THE PARISH BLOCK.

Our illustration this week represents the Parish Block, situated directly opposite the Gamble House, Main St. east, Farmersville. The buildings are of frame, and the part at the left of the cut was built in 1886. The ground flat is occupied by A. C. Barnett as a boot and shoe store. Mr. Barnett has been a resident of the village for a good many years, and is well and favorably known to nearly all the residents of the country round.

Mr. Parish's reputation as a builder and contractor is well known in the village and surrounding country. During the season he employs a large number of men, and as he personally superintends all work entrusted to him, it is not surprising that his contracts are carried out to the satisfaction of all concerned. This season's contracts include the new block of Messrs. A. Parish & Son, and residences for Messrs. John Wiltse, Joel Parish, Irwin Wiltse and Isaac Robinson.

of the exhibits would place the managers of the show in a false position, for we feel that the blame for the small number of entries does not rest upon their shoulders. If the agriculturists around Newboro have not enterprise enough to go to the trouble of collecting and exhibiting the products of their farms, gardens and dairies, who go to the trouble of seeing something of interest and amuse them, become disgusted and stay away in the future.

The show of cattle was fair, although the quantity of grades predominated over all the other varieties. Jesse Knowlton exhibited his two-year-old Holstein bull. A two-year-old Ayrshire and a grade bull were the only animals of that class on the ground.

Some very fair Ayrshire cows and heifers and a few grade Holsteins were also noticed. The Gananoque Carriage Co. had a fine display of their carriages on the ground. A Little Maxwell self-binder, and a few rakes, drills, and other farming implements made up the show to respectable proportions on this part of the grounds.

As we said at the commencement, the hall was well filled, but as our guide was not posted as to the names of the principal exhibitors, we are unable to give the names of the fortunate prize-takers. However, we will be pleased to publish the prize list in full as soon as the secretary can get it ready for the compositor. The show of horses was good, and some very fine animals were exhibited in the ring. Here, again, we shall have to refer those interested to the prize list. The great attraction of the Newboro fair this year was the family of French Gypsies and their bear. The family consists of the father, mother, and some four or five ragged and dirty children. A covered vehicle answered the three-fold purpose of parlor, kitchen and dining hall. The bear was confined in a rudely constructed cage, mounted upon two wheels and drawn by the sorriest specimen of horse-flesh that could be seen in a village travel. The crowd was called by a few toots on a trumpet improvised out of a cow's horn. "Tirty dinn" was the price demanded for an exhibition of the antique show, and for that sum the manager agreed to let the bear and a half-bull dog that was chained under the wagon indulge in a great big bloody fight. The tirty dinn not being forthcoming, the manager declared the fight off.

In strolling around the village, a person is struck with the steady, substantial growth of the village. Quite a number of new buildings are in course of erection, and others have been rebuilt and remodelled until they have lost all semblance of their former appearance. Amongst the many new buildings, we noticed the fine, new brick school house and a large, comfortable temple room nearly completed by J. Hart of the Ontario House. But probably the greatest change in the outward as well as in the inside appearance is that made in the dry goods, grocery and millinery establishment of M. K. Breeze & Son. During the summer, the whole building has been thoroughly overhauled and at the time of our visit was filled with a fine stock of goods. The millinery show room is fitted up second to none in the county, and if the fair honor to remain, we know that if another line of goods, that of gents' furnishings, were added, that the proprietors would soon have a large increase in the number of customers.

The third annual fall meeting of the Farmersville Trotting Association was held on their fine track here, on Tuesday and Wednesday last, and was in every respect successful. The attendance on the first day was not so large as was desirable, but on the second day there was a large number present, so that the Society will have a net profit of about $80. Sporting men were present from Oshawa, Ottawa, Montreal and other distant places, and the members of the Association have every reason to feel satisfied with the degree of popularity which their track has attained in so short a time. The entries were full, and every event was keenly contested. Below is the record:—

News and vicinity.

We are sorry to chronicle the death of Mr. P. McKing's youngest daughter, and the infant son of Mr. H. Tracy who died last week.

Mr. Donovan railway contractor and his men are with us again. Charles English, Civil Engineer, returned from Providence, R. I. last week. He will be connected with the railroad works here. We are glad to see his smiling countenance once more.

Mr. J. L. Webster is having grand success with his stoves and furnaces. Many sales were made last week.

The Ottawa boys break camp this week. They are jolly good fellows, and we shall miss them.
