improvements. When farmers to fortune did his best to make a gentleman | thousand and fifty-two pounds eight shill- mad-house; ay! who did drive Mary, my | get their eyes wide open they will combine ings. That is so, I think.

> "There is no supposition about it. The her rest. documents prove it. " Well, Cardus ?"

Talor died, and his son succeeded to his cannot pay. I have instructed my London met, and, abandoning his usual habit, he towards midnight decidedly the worse for green and brown. large fortune and a railway-grease business | agents to commence an action in Chancery | looked straight into the eyes of the abject | wear. He might have fared pretty well which supplied the principal markets of for the sale of the lands, and to buy in the creature in the chair before him. property. It is a most desirable property." "O Cardus, don't be 'ard on me! I am | forgive, and let bygones be bygones?" father's shrewdness, and set himself to an old man now, and you led me into this Forgive!-yes, for my own sake I could said John. "I'm all right; how'self?

placed a "de" before his name, and assumed | "Mr. de Talor, I also am an old man; if dishonored and then killed, I will never you take off your hat?" "Sh! sh! my faille française combined with velvet and land, retired from the compact. It has for Viscountess Strangford. She died at sa a canting crest. Next he bought the Ces. | not very old in years, at least as old as forgive. Where are your companions in | dear; da'sh all right. I thought first would with soft shirred vests or plastrons of crepe | some time been known that the Archbishop | while on her way to Egypt. She was the

" I don't understand it all, Cardus." and fell in love with the beauty of the explain. But to do so, I must go back a Mary's life, but his ill-gotten gains did him neighborhood, Mary Atterleigh. But Mary little. Some ten or twelve years ago, you no good; a higher power than mine took Atterleigh would have none of him, being may remember," he began, sitting down vengeance on his crime, and I saved him that Bobby told me a deliberate story to at the time secretly engaged to Mr. Cardus. with his back to the light, which struck from the madhouse. And Jones' children, day?" In vain did he resort to every possible | full on the wretched De Talor's face, "that | they are here too, for once they lay beneath | "What's that?" said papa, looking means to shake her resolution, even going a firm named Rastrick and Codley took her breast. But do you think that I will sternly at Bobby ; " a story ? Do you 180 far as to try to bribe her father to put out a patent for a new railway-grease, and spare you?-you coarse, arrogant knave- know what becomes of little boys who tell pressure upon her; but at this time old set up an establishment in Manchester not you who spawned the plot: no, not if it stories?" (Bobby didn't know). "The Atterleigh, "Hard-riding Atterleigh," as | far from the famous De Talor house, which | were to cost me my own life, would I forego | lions and tigers eat 'em up. You musn't rival, Mr. Cardus. He urged upon Jones " Precisely; that was the mystery. I is a free country, but, if I had control of back them generally are, and pressure of a "In time this state of affairs produced In another second he was gone, and Mr. the mother of five children. He then bers for the new season. Many of these, most outrageous sort was brought to bear its matural results : De Talor's house was left thinking, among other married a widow, who had seven children themel very pretty, are quite inexpensive. upon the gentle-minded Mary, with the shopped up, and the bulk of the trade fell things, of that look in old Atterleigh's eyes by him. She died, and Whittaker entered The black underdress of silk, satin, or

"Yes, curse them !" groaned De Talor.

"Would you? I will tell you. The firm This cruel and most unexpected bereave. of Rastrick and Codley were-Reginald when he came to himself, there arose in his Mr. de Talor struggled out of his chair,

