The other a great big policeman That he oft followed round on his beat. Why he liked the policeman I know not. Perhaps he folt safe 'neath his club, But the dear little girl often fed him And to her he gave all his love. He would watch hear her house till he saw! When she came not his heart gave deep moan and there he would stay, though the bad boys uld heat him and throw at him atones.

When she came out, then Neddy was happy At her side he would be without fail, Looking up in her face, running round her, Barking and wapping his tail. One day as the child played quite near him Much quicker than I can it tell, Neath the feet of a horse rushing by her Bleeding and wounded she fell.

Mon carried her home, while poor Neddy Was kicked when he tried to go in; But he would not go off, the' they beat him For he know she lay suffering within. Every night the policeman there found him Lying, whining across her front door, and the' this man tried to console him, ddy'; cries were as loud as before.

One night he stole in thro' the basement, Slipped in past the maid's blow and broom Then he ran thro' the house till he found he And noiselessly entered her room; Neddy jumped on a chair to look over To see her dear face in the bed; He looked - gave a howl full of anguish, Fell back-dog and child were both dead. THENE ACKERM itself, had fied now for Estelle. It was the standard of feeling are killed by coldness, as flowers winter of her soul, the was not be said that some held that he was not be sould be strange unknown by the forces with. winter of her soul, the winter of her discon- public opinion, wrought, as might be tent, which yet had in it something divine. Her lover was away, and the sun had gone like the change. By degrees, however, the his dreams. She was so- completely taken the lesson of the country place of the country place in the garden when the frost comes.

A NOVEL.

"endure what it once possessed"; and less, injured the innocent, or lured wife or hands held out. while the men dare and die, the women | maid to the undoing of her fair fame.

Bill No. 105, respecting the formation of the return, as the text books been the old friend expected, on Anthony. At first he did not been the old friend expected and desired of like the change, unknowable forces with new country place used in these schools were not under the lesson of the return of of the lesson of the return of the tent, which yet had in it something divine. expected, on Anthony. At first he did not been the old friend expected and desired of in the garden when the frost comes. out of her sky. She gave up society, and returned wanderer learnt the lesson of atack by this sudden shifting of the wind, small events swell into importance, like found the vicarege parties the very haunts proportion, and narrowed the wide gener- she was so embarrassed and discomfitted, those Black Crows of immortal memory. too clever to spoil the whole brew for want of went barefooted and whose cupboard often a little sugar. She looked narrowly after the wanted bread. He held it as part of the in his adopted vernacular. post, and let her daughter receive all obligations of his state as landlord and post-office, where she would have had no the principle, to contribute so many shillsupervision. What she would do in the ings, on sheir own side-representing future was another matter altogether. empty stomachs and shivering bodies, Meanwhile Charlie Osborne found his where he felt neither the outlay nor the -for parvenus. Of course they were pre- landlord nor a greedy, and his name stood tentious. That is the very essence of the high in the country for largeness of genercondition. For being afraid to show ignor- osity; but he learnt to curb his natural ance, and not knowing into what circles of instincts into exacter conformity with the tonation of that rich voice, or most admire corruption; by a ring in cotton, railroads, Instruction to the schools of knowledge high-bred people are in a manner public feeling and general action of his stocks—what not. In any case, there was; books used in the Separate Schools should materi. Eastern Ontario were inferior. The born, the parvenu assumes to know every- class, and something of the scent of the thing, and makes bad shots in consequence. | wild sage bushes passed off him. But they were substantially sensible people, and amenable. To yield apparently was | brave; handsome as a Greek bronze; with in reality to direct, as Charlie soon found | the eyes of a scout and the port of a king ; out, and safely acted on. When Mrs. supple as a panther and stately as a stag-Smythe Smith made her suggestions, which | Anthony Harford was one to move all were blemishes, and Mr. Smythe Smith women's hearts to love, all men's eyes to made his, which were suicidal, the young admiration. artist accepted them as though they were After he had got all his ow affairs in absolutely worth considering. He began by smooth working order, Anthony Harford praising them en bloc, and ended by deftly bethought himself of that trusteeship whittling them away to nothing. But he which he had to take up. He wrote to And how you used to kick and scream, and received, as of course, in this plutocratic Mr. Mowat-Respecting certain Acts remade the renunciation come from them as Mrs. Asplines cold letter of business details. their own spontaneous decision, and so He began "Dear madam," and he ended saved their self-love, his own credit, and "Truly yours." But at the end he infused the harmony of his ideas unbroken. Then a little dash of humanity, well iced, by now you are a young lady." they were generous people, and spared no hoping that her daughter, Miss Aspline, expense in any direction. And next to the was well, and desiring to be recalled to her air. It seemed somehow to rasp the fine social coffice of Mohammed, suspended through Committee of the Whole. pleasure of spending their own money is memory. The letter was purposely made edge of her modesties to remind her of between two spheres and belonging to that of manipulating other people's-a incomplete and somewhat disappointing. those inconsiderate times. She was still neither. They were above the need of such pleasure of which Charlie was keenly He thought it would probably bring a the same actual creature as the humanized patronage and instruction as Caleb Stagg offences under Provincial Acts was passed conscious, and by no means shy in its use. request for a personal interview, which puff-ball who had been tossed up in the air required to make him in any way passable, through Committee of the Whole. Mr.

him greatly, and made much of him in all she wished she had left out the boiled. ways. Not Estelle herself touched that "He seems rather confused," said Anne, irritable self-love of his with a softer hand following her mother's lead at discreet Charlie himself was not ashamed to own | the second rain-bow repeats the first. as kind, just as satisfactory. forgot her, and wrote to her at the first language by now." on with the most lovely and consoling an air of deliberation.

