Old Mr. McAmmond, father of Rev. Thos. McAmmond, died Wednesday last, of old age. Mrs. Dr. Ammond is the widow of the late Mr. McAmmond. The doctors have very little hope of her recovery.

Mrs. A. Churchhill is also very low, but some hope is entertained of her recovery.

The toboggan carnival came off last night. As the weather was cold and stormy it was a fizzle. We sympathize with the proprietor, also with the parties who took a long cold stage drive in order to attend, but hope they were amply repaid for their "Pleasure Exertion" as Josiah Allen's wife says, in their ride home; as our John looked larger than ever as he started for the homeward ride. We expect this would encourage them to come again.

FRONT OF YONGE. MONDAY, Feb. 12. Miss Eliza Wilson, of Caintown, who has been ill for some time, died on the 10th inst. at her father's residence. Miss Wilson was a fine young lady, and the only surviving daughter of Mr. Ezekiel Wilson, who has deceased. Mr. Wilson has the deep sympathy of the community in his sad loss. Miss Wilson was organist in the Presbyterian church, Caintown.

The union of the Front of Yonge and Escott will not be consummated without a struggle.

Mrs. S. Houghton, of Caintown, has not been able for some time to attend to business, but it is hoped that she will before long be herself again.

Mr. Shaver, of Junetown, sold by public sale, on Saturday last, his entire stock and will remove to Brockville. We lose a good citizen in the removal of the above named gentleman.

Mr. Chas. Trudell, of Junetown, is chairman of the Board of Health for the year 1888.

We notice that several prominent speakers will be in attendance at the box social to be held in Caintown on Thursday evening next. Farmersville will be largely represented.

SATURDAY, Feb. 11. - Our old friend Professor W. T. Hodges, paid us his annual visit last night, and was warmly welcomed as usual. Owing to the bad roads and severity of the weather, the audience was much smaller than usually attends his famous entertainments. Although not to be called able critics in this class of entertainments, we have at least the advantage of being present at numerous such performances both in the old and this country, and in our opinion Professor Hodges is second to none.

"The Halloway Crisis" was determined to fight it out at all lengths, and with this determination the cost was at once thrown off, and waxing wrote he made a pass at the "little un" but fell short. His next move was to grab the wood box (which he might explain was not bolted to the floor) and would perhaps have brained his victim with same, had not his pugilistic antics been cut short by the appearance on the scene of the aforementioned gentleman. We are pleased to learn that the matter ended to the present with no serious results to either party, and now trust that the well disposed friends of both will so far use their influence that a similar scene will not occur again.

IMPORTANT SUITE ON LIEN NOTES. A Division Court case of "The Massey Mfg. Co. v. Harper" has attracted considerable interest in Ontario, and we make room for a brief summary of the principal points of the case.

On the 9th of August, 1886, Isaac Harper, of Onabruk, Stormont, gave a written order to the Massey Mfg. Co. for a self binding reaping machine, the price agreed upon being $225, in equal payments falling due on the 1st of January, 1887, 1888 and 1889. A condition on the face of the order was as follows:

"I am to have possession and use of machine and machine is not to be used until the full payment of the price or for any other purpose than that for which it was made, until such time as the Massey Mfg. Co. shall give me a receipt for the unpaid balance of the price."

On the back of the order was the usual form which is filled up and signed by the buyer, giving a statement of his affairs in order to obtain credit. This form, however, was not filled in and was not signed by Harper. At the same time Harper gave the company three promissory notes for $75 each, payable as per terms of the order. On the face of the notes the following conditions were printed:

"In the event of the sale or other disposal of my land or personal property then this order shall become due and payable forthwith."

"The title and right to possession of the property for which this note is given, shall remain in the Massey Mfg. Co. until this note or any renewal is paid."

In Jan., 1887, Harper paid $30 on account of note matured, and in June following the company's agent took possession of the machine and sold it for $100, without advertising and without notifying Mr. Harper. In September the company entered a suit against Harper for the balance on all parties who took a long cold stage drive in order to attend, but hope they were amply repaid for their "Pleasure Exertion" as Josiah Allen's wife says, in their ride home; as our John looked larger than ever as he started for the homeward ride. We expect this would encourage them to come again.

Mr. Harter is now in charge.

REAR OF YONGE AND ESCOTT COUNCIL.

The Municipal Council of Rear Yonge and Escott met in the town hall on Saturday last, with all the members present. The minutes of the last regular meeting was read and confirmed.

A petition was read from Stephen King and others, praying the council to take steps to open up a continuation of Church street, from Mill to Sarah streets. The rev. asked Mr. King if Mr. Judson had been consulted about the proposed street and if he was willing to have the street opened. Mr. King replied that Mr. Judson objected to selling the land, but would take $500 for what was wanted.

On motion of Mr. Moulton, seconded by Mr. Witte, the matter was laid over until next session. At a later stage, Geo. P. Wright and Isaac C. Algrine were appointed a committee to examine and report on the probable cost of opening up the proposed extension, and also as to the proportion each person benefited thereby, should pay towards the cost of opening up the street.

A bill from R. B. Algrine (laid over from last meeting) for $15, for rent of room for holding Division Court, was read. Mr. Berney moved, seconded by Mr. Wright, that the bill be paid. Messrs. Witte and Moulton strongly objected to paying the bill. The House explained that if the bill was used it would come before Judge Reynolds who had ordered the rooms, and he was of the opinion that the bill had