The wretched man shook his head. the heinous part that De Talor had played "Very good. Doubtless you are curious in the plot, and swore to devote his life to to know how I, a lawyer, and not otherwise the unboly purpose of avenging it. For connected with Manchester, obtained the a man of De Talor's wealth was no easy matter, especially when, as in the present instance, the avenger was obliged to work like a mole in the dark, never allowing his like a mole in the dark, never allowing his like a mole in the dark, never allowing his like a mole in the dark, never allowing his like a mole in the dark, never allowing his like a mole in the dark, never allowing his like a mole in the dark, never allowing his like a mole in the dark, never allowing his like a mole in the dark, never allowing his like a mole in the dark, never allowing his like a mole in the dark, never allowing his like a mole in the dark, never allowing his like a mole in the dark, never allowing his like a mole in the dark, never allowing his like a mole in the dark never allowing his like a man in the never allowing his lin like a mole in the dark, never allowing his made largely. But whether I have made enemy to suspect that he was other than a or lost, the inventors have, as a rule, never vanished off the face of the Kesterwick friend. How he ultimately achieved his known who was backing them. One day, world, and the Ceswick Ness estates, after one lucky day, this railway grease patent being advertised, were put up for sale, and Ernest and Dorothy had been married was brought to my notice. I took it up and bought, so said report, by a London firm about three weeks, and the latter was just invested fifty thousand in it straight off the of lawyers on behalf of an unknown client. beginning to get accustomed to hearing reel. Then I invested another fifty The De Talors were gone, where to nobody herself called Lady Kershaw, when one thousand. Still your firm cut my throat. I knew, por did they much care to inquiremorning a dog cart drove up to the door. made an effort; and invested a third fifty that is, with the exception of the servants thousand. Had I failed, I should then have wages were left unpaid, and the Conference is $1,500 and the use of a of narrow ribbon at the top just below the of late!" said Dorothy, who was looking credit to the utmost. But fortune favors owing. They inquired, vigorously enough, house rent, is $600. the brave, Mr. de Talor, and I succeeded. It but without the smallest result ; the De In boring a well near l'ine Grove, Esme-canopy tops of last year. Embroidery on "How? Has he grown less like a was your firm that failed. I have paid all Balors had gone and left no trace, except raids county, Nev, steam of a temperature crepe lisse, especially brown on ceru, in my debts, and I reckon that the railway. the trace of bankruptcy, and Kesterwick hot enough to cook patatoes was struck at small flowers, is used as covering over "No," she answered; "but he looks like grease concern is worth, after paying knew them no more, but was glad over the a depth of sixty feet below the surface.

a worn-up butcher about to go through the | liabilities, some stwo hundred thousand pounds. If you should care to go in for it, "Butchers never go bankrupt," said Messrs. Rastrick and Codley will, I have no Ernest, and at that moment Mr. de Talor doubt, be most happy to treat with you. It He wrote some letters and put them to go has served its purpose, and is now in the to post, and then he went to admire his Fashion orchids.

changed. The fat cheeks were flabby and De Talor looked at him in amazement. was so shrunken that he looked not more "So much, Mr. de Talor, for my share in the grease episode. The failure of your " How do you do, Lady Kershaw? I firm, or rather its stoppage from loss of saw Cardus 'ad got some one with him, so | trade, left you still a rich man, but only I drove round to pay my respects and half as rich as you had been. And this, congratulate the bride.-Why, bless me, you remember, made you furious. You Sir Ernest, you'ave grown since I saw you could not bear the idea of losing money; last! Ah, we used to be great friends then. | you would rather have lost blood from your You remember how you used to come and veins than sovereigns from your purse shoot up at the Ness" (he had once or twice | When you thought of the grease which had are you? given the two lads a day's rabbit-shooting). | melted in the fire of competition, you could But bless me. I hear that you have have wept tears of rage. In this plight you are you?

"Not quite accurate, Mr. de Talor. He paused for breath, and Ernest said a said-I remember the words well- You he said. man's flattery as much as in past years he | money-market; why don't you take advantage of these fluctuating times and pointing to the case containing the witch's prospect of gain tempted you, Mr. de Talor, people should be grateful to me, for let me head, "I see you've still got that beastly and you jumped at the idea. You asked thing that your brother once showed me; me to introduce you to a reliable firm, and pie order, and when I slip off you will have I thought it was a clock, and he pretty well I introduced you to Messrs. Campsey and > answered De Talor. "Rogues! I am sorry you think so, fo

"Well, notwithstanding the best efforts paler at this news, and it evidently occupied of Messrs. Campsey and Ash on your from the room without bidding them good- as you from time to time communicated to but who can see the future? Dolly, my When Mr. de Talor entered the office if you please, things went wrong with you, "you are growing like your mother. Do "How do you do, Cardus?" he said balance skeet was sent in, you found that far off her now? you see I speak plainly to "How do you do, Mr. de Talor "" was one unlucky day, about three years ago, you is, sometimes-that your mother was dust come for thee to die, and thou dost pass, as looked at the glowing mass of blooming and lost. It was after that, that I began ideas. I have seen," he went on, speaking the present state of affairs."

serve me. And surely, if I still live, then | "Then you are lucky; the bill my man | money? And think of my daughters, 'ow | find your mother somewhere, Dorothy, my shall I hear thy voice, and groan and die, gives me for my ouchids is something will they manage without their comfort ?1 dear. I seem to feel her very near me Give me time. What makes you so 'ard sometimes. Well, I have avenged her."