of the poison of deepair and more of the Mrs. Aspline, with an air of conviction. honey of hope in his letters. This volunfor an indefinite time from the man she hated trouble and dreaded travelling. happy in any sense. So time passed, and the autumn and the "It will scarcely do for us to present a winter flowed once more into the spring, savage to our friends," said Mrs. Aspline, and still things were exactly where they | dubiously

were. The grand house in Piccadilly was Smiths would soon move into it. Charlie | it would brighten up a little." had made a good "hatful" of money, as he phrased is, and he had been careful-for a young artist-and not extravagant. But a shunder bolt fell out of the blue; and a cloud at first no bigger than a man's hand | Aspline, warmly, soon swept over the whole sunny south. Charlie's health, which had long given Mrs.

herself ill in sympathy with her absent | done. So perhaps I may venture." lover, feeling sure that it was illness with "I think you may," said Anne, in her At her instance Lady Elizabeth took it on | could scarcely repress the glad smile and herself to write to Mrs. Smythe Smith, frank exclamation which rose naturally to making general inquiries as to the work, | her lips. their artist, and when would it be finished, " and as you say, he is a Harford not an etc., etc. All meaning the one simple Aspline. Thrift condenes a great many be satisfactorily settled. little question, "Why has not Charlie faults."

as he was able to bear it they were going and written in Mrs. Aspline's scratchy, to put him on board their steem-yacht | fugitive kind of hand, which gave top loops

There was no help for it. Nor tears nor space as any one else would have taken. vessel as good as new without absence, I wonder what I shall find ? Whether little

So Lady Elizabeth argued, doing her lots-hands down ? " best to comfort poor Estella, who, unselfish and unexacting as she might be, yet felt as if this voyage were the doom of her eternal separation, and that she would at her feet, and happiness was but a broken formalities usual among civilized people, as bubble. Her life was widowed; her soul bouching the relations between guest and wrought by time, and feeling for the ground "I know I know that into eternal mourning. Hence- both, and set out for Hindfleet without notice still left common. His central point was the two drinks," forth she had only memory and her own given or time appointed? Even proud folk passionless stoicism of an Indian. Even storage of the storage

Charlie going away for perhaps a year, He wanned to take his old friends perhaps two-ill, unseen, unkissed, bearing unawares, so that he might test them by that with him only her heart and all her joy most treatworthy of all personal litmus what solace could she have? Not even papers surprise. It was the old parable of her mother's increased tenderness much the Virgins—had the Asplines preserved their oil of affection for him, or had they inckness came, and what had been only | washed it ?

BOOK SECOND. CHAPTER L.

In the country where they lived, Harfords had that character for eccentricity which belongs to all people of originality of thought or marked individuality of character. Strong, energetic, undisciplined, as lads they ran away from school; as men they shot big game and sought adventure in the wilds. All sorts of wild traditions loated through the family annals. A white man had been heard of as a medicing-man of nower among the Blackfeet Indians, and he was a Harford. The most daring pirate in the Chinese seas was said to bean Englishman, and if so, who could be be but a Harford? The mysterious Europeans always turning up as Mohammedans, in to a man; and there was never a time when there was not a Harford, under another pame, in the workinghouse or in prison driv. name, in the workinghouse or in prison, driving a cab, or sweeping a crossing. In short they were the modern representatives of

Crusaders, the Uscoques, the free-lances of all times and nations. But they made good members of society when they did settle down; and as owners of the cetate not of the same kidney themselves. The Jack Harford who had just died had been in his youth quite up to the family traditions for wildness, which had not prevented his marrying a well-conditioned Hindfleet would be to him what the old studied from the living page of nature and lady, who gave him two children, and then | Hall had been-his home; and the Asplines | humanity ? Was Charlie Osborne's artistic year the widower married again. Which second marriage, adding fuel to the fire of and whispered in a voice of conventional of in the same breath as this other s deadly wild Harford blood, sent Anthony off on | horror: "Anne, I do verily believe that encounters with the bush-rangers and his unauthorized travels when he was eighteen, whence he did not return till brought back by his father's death and

For the first months more pressing Hidden in the wood from all eyes but business than that Aspline trusteeship those of the Great Mother, poor Estelle was | took up his time and absorbed his attention breaking her heart, yet doing her best not There was his father's widow to deal with; to be too selfish in her sorrow. It was for all his half-brothers and sisters to see; Charlie's good in every way that he should | their claims to look into-to dispute when into the semi-darkness of the room. have this splendid commission; and she he could, and to settle with as good a grace knew as well as he that it was for her good | as might be when he could not. Not that soo in the end. Were not their lives essenti- he was close-fisted, nor yet selfish; but he ally one, although to all appearance as yet had ever cherished that old mesentment divided? Still, the moment was bitter, and against the marriage which had landed Estelle was not ashamed to suffer. Those | him in the Wild West of America so soon as two young creatures in the wood went he had got his head; and he was reconciled the moment came when they must absolutely No man who had ever crossed Anthony And how alender that round little puff. it less had she known that Anthony part-his face turned to the mighty world | Harford's path, or inflicted on him any kind | ball looked, outlined against the fire, which | Harford had come in the mood which of London, where he should find the grand of loss or wrong, had lived long to celebrate touched the edges of her dress and figure makes a marrying man—that mood which anodyne of work and the noble stimulus of his victory. But with all his flery passions with a kind of flery glow-half flame, half looks for causes of content and admiration active endeavor-she to the restricted life he had kept his masculine integrity withof home, where her mother would not be out a flaw, and the man did not live who "Why, here you both are, just as in old fed his nascent fire with but a sprinkling so it is. The weak one is ever singled to funked or ever lied," had hurt the defence-

His return to old scenes and the con-Spring and summer, and even autumn sciousness of responsibility, together with by a liberty and stiffened by long absence; For minds have facets which reflect

Brave as a lion, and as strong as he was preserved woman on the right side of forty, His little ruse had the desired effect. had taken an immense fancy for this handsome artist, guest, and friend. She His letter piqued and annoyed Mrs. willed herself his mother, and treated him | Aspline : it piqued and disappointed Anne. | throne on those broad shoulders-and who with as much affection as she treated her "This man is going to give worlds of had even been carried pig-a-back, and kissed own son, Lawrence -a tall, well built young | trouble, I can see that !" said the mother, by those now bearded lips scores of times athlete of twenty, who looked more like her her face flushing seriously. "He is as younger brother than her son. She petted | stupid as boiled owl !" she added. And then than did this wealthy parvenue, whom distance, echoing her thought as faintly as into her heart. " I shall have to go to London to consult On his side Mr. Smythe Smith was just Mr. Niemand," said Mrs. Aspline, psevishly. "I should so much like to have another