"No, Cardus, I didn't; business first, down the room rapidly. At De Talor's vengeance is wicked and wrong. I have words he stopped, and going to a dispatch- often made bold to tell you so, though some-"Yes," said Mr. Cardus in his soft, jerky | box, unlocked it, and drew from a bundle | times you have been angry with me, and I thy face again, () my father from the olden way. "Business first, pleasure after- of documents a yellow piece of stamped tell you so again. It can only bring evil paper. It was a cancelled bill for ten with it. What have we, poor creatures, thousand pounds in the favor of Jonas de | who do not understand the reasons of things, " If it be in my power, this I will do, | " Well, Cardus, about that mortgage. Talor, Esquire. This bill he came and held and can scarcely see an inch before our You are going to give me a little more time, | before his visitor's eyes. "That, I believe, is your signature," he

"Where did you get that ?" he asked.

"But if you foreclose, what is to become | change of manner, "now perhaps you | and sound. The county and township "That, I imagine, is a matter for your | down step by step; why for thirty years I | taxes on unoccupied tracts if our system of have waited, and watched, and failed, and taxation were not radically wrong. The His visitor gasped, and looked like an un- at last succeeded. It is for the sake of absentees are speculating in the uncarned ing; "on the whole, I am pretty comfort | fortunate fish suddenly pulled out of the | Mary Atterleigh. It was you, who, | increment, i. e., in the work and outlay of infuriated because she would have none of | wealth-producing farmers. The value " Let us recapitulate the facts. I have such a coarse brute, set the man Jones on added to vacant land by adjacent settleat different periods within the last several to her. It was you who lent him the ment goes to reward holders who positively years lent you sums of money secured on | money with which to buy her from old | injure the neighborhood. They pocket as betrothed wife, into the arms of that fellow, to impose land taxes in such a way as to whence, God be praised, she soon passed to destroy land speculation .- Toronto Globe.

> Mr. Cardus paused, breathing quick with suppressed rage and excitement; the large "Well, Mr. de Talor; and now, as you white eyebrows contracted till they nearly the surrounding towns who came home

Atterleigh is there; I did not ruin him, your poor mother. " It will give me the greatest pleasure to | because after all he was the author of one jot or tittle of my revenge! " At that moment Mr. Cardus happened to Bazar. pique, married another woman, who was Mr. Cardus smiled. "By all means look up, and saw through the glass part of only too glad to put up with his vulgarity curse them. But what did this enterprising his door of his office, of which the curtain and sold a grease superior to the article of Hard-riding Atterleigh. He appeared to Shortly afterward three events occurred manufactured by your house, at about be looking through the door, for his eyes,

"But I haven't any money; where am I "Wherever you like, Mr. de Talor; this but with the house of Rastrick and Codley. you'll get it taken out of you some day. I'm a thousand hills .- Heppner (Oregon) Gazette. to pay $400 for a small collar of old native glad you never got hold of Mary; it must to which he had devoted his life.

CHAPTER XLV.

MAD ATTERLEIGH'S LAST RIDE. A month had passed since Mr. de Talor had crept, utterly crushed, from the but his curiosity to know what was on that much used. the passion and object of his life. Birect. WYou look ill; may I offer you a glass presence of the man whom Providence had tag led him to get up again, light the gas, The tailors are making for spring wear appointed to mete him out his due. During and look. He saw printed on the tag : " Do covert coats of dark-green cloth, with strapthis time Mr. Cardus had been busy from not blow out the gas, or it will cause ped scams, double-breast and turn-over morning till night. He was always a busy man, writing daily with his own hand an ensation made by their disappearance. business seemed to come to a sudden stop.

" Life," he said aloud to himself, "shall be all orchids now; my work is done. I will build a new house for Brazilian sorts, and spend two hundred pounds on stocking it.

This was about five o'clock. Half an hour later, when he had well examined his flowers, he strolled out Titheburgh Abbey

"Pretty jolly, uncle, thank you, and how

" What Reginald, what do you mean ? tell you that everything is now in appleno trouble at all, except to pay the probate duty, and that will be considerable. I never quite knew till a week ago how rich I was; be a large fortune for you to manage, my | the patient of the male persuasion.' "Good heavens! what next?" groaned dears; you will find it a great responsi

"I hope you will live many years to manage it yourself," said Ernest. "Ah, I don't know, I am pretty tough them, and to which you can no doubt refer | dear girl," he went on in a dreamy way, you had lost more than you gained. At last, you two. Years ago I used to think-that to lend you money. The first loan was for in an absent way as though he were mediimperfect world, and I begin to believe that Ingoluvu, of the tribe of the Maquiffsini, "They have not cost me much, Mr. de where art thou, O my dog? come thou and Talor; I have reared most of them."

"O Cardus, you don't mean to sell me there must be a place where it allows itself up, do you? What shall I do without a larger development. Yes, I think I shall

"I think that you will find her. Mr. Cardus had been walking up and Reginald," she answered; "but your noses, to do with vengeance?"

(To be continued.)

"While the Lamp Holds Out to Burn." In the discussion of Mr. Balfour's Bill respecting line fences between farms the prejudice of county and township coun-Mr. Cardus regarded him, or rather all cils against absentee owners of unoccupied that never looked straight at anything, and | local feeling would utilise the proposed Act "Excuse me, it is not only possible, but yet saw everything, and then answered : to force the fencing of vacant tracts, and scoundrel!" he went on, with a sudden seems that the local feeling is entirely right begin to understand why I have hunted you | councils would receive power to levy special

An Oppressed Son-in-Law. They tell a good story of a man in one of " why didn't you take your hat off ? "S'h!"

Plainly Inherited. "l'apa," said fond mamma, " do you know

tel stories, Bobby ; it's wicked."-Harper's

A Good Catch.

Charley (to his pretty cousin)-Do you know, Maud, I understhand that th beautiful girl with Thmith ith baiting her trap for me? Pretty Cousin-Indeed? What kind of a trap is it. Charley—a mouse trap?

Panch, Brothers, Panch.

Bobby was at church for the first time, and, after he had dropped a nickle into the contribution box, he turned to his mother | bedraggled, and she sold it next day to a from measles jumped out of one of the and whispered audibly " Ma, that man didn't ring up my fare."

As to Spring.

Seven years ago Henry Whittaker, of | Black lace dresses are more popular than Syracuse, N. Y., was divorced from his wife, ever and are being made up in great numwhich he could not get out of his mind. into correspondence with his first wife, who stripes of satin and moire, is always quite Ah. I should just like to know who they Thus did he finally accomplish the revenge was in England, effected a reconciliation, plain, save for a narrow pleating at the brought her over here, and married her | foot. The French imitation of Chantilly > gas in a Chester hotel noticed just as the terns between; but the Florentine guipure attached to the burner. He got into bed, tulle with broad leaf figures upon it is also immediate death.

Sustentation Fund of the Free Church of lace dresses, and are even thought suitable operation of shaving gone through with. church when he could affairs by correspondence, but of late, his consecutive case in which the eldest male

Women Braver Than Men.

day, and, much to my surprise, he informed in front with a white daisy formed wholly me that women underwent dental operations of real pearls or enamelled; in the heart of much better than men. He said he vastly | the daisy is a diamond dewdrop. There is way, and here he met Ernest and his wife who had been sitting in their favorite spot. less trouble, submitted more easily to what was necessary to be done and bore the little hung around the neck by a thin, flexible was necessary to be done and bore the little hung around the neck by a thin, flexible hurts necessary to such operations with thread of gold. Massive dog collars set die greater fertitude. "A woman has much with gems still hold their place. more endurance," he said. "As soon as Among the lengthy lists of beautiful all-"I? Oh, I am very jolly indeed for an you begin to operate on a man's tooth he wool fabrics is a pretty white chuddah old man; as jolly as an individual who has begins to fidget and shrink, and every time cloth with fine arrete or herring bone just bid good by to work forever should be," you touch a tender spot he wants to jump weave, and a pretty way to trim the basque, out of his chair. His conduct makes the sleeves, panels and the border of drapery operator nervous and tired. The average | is with the soft, flat white silk braid that "Mean, Dorothy, my dear? I mean that woman, however, will sit through a whole comes already made into open patterns of I have wound up my affairs and retired on afternoon of drilling and filing and hammering at her teeth like a major. You are upon the gown. Another trimming is one able to do more satisfactory work for her, used to decorate many light wool dresses. and feel less fatigued when you have fin. in colors as well, is the rich white silk cord bred cattle, of Westfield, N.Y., was taken ished. A female generally gives a somewhat louder scream than a man when she has a tooth pulled, but she approaches the narrow Grecian border work to the most through the burning of a railway car. Mr. forceps more bravely and is not so apt to but, as I said the other day, everything I have the toothache scared away by the sight have touched has turned to gold. It will of the dentist, as is so often the case with The Day of Little Women.