To do Charlie justice, nothing of all this trustee ! This savage will never do any touched his fidelity to Estelle. He never good. I dare say he has forgotten his own thony. frantically and frequently; as time went "He writes correctly," said Anne, with regularity, but not so often, and with less | "Oh! his bailiff wrote for him," said "If I were not afraid of his habits I ary confidence and atrict association made | would ask him to come here, and we could her very happy -so as a girl separated | talk matters over," said Mrs. Aspline, who passionately loves, and with whom her "I dare say he would be bearable," engagement is in secret and against her returned Anne, who secretly wanted him mother's permission, can be said to be to come, and privately intended that he should be asked.

"No," said Anne; "unless he amused now almost finished, and the Smythe them. And Kingshouse is so dull, perhaps horses are superior to any in the world!" the leading events of the period indicated, " But if he is horrid in his habits, Anne? objected her mother.

"We must tell him," said Anne. "I am sure I would not !" said Mrs.

"I would if you like," said Anne, calmly, "Well, Anne, if you like to take the for most else. So I tell you." Smythe Smith uncasiness, though he him responsibility of the creature, I am sure I do self made light of her fears, suddenly gave not mind," Mrs. Aspline returned, after a way with a run, and a broken blood-vessel | moment a pause. " Bad as harry likely brought him to the brink of the grave and | is, Thirft is a lovely place, and the old family name is worth something, though As no one knew of his engagement to the Harfords are such a queer lot. We Estelle Claricarde, there was no one to are not responsible for him, after all. He write and tell her what had happened, nor stands on his own feet. He is not like a what was the reason of this sudden nobody whom we introduced and vouched cessation of letters. The poor girl fretted for. He is a Harford when all is said and look.

Osborne written for so long to Estelle | Hence it came about that Anthony's wish was fulfilled, and that a letter of as he dressed for dinner, and took more solved that he would have the old man's city of Toronto Registry-office. Then Mrs. Smythe Smith answered, invitation was sent to him at Thrift-a and the sorrowful truth came out. As soon | letter almost as coldly worded as his own and send him round the world with their | to all her consonants and lower twists to all her vowels, and took four times as much prayers can stay the tide, put back the "Good I" said Anthony Harford, when hand of time, nor make that broken blood- he received the letter, " I will go next week. care, and long delay. As things were, it Anne has grown into a bright girl or is a was a merciful ordering of Providence that little ouss, and whether Cookey is as fat Charlie had such good friends—people both as she used to be when she gave me cakes the best of him."

But when the need.

But when the had set in between

CHAPTER II.

Was it from ignorance or design that The days passed, as these first days of "What act is this? The fourth?" ermore see her beloved. Hope lay dead Anthony Harford dispensed with the meeting between old friends long separated "No; it's the third." was now-devoted to Charlie and to Charlie Anthony, though prouder than most, had thus condescended.

He wanted to take his old friends the swilight of hope unfulfilled was now the midnight of despair, and a darkness what is called a "marrying man" which no star melted, and not even a meteor girl who presented herself. Hence it was scalned a man for his persons and he took the train to Kingshouse, drive

It was a dull winter's day, and the brist twilight was stealing on like a dusky web woven between sky and sarth. The whole scene, like the atmosphere, was so unutterably dispiriting that Anthony entally wondered if the game were worth e candle, while he muttered into his samp beard a few obj American complexion, and drew his fur-lined coat more closely over his broad chest. annoyed, and acknowledge his superiority. At last they made the lane which was so Deferential and full of thought for them as icturesque in summer, but which to-day was a mere way of slush and wreck, and "At last?" said Anthony, with a certain friend with a new face seemed to her grim humor. The servants were just beginning to close -as different from the "curled darlings" with light and warmth.

-his mind went back in parallel lines, and was their experience of "sets' and "dons" the past and present were equally distinct. room, looked at her daughter with dismay, soldiering at the Horse-Guards to be spoken creature has come unannounced. Who on Indians, whose treachery he divined, and, earth else would call on such a horrid even- | divining, frustrated ? ing as this, and be such a long time in the What Anthony thought of his fair hall? What a fool he must be! hiy word!"

flutter at her heart. And then conjecture was ended by the else to hear, nor used phrasss capable of servant opening the door, and "Mr. Har- bearing a second meaning. In all this he "You see, I took you at your word, and laughed at her in a good-humored but came right away without further notice," always rather earnest manner. said a richly toned voice, with an unmistakable American accent. Both ladies rose from their chairs, and | self to whom we never lie. went forward to meet their visitor. How If only he would have spoken and be stout dear old cookey had grown! She was | confidential-though to blame-she would again," he added, meeting them with both with ashes, the whole run of his thoughts

Then he said, in the tone of one making mouth whence it issued. By gambling, text books.

"Yes, I suppose I am taller than when working like and with those ruffians spoken books used in the Separate Schools.
you saw me last," said Anne, not knowing of by Bret Harte—by striking ile"; by Mr. Ross (Middlesex) said that the went away - just a baby," said Mrs. Aspline, | conscience, and whence it had sprung -in | eral institutions.

the straight, keen brows above. Why! you | of a German princess. were just a ball in my arms. I remember | Naturally the Asplines were "in society" how I used to toss you about!-- up to the | in Kingshouse, but they were not among skies and down again -as you used to say. | the more cherished members. They were | read the first time : you were a cunning little thing too; and links of friendship, for instance, as those palities of the Province.

Anne put on a dignified little look and They were slighlty in a false positionown, and grasped them with such a fervent | water-mark of even a country place. pressure-who had been carried in those strong arms and set as a little queen on her past counting. "I do not remember," she said, coldly. "I do," said Anthony, dryly. He dropped her hands, and Anne longer felt as if his eyes looked straight

"Why did you not give us word of your arrival?" asked Mrs. Aspline, hospitably represchful, "I would have send to the station to meet you." "It was not worth while," returned Ar

"It would have been pleasning," Mrs. Aspline insisted. "I found a buggy," he returned. "That horrid fly with a broken-kneed horse!" said Anne, with a smile that was essentially Presbyterian; (2) Every distinct years.

intended to neutralize the flavor of her slightly acidulated prudery "They mostly are in this old country," said Anthony, with a very pronounces drawl; and again Anne hated him for his voice; but how handsome he was! how well authority-none at all; and any interferhe bore himself! like a king for patent dignity and that superb air of self-respect which is as indescribable as an arome but | usurpation and wrong, which justified as visible as light. "Why, Anthony !" cried Mrs. Aspline, startled into familiarity. "Our English "Fact?" queried Anthony. "I reckon eliciting a good deal of laughter by his one of our mustangs would give the pick of | reference to the famous incident witnesses your old three legs as many points as you in St. Giles' on the introduction of the asked for, and beat you at a hand-gallop liturgy. He suggested that they should after. Have you a Mand S. in any of your kiss the memorial brass which marked the stables? No, Mrs. Aspline; America takes | spot from which the stool was thrown at the shine out of you for horseflesh just as | the Doan, and asked "three cheers" for "Why, you have come back more an the first Covenanter. (Applause).

American than an Englishman," oried Anne, with quite a nice little smile. "You bet !" said Anthony, briefly; and mother and daughter exchanged gianoss, which Authory smiled internally to see. "I will fool them to the top of their bent," he said to himself; "and if they see my game, they are cuter than they

But now the scene shifted altogether, and the ordinary routine of hospitality had to him, and in no wise treachery nor desertion. usual languid, dreamy manner, though she be gone through—the room assigned, the luggage, that one black shiny value, taken up, and the domestic programme arranged so as to include Anthony Harford as a guest and whether they were not pleased with | "I think you may," she said, languidly ; for as many days as he would care to stay, or until the terms of the trusteeship should

"I wish she were franker, with more go in her, more substance," thought Anthony, than ordinary pains with himself. "What a pity he is so Americanized He is not like an English gentleman," thought Anne, as she sat, her hands folded in her lap, and her opaque, white, squareshaped nails horribly conspicuous, while the maid arranged her hair, put in her earrings, and dressed her as if she had been a doll or a child. " But he is very handsome," she thought again; "and perhaps that bad he is our trustee, and I am bound to make

But when they met a curious coldness had sot in between them. CHAPTER III

He nearly coused Mrs. Aspline to topple off her chair in an apoplectic fit by his strictures on the House of Lords, primogeniture, the Three Hetates, and an Established Church claiming to be National in the face of all the other mote; and he pecalismed a silence like that of double when, no cop his audacious idea of a great English-speaking federation, he said that he trouid give the old country fifty years, and then she would be on her knees to the States, begging to be incorporated in the Union. And when Anthony mid this, is dead; it breathed its last to-day. ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

The following Bills were introduced and read the first tion: Mr. Ballantynt - No emend the Assess ever heen a favorite with her when a boy and Anne no longer thought him handsome.

Anne was as little given to hysterice as Mr. Leys -To amond the Act rest the spread of contagious diseases amo felt the went of uniflow in their new friend The following Bills were advanced he cibly cold and "abut up." Yet he bad To incorporate the town of Bracebric and for other purposes-Mr. Marter. To confirm the title of the Corporation the county of York to the York roads and the surveys thereof-Mr. Smith (York). To incorporate the Toronto Belt Lin Railway Company-Mr. Gilmour. he was, he was yet their master, and they To incorporate the Amherstburg, Lake Shore and Blenheim Railway Companyity, was a new sensation, which had both To provide for the extension of the waterworks of the city of St. Catherines, and for other purposes -- Mr. Garson.

almost the only real man she had ever seen To enable the town of Cobourg the Cobourg, Blairton & Marmora, or the Vikings, the knight-errant, the the shutters and light up the house as Antaders, the Uscoques, the free-lances thony entered. Already the hall was aglow on the screen are different from real things.

I times and nations. But they made with light and warmth. While he was taking off his coat, paying had mea dered this way, fresh from college opinion of this House it is expedient that the man, and giving curt directions about and she cricket-field, know of life as such a all police magistrates should make the were as hard on posshers as if they were his portmanteau—which he called a value man as Anthony Harford knew it? What same returns of convictions and fines imshould be published, and that all expenses in connection with the enforcement of the no more. She died when young Anthony would be as his own. But while this rush was about twelve years old and his sister Constance two years his junior, and next his heart, Mrs. Aspline, in the drawing- can go? Was Lord Eustace Inchbold's publication of these details would have a for the schools were English, notwithstanding almost of a burned-wood sketch done on the schools were English, notwithstanding almost of a burned-wood sketch done on the schools were English. against the Act.

but har own, and who she was her mother; but she, like that mo omething in his eyes and face that was by no means cold or restricted; and though they were so often irritated with him, they

To Anne this sense of power, of superior-

which bound Lady Elizabeth and Estelle.

(To be Continued).

Professor Blackle on the Covenanters.

Emeritus Professor Blackie lectured, the other evening, on the Scottish Covenanters outset he remarked that he did not think

men. He gave his right band to the Estab-

heart to both. He did not see much dif-

1688-be laid down three propositions:

people had a right to a national conscient

That was indisputable; let them deny it i they dared. (3) The Church was an eshical

ence of the State in the administration of regulation of the Church was an act of Jeany Geddes, whom he characterised as Burlington's Romance.

admirable location attracted the attention of the pioneer settlers, and the settlement

the country extended out from Burling.

Brantford and buried .- Toronto World.

them had got a little confused about the

In Gay Chiengs

Recent Scene in London, Ont.