It has at last come. The day of little women. All the fashions tend to make women look taller, all the Pompadour styles are being revived, and the coquetishness of that era adapts itself to the small women. Beautiful giantesses are not the vogue, and the time of the tiny creation has come at last. Of course she triumphs-a little woman could not resist that; of course, gawky, horsy, and all other abomi- wash and wipe upward. To fill the cheeks he could hold it. His boasting was soon nable adjectives that can be applied to that are growing hollow this is recom- punished, for the fuse exploding, carried off thine ears no more, since for thee my voice shall be silent forever. When the time has shall be silent forever. When the time has the cold reply.

The word, my father, and I will trouble that are growing hollow this is recommade a plunge against the advice, you may be word, my father, and I will trouble that are growing hollow this is recommade a plunge against the advice, you may be word, my forever; but of late I have changed my delights in using them. She goes in for or chamois skin will do—and put the end one of his hands, which could not be found, one of his hands, which could not be found, and mutilated the other as well as his face.

The word, my father, and I will trouble that are growing hollow this is recommeded: Take a piece of soft leather—kid and mutilated the other as well as his face.

The word, my father, and I will trouble that are growing hollow this is recommeded: Take a piece of soft leather—kid and mutilated the other as well as his face.

The word in the time has the forever, and I will trouble the cold reply.

The word in the time has the forever was performed. being immensely innocent, and would seem of it between the teeth; then chew gently Amputation of both arms was performed. to have followed the advice given in a upon it for several minutes, taking care not Hopes are entertained that one eye will be French journal, of which this is only re-

"Look confident and indifferent, express | ful plumpness the most hollow cheek. yourself simply, and with a voice as sweet as possible; be keenly alive to everything that passes, yet appear absent-minded; know as much as possible, yet please by asking questions. Having read everything, quote nothing; seen everything, appear ignorant ; heard all, always express surprise : desiring everything, ask for nothing. Be light hearted; preserve your beauty be indulgent, to attract sympathy. not force wit, always listen attentively ; be charitable for your own satisfaction. See things at a glance; judge quickly and think more quickly still in order to keep a clear

Perils of Showing Off. The showing off of a child's accomplishments is a very hazardous thing to undertake. We should all of us soon become sorry prigs if we accustomed ourselves to Koran of the Mahommedans, the Eddas of exhibiting our latest acquirements every the Scandinavians, the Try Pitikes of the ing suggestions as to the feasibility of time some one appeared who was not Buddhists, the Five Kings of the Chinese, acquainted with them. The temptation is the Three Vedas of the Hindoos, the Zenalmost too great a one, it is true, to ask the | davesta and the Scriptures of the Christians. happy papa and mamma to resist. That The Koran is not older than the seventh | Saturday brought forth three ginstly the baby who a few months ago could century of our era. The Eddas of the reminders of the Richmond Hotel disaster hardly speak at all should now be able to Scandinavians were published in the at Buffalo, in the shape of three charged replat rhyme after rhyme of the classic eleventh century and are the most recent bodies dug out of the ruins, one, that of Mother Goose is certainly a very wonderful of these seven Bibles. The Pitikes of the Lizzie Welch, a servant girl, the other thing, and it is very hard for the happy Buddhists contain sublime morals and without much doubt that of Robert S. parents to realize that it is a miracle which | pure aspirations; their author lived and Boyd, of Boston, and the third thought to has taken place sooner or later with every died in the seventh century before Christ. be that of Katie Kent, a servant. The sometime baby in the land. But if the The sacred writings of the Chinese are bodies are so badly charred and distinct d little songs must be repeated for company called the Five Kings, "king" meaning that identification can only be partial. it makes a great difference with what web of cloth or the warp that keeps the A most shocking tragedy took place at motive the child is led to go through with threads in their place. They contain the Conshatta, La., on Saturday aftern on, them. If you say to him: "Wouldn't best sayings of the best sages on the ethico- resulting in the death of J. H. School and you like to tell this lady about the poor political duties of life. These sayings can- A. C. Brown. Brown had become it as and little pussy cat who fell into the well?" it not be traced to a period higher than the against M. A. Cockerham, a son-in-law of may happen that we can get it out without eleventh century B.C. The Three Vedas Scheen, on account of some luit els having any other feeling aroused than one are the most ancient books of the Hindoos, trouble, and had been seen on the streets of friendly human sympathy. But if you and it is the opinion of Max Muller, Wil- Saturday afternoon inquiring for Collection say: "Come and let this lady see how son, Johnson and Whitney that they are ham. Finding him at Scheen's store, well you can say, 'Tom, Tom, the Piper's not older than eleven centuries B.C. The pistols were drawn and they began fair g Son," you give him a distinct and too Zendavesta of the Persians is the grandest upon each other. Scheen received a slet easily learned lesson in vanity and self- of all the sacred books next to our Bible. in the mouth, which passed through and consciousness. The Week's Fashion Notes.