Collector (to office boy) -- I have a against this paper. Can I see the busine

Office Boy (warningly)-Sh! you mush

Office Boy-We're rill nick, and the pap

" No, it isn't; it's the fourth."

"I know it's the third. I've you for the fun of the thing."

association or a spiritual brotherhood, over

Mr. Gibson (Hamilton) said he presumed the hon, gentleman meant that police maxistrates should make the same returns great importance to be taken up at as were made by justices of the peace. No stage of the proceedings. friends and hostosses was his own secret "Surely not," said Anne, with a slight only. He never made eyes at her, never said anything in a softer voice for no one accounts. The accounts were open to the ford" coming from the light of the hall was as straight and as uninteresting as hoped the hon. gentleman would not press a die. He criticised her freely, and he Mr. Willoughby said that attempts had

She could do nothing with him. She had to acknowledge that to herself-that inner nformation offered to pay for it. Mr. Gibson (Hamilton) said that all they had to do was to make a complaint to the through the old familiar tragedy; and then to his step-mother no more now than before. like one of her own butter-tubs set on feet. have been more content. Would have liked Government, and he would see that the passed. reason why the returns should not be fur-

The motion was withdrawn. rather than the reverse-and that had she House for a return showing a list of all and Muskoka-Mr. Mowat. her friend, and her father might not. But | could say that Anthony Harford had "ever | times, and I am right glad to see you of brushwood, and not deadened it down | text books for each of the first five years, again," he added, meeting them with both hands held out.

Mrs. Aspline had intended to be properly dignified, as became a lady a little offended by a liberty and etiffened by long absence:

With ashes, the whole run of his thoughts the use of which was compulsory on pupils and his estimate of her would have been different. He would not have criticised so much, and he would have admired more. Beparate schools. He said that the purious for each of the little fine letter were many. In 1885 the use of which was compulsory on pupils he issued a regulation declaring that English must be taught in every school within the Jurisdiction of the department. In Separate schools. He said that the purious first many is a supprise there were many. In 1885 the use of which was compulsory on pupils he issued a regulation declaring that English must be taught in every school within the Jurisdiction of the department. In 1885 the use of which was compulsory on pupils and his estimate of her would have been different. He would not have criticised so the little off and the little of chase of text books pressed sorely on companies-The Attorney-General.

control of the department.

The motion passed as amended. pretend you didn't like it, and then ask for age, but no one made much account of lating to incorporated companies; also to He said that some measure of this kind certain hours in any school in the city, and another disciple of the school. more. Funny little thing you were! But them-noone forged with them such strong amend certain laws affecting the munici. was necessary, and that it would be much Province. The Presbyterian catechism Mrs. Edwards grew worse, and regular

Mr. Mowat's Bill respecting appeals Mrs. Smythe Smith, too, a showy, well. was what he desired, and was too proud to by those two large hands which held her and they were just a line below the high- Meredith directed attention to the fact that in the chair. the Bill appeared to deal with procedure in criminal matters, a subject belonging to the jurisdiction of the Federal Parliament. The Bill to give representation in the Legislature to the district of Nipiseting was considered in Committee of the Whole and in Dean Free Church, Edinburgh. At the progress reported. The Bill to amend the Act respecting the Federation of the University of Toronto estimation; perhaps they got this in Free and University College with other univer- ores to market. Church estimation, but he was not a Free sities and colleges was taken up in Com-

The amendments to the Pharmacy Act lished Church, his left to the Free, and his were explained by Mr. Gibson (Hamilton). The apprenticeship clause caused conhe should not have been there on that siderable discussion. This clause compels ference between the two denominations, or occasion. Proceeding with his address- the student to serve four years as an the period covered dating from 1:60 to apprentice and attend two courses of lectures at the College of Pharmacy, making the course five and a half or six (1) The Scottish nation, as a nation, was

Mr. Meredith said that if the object was which the State or secular power had no poor student.

The clause was passed over. The committee rose and reported progress, after making some amendments. The House again went into Committee resistance and repulsion on the part of the of Supply on the estimates. On the item for maintenance and reoffended conscience of the spiritual protection of the pairs of Government and Departmental The policy used to be to survey the out. In pairs of Government and Departmental lines of such townships as were unfit for virus permeating the press of Canada buildings, Mr. Meredith wanted to know why some $15,000 had to be voted upon for repairs ings when new buildings were in course of

some time yet before the new building veys had been delayed. would be ready for occupation. He added that there was no truth in the rumors that settlers had settled in his county before who rallied in the defence of this country there was not sufficient stone in the Credit | surveys had been made; himself among | in its hour of danger. Look at the battles finish the buildings. Besides he was in a townships surveyed before settlements were Britain. If the French Canadian race de-

Early in the present century Burlington's | position to state that not a cent had so far | former been spent in extras. The committee reported to the House had been useless. and asked leave to sit again. ton, or Wellington Square as it was first | The following Bills were read a thi called. This name was given to it by Cast. | time and passed

Indians, on account, it is said, of his ad- | Act, 1888-Mr. Fraser. site of the village occupies a portion of the lington-Mr. McLaughlin. old Brant Block of 400 acres, being Indian Mr. H. E. Clarke (Toronto) asked reserve land. Close to the village is the whether the Government have received for settlement. Brant House, now used as an hotel, and copies of any resolutions passed by the Bar Mr. Meredith asked if it was necessary dictates of his conscience irrespective of which has since been enlarged and im- Association of the country of York, or the to go to Quebec for a surveyor. He noticed consequences. What he contended was, proved. Around this building the memory Canada Lord Law Amendment Associaof a tragedy exists, in which the warrior tion, or any other bodies or meetings of ship named after the member for Prescott in Canada, if there was to be a unification Keesport on Tuesday, and there success chieftain was the principal actor. A son of citizens of Toronto, and from whom, pro- hailed from Montreal. Brant, who was a desperate character, re- testing against the proposed division of the tempt Brant secreted himself in one of the for its object the promotion of the Torrens to take the same stand to morrow when of his country were in danger, as long as he housekeeper? rooms. This having no effect, the bold Act, and their objection was that the divi-chief threw open the door and ordered the sion of the Registry-office might interfere. The committee reported crowd to offer no further resistance, when with that object. The objection of the Bar to sit again. were taken to the Mohawk cemetery near | Bill before the House contained them.

in the prices therefor.

Dollie-" No. darling, but I'll slope with the Bill entitled "The Homselsed Exemption of homesteads would do much to prevent this depletion of the

in any constituency for the past twenty years, with the exception, perhaps, of that of his hon. friend. The homestead laws of the States all differed, and hence there was the Globe stated in etching of a langhing girl with her head contained the the wood; a silver chain and padlock is fastened from corner to corner below. And the States all differed, and hence there was time to consider such a measure.

Moreover, so important a measure ought, he thought, to be introduced on the responsibility of the Government. During the man was rapidly disappearing from the resting. Carved and enamelled fromes are credit of the Province.

The Bill was withdrawn. Mr. Stratton moved the second reading deterrent effect upon likely offenders by a general vote. The second clause the large French population. He found on the frame. A genre picture of a frog condeterrent effect upon likely offenders by a general vote. The second clause the large French population. He found on the frame. A genre picture of a frog condeterrent effect upon likely offenders by a general vote. The second clause the large French population. He found on the frame. A genre picture of a frog condeterrent effect upon likely offenders by a general vote. The second clause the large French population of the frame. A genre picture of a frog condeterrent effect upon likely offenders were of cert has a tracery of carving on its wide Public or High School trustee. Mr. Meredith considered the Bill

The Bill was read a second time and Government with reference to these ferred to the Municipal Committee. Mr. Fraser moved the third reading scrutiny of the public, and it would be the Bill to amend the Workmen's Com- E English, this North American continent possible with the yellow-brown tones of a absurd to have the reports printed. He pensation for Injuries Act. Mr. Meredith moved an amendment tions in the committee, providing that disastrous consequences would result. been made to procure returns from the want of the notice referred to in clause 12 Mr. G. W. Ross said the hon. gentleman and is carved without a break. The furclerk of the peace for his county, but to no shall not be a bar to the maintenance of an had confined his remarks to Eastern rows of the turned ground do the same. purpose, although the parties seeking the action if the Court held such want of notice Ontario, although there were French The farm-house itself encroaches on the had not prejudiced the case. The amendment was lost.

in the new districts-Mr. Hardy. Mr. Craig moved for an order of the Respecting the districts of Parry Sound as to the number of French schools in would have been accomplished.

Mr. Ross (Middlesex) said that there was no use for new counties, but if you are could be taught, and there were other palities of the Province.

Mr. Mowat's Bill regulating certain mat.

better for the people to have the say in the hours specified in the regulations by could be taken into any school at the physicians were again called, but they hours specified in the regulations by could not save her life. They say that ters under the Land Titles Act was passed have the matter, as at present, in the hands arrangement with the trustees. His hon. their failure was due to the interference of the Government.

prosecutions to enforce penalties and tained adequate protection for the people. to adopt a false inference. His hon. the woman's life for the reason that she Whole on Supply after recess, Mr. Harcourt | Catholic catechism was taught in school | the crisis came .- Syracuse Cor. New Mr. Meredith asked several questions There was a certain violation of the regula-

with reference to the building of coloniza- tions of the department in the French tion roads in West Algoma district. opened up by miners and explorers. Mines He had obtained text-books in the French | caremony-just in fun, you know; and it covered, and it was necessary that some and had sent them to the Central Com- some of the older people who heard of it means should be furnished for bringing the | mittee for their report. The prospect was | said we were really married; but we're not,

Mr. Meredith asked if it was true that have Frenchtext-books as undenominational Doting Mother-Ol course not. Besides, Churchman; he was only a lover of all good for a third reading

The following items for colonization | 101 out of 112 schools of Western Ontario; | owns a bonanza mine, you know." roads were then passed ; ... 19,100 | books were used in a similar liberal way by 36,490 the Separate Schools. The policy of this 95,900 General purposes to lessen the number of draggists the wrong of dollars were squandered annually in English as well as French. The depart- general and of ourselves in particular. method was employed, because the long useless surveys. Townships were sur- ment did not pretend to prohibit the teach- Therefore, be it

Mr. Wood (Hastings) said the Govern. schools in the country 200 years ago. They ment used to have a policy in this matter. | were the first colonists, and were entitled

Mr. Fraser said that it was a good thing | cast off its swaddling clothes! Talk of the the northeastern portion of the Province by the Anglo-Saxons spoke English, bull and the hide of a rhinoceros. Mr. Fraser explained that it would be now filled with thriving settlers where sur. and then talk about abolishing the Mr. Armstrong said that many thrifty should we speak unkindly of the people

Mr. Hardy said that if there was one thing more than another that redounded to by the bon member for Durham was one the credit of the late (ommissioner of of the greatest importance to this country. Joseph Brant, Chief of the Siz Nation To amend the Ontario Shope Regulation Crown Lands, Mr. Pardee, it was the fact He had placed his case clearly before the and healing. that he had expended so much energy in | House, but the hon, member for Middlesex miration of the Duke of Wellington. The Respecting St. Andrew's Church, Dar- opening up sown hips for settlement, had sought from beginning to end to make During his topurs of office no less that 230 political capital. He had a duty to pertownships had been surveyed and opened form in maintaining the integrity of the smashed to its original fragments.