Apple-green and chestnut-bronze are the favorites among the many combinations of Mousse-green and heliotrope is another had he not worn his hat to bed. This gave of these combinations that are pretty, as is "It's a long while ago, Cardus; can't you him away. "John, said the offended wife, a dress with dark heliotrope velvet skirt and overdress of Havana brown cashmere. forgive, but for her sake, whom you first "You are not all right, John. Why didn't afternoon costumes. These are usually of since, with the entire concurrence of Engguilt? Jones is dead; I ruined him. take it off, but was 'fraid I might wake up de chine, either pink or blue. Some of the of Canterbury has made up his mind to youngest daughter of Admiral Sir I might wake up > the cuffs and revers. purple from mauve to violet, is the rage. "Anglican Bishop in Jerusalem and the undertook for the purpose of exploring Costumes, bonnets, stockings, corsets and Elast." To make up for the withdrawal of Egypt and Syria. The sisters were absent silk underwear are in all shades of it. Cloth | the Prussian Fund, and to bring up the three years. They braved dangers and jackets made in sailor style are dull purple | income to £1,500 ($7,500), the Church Mis. privations, and both were rewarded for in hue, and heliotrope gloves have broad | sionary Society and the Society for Promot. | their courages by the recognition that restitchings of purple on the backs. It has ing Christianity Among the Jews have ceived from emment scientists Viseven invaded the prosince of the mascu- each placed £300 ($1.500) a year at the dis- countess Strangford's death deprives the line fashions. Full suits of silk under- posal of the Bishop. In addition to this poorer classes in London, Eastern I are pe wear in heliotrope are displayed, and the the Bishop is in receipt of his pension as a and Egypt of one of their best friends. scarfs and mufflers show the prevailing retired chaplain of the Indian service. The This accomplished lady, since her has > Haberton's "reform dress." She sent Egypt. Syria, Bagdad and Cyprus. He the most useful and admirable charges on over to London for one of the "divided | will reside at Jerusalem. skirts," put it on and went out for a walk. It began to rain. She tried to hold the garment up out of the mud, but couldn't. It was worse than the ordinary dress. cases on record has just occurred at Perig-When she got home it was terribly neux. A patient in the hospital suffering second-hand dealer.

adopt European dress has met with much | garden. He was at the time at the period opposition on the score of expense. Some of the strongest eruption. Awakened by Ethereal spring has spring: A few conomists have drawn an alarming picture | the pain caused by his fall, he walked patches of snow still linger in the upper of the increased cost to the nation, but an about in his night-shirt for some time, the "All right, Cardus : I'll go, I'll go, canyons, but the hillsides are spangled with | English observer in Japan points out that | thermometer standing at 8 degrees below lace embroidered in colors.

is the favorite lace, and the favorite pattern A Pennsylvania farmer who blew out the has longitudinal stripes with flower patflame was extinguished a little green tag is its rival in popularity, and the fisher-net tanners (failed); Toronto, Thomas Houston Mrs. Clute's screams brought the hired collar covered with velvet. These will be By the will of the late Alexander Adam, worn late in the season with any brown, at the barber's shop in town, and so the and he reached there March 1st. He never carried on all, or nearly all, his great paper manufacturer, of Aberdeen, the ecrn, green or black dress, or with black little boy never had happened to see the travelled on Sunday, and always attended Scotland benefits to the amount of $50,000. for putting on over wash dresses in the until grandpa shaved himself; and Teddy out-side this is the rolled over-one of green | ing frosting all over his face." The death by drowning at Sierra Madre, velvet. These are richly braided with Cal., of F. W. Gould makes the fifth | black tubular braid.

It is printed that the highest salary paid Methodist ministers in the New Hampshire Conference is $1,500 and the use of a parrow ribbon at the parameters are most High River commenced last week. This is nearly three weeks later than last year."