Mr. Meredith said the subject intenduced

English language, and he would follow the

Mr. Evanturel said that the survey or could be accomplished would be by making them was a native of Morrisburg. The hon, gen | English the language of the nation. He scalp; actuated, so the story goes, by the desire for the chieftainship. Hoping the desire for the chieftainship the chieftainship the desire for the chieftainship. Hoping the desire for the chieftainship the chi

the would-be murderer rushed nto the room and was instantly shot down by the were needed to secure the efficiency of the aged chief. After the sale of this Indian | Registrars. He had found that the provi- in Ontario in which any language other | the people, conscious that he had done his manner will wear off in time. At any rate, reserve land, the remains of the chieftain sions referred to could be made, and the than English is used in the work of teaching, duty to himself and to his country. He five children. either wholly or in part. A list of text. contended that all schools receiving State It is believed that Postmaster-General Mr. Preston moved for a return showing | books in any language other than English | aid should be directly under the control of | Haggart will drop his proposition to inthe names of all publishers of Public School used in such cabools. The total number of the State. He believed that some scheme crease the rate of city letters from one to text-books, with the respective books pub-They were sitting in the theatre. One of | lished by them and the prices thereof. Also, The number of scholars in each of such | irrespective of race or offeed, would be | for copies of all correspondence by or with the Minister of Education or any officer of his department respecting the price or publication of Public Schools sub-lication of Schools sub-licat sequent to that already brought down. He said there was any desire to he were several blemishes in our Public School insult the French; far from it. Neither to he wholesale and resident to that already brought down. He said that great diseatisfaction existed in system which should be removed. said that great diseatisfaction existed in system which should be removed. He did he seek to interfere with their religion. said that great diseatisfaction existed in the country at the manner in which the school text-books were issued and sold. He referred to the changes in the readers and in the prices therefor.

Said that great diseatisfaction existed in the should be removed. He only looked to the interest of his country at the manner in which the wished to call attention to one of these blemishes, and not the lengt of them. Ontario was an English Province, and political objital would be made of what he political objital would be made of what he made of what he was satisfied that political objital would be made of what he was satisfied that political objital would be made of what he was satisfied that political objital would be made of what he was satisfied that political objital would be made of what he was satisfied that political objital would be made of what he was satisfied that political objital would be made of what he was satisfied that political objital would be made of what he was satisfied that political objital would be made of what he was satisfied that political objital would be made of what he was satisfied that and while French and Germans were welcome, and the country of th The motion was carried.

The motion was carrie the Bill antitled " The Homorood Exemp- lish language senst prevail. It was known him. The hon. gentleman (Mr. Evantural)

enized the the report of hir. Dufort, the French In | BEALISM IN PROPERT BRAMES. inaight in their logislation on free grant spector of the seconds for Present and The Carver Called India Aid Fainter and nion there were exemptions on home-schools under his supervision, of which solds, and the limit was on the average only 31 had some knowledge of English. A Art in picture framed is getting very cout $1,000. His Bill embraced the best return had been brought down of corres realistic, according to the London Star provisions of the various American Acts. He made the exemption from seizure, etc., the inspectors of these countries, and the Department. In 1884 Mr. Dufort the exemption during the life of the widow of the holder. The property was not, however, exempted from taxes, nor from debts incurred before the registration of the proin French would be held in several of the other etchick for a hervers field is frame Mr. Fraser did not think the House counties. In 1885 and 1886 Mr. Dufort in chestnut with a scythe and rake in dul should pass this session so sweeping a mea-sure. The question had not been discussed of French books for the French schools, seer's dogs, fromed in oak for the hall, has additional reason for the Bouse having 1886 that the schools in the German a pillow is not marred at all by the frame recess the question could be discussed by schools. The facts he had presented showed putting ponderous gilt borders ont, of the public, and the Bill could then be reintroduced next session. Another reason some remedy should be devised. The quest gold, pale blue and pink, to suit Foundation why they should hasten slowly was on tion was whether they were willing to dour rooms. A water color marins view account of the danger of damsging the encourage we languages in this Province. has an enamelled frame in whitish green He held that the future interests of the tints, suggesting sea foam. Across one Mr. Balfour withdrew the Bill, express- Province required that there should be but corner is stretched a piece of net, and in posed by them in respect of infringements | Mr. Balfour withdrew the Bill, express | Province required that there should be but corner is stretched a piece of net, and in of the Canada Temperance Act as are ing the hope that next session the Govern one language in the country. In Quebec, the net streggles a fish with iridescent of the Canada Temperance Act as are made in other cases to the clerks of the ment would bring down a measure of the by treaty, and this point was, therefore, cord stretched about the frames, or care, beyond discussion. In the Indian schools | harpoons and anchors applied in dull silver. the use of English was insisted upon, and The carved frames are more elaborate. an inferior class, and knew little of the flat frame, showing water week, lily-pods practical use of English. Mr. Laurier, in and notes of the batrachian music. Harhis Toronto speech on December 11th, 1886, vesters at work in the field have carved stated that matters must be taken as they frames showing heads of grain. But the

being essentially English. He contended in | that the English language should and must | the direction he had indicated in his object be the language of our Public Schools or lane, a ploughed field. The lane runs schools in Essex, where the teaching was wood, and the fence at its side and the in the English language in English reading | trees which overhang it are wholly carved. The Bill was read a third time and and composition. He failed to find in the | So with an old boat which a peasant woman old regulations of the old Council of Public | is pulling. The bow is photogravure, the matter was attended to. There was no The following Government Bills were ad- Instruction an obligation to teach English stern is carving. The wayst are half of in the French schools. This absence of | them carved. The woman's right oar be-Respecting damage to lands by flooding | rule allowed purely French schools to mul- | gins in the picture, but its blade is carved tiply. When he assumed office he inquired | in the frame. which English was not taught and found For enforcing orders under the Act to his surprise there were many. In 1885 who is -Respecting the powers of electric light | 1887 a return brought down showed there | is a type of thousands of young girls who were only 27 schools in which English was are emerging from the chrysalis stage of parents. With regard to Separate schools | Mr. Ross (Middlesex) resumed the debate | not taught. In November of the same year | their existence, as they enter upon their were clauses in the Bill that guarded against | in Prescott and Russell, and Mr. Dufort | girls need the tenderest care, the most lov-Mr. Ross (Middlesex) said that he would unjustifiable interference with old county confirmed this by reporting that English ing, patient oversight, and the aid of Dr.