It is printed that the highest salary paid fashionable with large silver rings at the end. Full moire bons, to match the parameters in the New Hampshire sol in color, are tied at the handle, and one of parrow ribbon at the terminal sol in color, are tied at the handle, and one of parrow ribbon at the terminal sol in color, are tied at the handle, and one of parrow ribbon at the terminal sol in color, are tied at the handle, and one of parrow ribbon at the terminal sol in color, are tied at the handle, and one of parrow ribbon at the terminal sol in color, are tied at the handle, and one of parrow ribbon at the terminal sol in color, are tied at the handle, and one of parrow ribbon at the terminal sol in color, are tied at the handle, and one of parrow ribbon at the terminal sol in color, are tied at the handle, and one of parrow ribbon at the terminal sol in color, are tied at the handle, and one of parrow ribbon at the terminal sol in color, are tied at the handle, and one of parrow ribbon at the terminal sol in color, are tied at the handle, and one of parrow ribbon at the terminal sol in color, are tied at the termin proved Mauresque style, flatter than the satin, and there is a gathered and scalloped state worth nearly $3,000,000.

lace border. Black grenadine parasols are over red and pistache green, with a frill of lace and a light wood handle. Appliqu On Friday, April 1st, two Ingented hotel keepers named Marsden and Memurry embroidery on creamy white mall is on dressy parasols for midsummer, and many were each fined $50 for violation of the of white satteen with a gay border and a Scott Act.

TELEGRAPHIC SUMMAYR.

Wm. Keene, a young immigrant who David Pike, well known as an hostler at the hotels around Zurich, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a razor in bed yesterday morning at the Commercial Hotel. Dr. Buchanan was

On Saturday afternoon Mr. Geo. Weir. a wealthy farmer living on the 12th conces-ion of East Nissouri, about four n:il-s rom Thamesford, hanged himself in the barn with a leather line. He was dis-overed and cut down, but the doctor says his case is hopeless. The cause is believed to be the loss of some money and family

Mr. J. L. Northrup, a breeder of thorough.

fracture of the skull.

Cannes on Saturday.

this chasm vapors are emitted.

Germany.

The Pope has sent a confidential communication to the Prussian bishops, invit-

Prussia, or one nunciature for the whole of ous Career and Charitable Worls

vine or scattered flowers in the centre. Women who have long throats have came out on the Parisian while on his way adopted a pretty fashion of wearing a wide to London, Ont., fell off the train near velvet band about the throat, edged on each Pointe Claire and sustained a compound I was talking with a dentist the other | side with Roman pearls. This is fastened and silk gimp which appear this season in to the General Hospital, Montreal, on every imaginable device from the simplest Saturday, having been badly burned elaborate and intricate appliques in Northrup bought a thoroughbred bull from arabesque patterns. A pretty fancy is to the Pope Farm, at Compton, Que., for use these silk cords to form the whole outer $5,000, and was on his way home with it side of the sleeves, laced back and forth when the accident occurred. It is supposed and showing the bare arm between.

CURRENT TOPICS

It is said that wrinkles are due to the gradual wearing away of the flesh under. The foreman had taken out a short piece of neath the skin, because it has too little or the fuse for a blast, when a man named Caron wrong kind of exercise. Wrinkles of the took a match and set fire to it. The forcface usually take a downward course, due man shouted to him to throw it away in to washing and wiping the face ; therefore, the snow, but he would not do ity thinking to raise the teeth from the leather. This exercise, it is claimed, will restore to youth-

It is well known that the great Shakspeare was unhappy in his domestic relacovered these important facts in the Bacon cipher story. Perhaps Mistress Anne's band's equal. But that she honored his lapsed yesterday and fell into an inquence memory is proven by her request that she chasm which opened on the site. From be buried by his side.

THE seven Bibles of the world are the Zoroaster, whose sayings it contains, was broke his neck, causing instant death.

Brown received a shot in each arm, and UNTIL the death of the late Bishop, the after promiscuous firing on both sides the Bishopric of Jerusalem was jointly under men left the store. Young John Scheen According to the terms of the agreement upon the retreating form of Brown, who between the two Powers the right to ran to a store about 100 yards distant and nominate should be alternate. It was expired. Pressia's turn when this last vacation occurred. For various reasons Prussia re. Death of Lady Strangford-Her Adventer-Gray grows in favor for carriage and fused to exercise her right and she has more extravagant ones have a trimming of | continue the Bishopric, and acting in con- | Beaufort, K.C.B., and early in life desilver and gray lace around the foot, in a junction with the Archbishop of York and veloped a love for adventure. In 1800 she few loops upon the basque and laid over | the Bishop of London, he has appointed the | became famous through the publication of Venerable Archdeacon Blythe, late of Ran- two volumes of travel in the East, describ-Heliotrope, which includes all shades of goon, to the vacant see, under the title of ing a journey which she and an elder sister

Sure Cure for the Measles.

One of the most remarkable pathologica windows at 4 o'clock in the morning, and the Mediterranean on her way to I'ert Said The project of having Japanese ladies fell a distance of four or five yards in the waking the concierge, when he returned to of Dr. Ryckman's recent sermon on the bed. The next day his complaint had incense question his remarks elicited quite a Business Difficulties.

the faculty .- Galignani's Messenger.

The following assignments are reported : The Beecher Monument Fund in Brook-Ontario-Almonte, G. S. Chesterman, lyn has now reached $3,629.76. furniture, etc.; Farmersville, C. Kincaid. grocer; Guelph, W. M. Hepburn & Co., co: fined to the house with injuries inflicted boots and shoes; Kemptville, George Code. by a big rooster, which flew at her the other woollen manufacturer; Kincardine, Joseph day, knocked her down, and followed up Parr, hotel; Markham, Crawford & Co. | his advantage with beak and clays until & Co., wholesale woollens and tailors' | inl with a pail of water and a store book. trimmings; Woodstock, W. G. Boyes, books and fancy goods.

Teddy's Idea.

Early Sowing in the Northwest,

Dear me, how Mr. de Talor has changed been a ruined man; I had strained my tradespeople to whom large sums were parsonage, while the average, including ferule. The prevailing shape is an im-Smith's remark when a canine tried to take the nether garment belonging by right to the freezing point, until he succeeded in discloses some fine thought. In the course to open a new hospital.

It is becoming a not unusual occurrence in city churches to applaud the minister when he makes a particularly strong point or entirely disappeared. This mode of cure, lew taps of applause; but last night Rev. however, is not generally recommended by Louis Beaudry, in the Dundas Street Centre Methodist Church, was actually clapped. - London Advertiser.

the world. The Victoria Hospital at Cairo was her latect ereation. She gave with open hands and had the secret of making others give. She sacrificed health, abandoned the society which she had adorned,

and impaired her fortune all for clarity's

Applauding in Church, sake. She died on board the Lusiter in in

Mrs. Lemmel Cinte, of Ionia, Nich., is Fifteen-year-old O'Brien Atkinser, son of Col. John Atkinson, of Detroit, has just completed a horseback ride of 1.324 miles. On Nov. 4th he started along from his home Teddy's papa always gets his " shaves " | to go to St. Augustine. Fla., for his health,

" My husband is 'a very absent minded a cold.

The exercises of the Salvation Army are Calgary Tribune, March 26th : " Plough- classed as " shows" in Nevada City. Col.

the apostle of sweetness and light, and J. B. Lippincott, of Philadelphia, left an what is worse, deserves to wear it. Thus are the mighty fallen.

that the car took fire while some one was smoking. The car was totally destroyed and the bull reasted to death. A painful accident happened at St. Francois, Que., on the Temiscouata Railway.

left to the poor cripple. The Queen received the local officials and the chief English colonists at her villa at Lord Hindlip, formerly Sir Henry Alltions, and escaped from them as much as sopp, a member of the brewing firm, is he could by living nearly all his life in dead. He was 76 years of age. London, while his wife remained at Strat-The Russian Government has placed at ford. This old scandal is now revived, with the disposal of the police £37,000 to be used the addition that Mistress Anne Shaks- in unravelling the Nibilist conspiracy. peare was a very stingy housekeeper, a It is reported that Emperor Francis poor cook and kept a miserable table. Mr. Joseph will go to England during the Ignatius Donnelly, of Minnesota, is the queen's Jubilee if political affairs permit of resurrectionist who claims to have dishis leaving Austria. The fine Roman amphitheatre at Poli, chief fault was that she was not her hus. in Austria, on the Adriatic, suddenly col-born in the twelfth century B.C.

consecration will take place at Lambeth. band's death, has devoted herself to the Miss Kate Field does not believe in Lady The Bishop will have jurisdiction over organization and administration of a me of