of dulness and the homes of ennui. She lost all vital hold over herself, and The fact of Anthony Harford's arrival at have no objection to the motion provided lines. He showed that the will of the motion provided lines. He showed that the will of the motion provided lines. He showed that the will of the motion provided lines. He showed that the will of the motion provided lines. He showed that the will of the motion provided lines. He showed that the will of the motion provided lines. He showed that the will of the motion provided lines. He showed that the will of the motion provided lines. He showed that the will of the motion provided lines. He showed that the will of the motion provided lines. suddenly became miserly of time, and her fitted to home life. He no longer thought could only save herself from open confusion | Hindfleet went, the round of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended it to read | majority of the restricted | the hon. gentleman amended | the hon. gentleman amen diligence at home was really edifying to the diligence at home was really edifying to the whole household. Mrs. Clanricarde was far pounds a year from laborers whose children ance of icy insensibility. "Only a little cass," thought Anthony, Rumor turned her magnifying glass chiefly without the consent of the local trustees. of ratepayers in the majority of the munion his fortune. That Thritt was a fine When a change was suggested and a new cipalities had decided that a county was Gaelic inspectors. to womankind will prevent all such diseases, Only a cuss, but how pretty! And where property as well as a pretty place, every book authorized, the option was to be ap- Surely then we could tolerate the study or ourse them if they have already seized a Charlie's letters unintercepted, knowing that to have prevented their first deliveries would have simply created an undergrond would be a contribute of the county judges of French Causanians. In Wales, too, the cities the man for whom a woman's beauty one knew; but the provide the county judges of French Causanians would be consisting of three county judges of French Causanians. In Wales, too, the cities the man for whom a woman's beauty one knew; but the provide the county judges of French Causanians. In Wales, too, the cities the man for whom a woman's beauty one knew; but the county judges of French Causanians would be consistent to use the cities to He shook hands with her as warmly as was another. How the private pile had price of text books. With reference to the the minor defects. If a Bill were furnished England remained unshaken on her sure means of oure. "Favorite Prescripgood breeding allowed. He would have been made was the great Proteus of Separate schools he would furnish all the giving counties a fessible method of decen- everlasting hills. In Nova Scotia tion" is a legitimate medicine, carefully made his hand press warmer had he dared. conjecture, which changed its shape in each information possible on the subject of their tralization to suit local conveniences much there were schools in which nothing compounded by an experienced and skilful but French was taught. The law of Ohio | physician, and adapted to woman's delicate place in London one after his own heart. Saving more than he felt the weight of a discovery, "Why, you have grown right the Smythe Smiths were charming people in the Smythe Smiths were charming people than the felt the weight of a discovery, "Why, you have grown right the municipalities and towns were against Public schools when demanded by a certain composition and perfectly harmless in its the Bill. All the towns said was, "We have | number of residents. In Louisiana French | effects in any condition of the system. whether to most dislike the American in shoddy; by slave dealing; by political seneral minute of the Council of Public going to give us a Bill we want to be a instances of similar toleration. He (Mr. Ano her Martyr of the "Christian Science" "She was only a tiny mits when you and how heavy it lay on its owner's reflect on our constitution, our laws or genas her contribution to the inventory of what alongh of sin and crime its roots Mr. Meredith said that although per. stop. It would continue forever under the quite up to the average. Inspector Sumwere planted—all these were his affair and haps it was out of place for him to bring present Bill. A few ambitious active men merly showed that the French schools sgency of faith. About six weeks ago she "Yes, just a baby," said Anthony, still no other person's. The one thing certain the matter into the present discussion, he in a small town anxious to be county were not much behind the others. At went to Utica to treet a patient. While holding Anne's hands and looking into her was that pile, which made the income of wished to say that he believed that every clerks, registrars or sheriffs could circulate L'Orignal the difficulty arose out of a on her way to the cars to return home she pretty face with his searching eyes, a little the owner of Thrift of more value than a school receiving public money should have a petition among the farmers, and with a national fight, in which the French got the fell and broke her hip. She was immedeep set in the orbid, and overshadowed by Scotch duke's, and worthy the conderation its text-books under the control of the Gov. few plausible words get them to sign it, better and forced the Protestants to found distely brought here, and two physicisms forming a new county. Another wrong was a Separate school. As to the book from were called in and reduced the fracture. that, under she Bill, four municipalities which his hon. friend read, it did not Then the Christian Scientists took charge The following Bills were introduced and could coerce three into forming a new appear to be a text book at all, but a book of the case, the patient being attended by containing religious instruction, which it Mrs. Ellen E. Cross, principal of the

Mr. Wood (Hastings) supported the Bill. | would be remembered was permitted at | Academy of Christian Science in this friend had therefore not been frank in his of the Christian Science people. The Mr. Rorke did not think the Bill con- statement, because he had led the House | " Scientists " say they could not save The House went into Committee of the friend could not show that the Roman did not have sufficient faith herself when hours. He dare not make the statement. | Sun. schools of Eastern Ontario, in that they need Mr. Hardy said that the country in that | French text books not authorized, but books | the party ! Young Smith proposed that he section of the Province was rapidly being authorized for mixed schools in Quebec. and I should go through a mock marriage

Clara-Oh, mother, we had such fun at untold wealth were daily being dis. language used in the Maritime Provinces, was too funny for anything. Afterward,

Resolutions. department was that no teachers should be Whereas, we are a free and enlightened s 98,150 allowed to teach in the Public Schools people, and in duty bound to take the great-Mr. Clancy pointed out that thousands unless they were as competent also to teach est care of the health of the community in term of service would be a hardship to the veyed every year that would never be fit | ing of the French or the German languages | Resolved, that in all cases where we are of the Public Schools. He could not under- | afflicted with constipation, inactive or dis-Mr. Murray said he hoped the Govern- stand this crusade against the French, eased liver, biliousness, derangement of the ment would continue the surveys until treating them as an alien race. The coun- stomach, joundice and kidney troubles-wa every township in the Pravince was sur. try belonged to the French years before the will procure Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets English ever saw it. They established and use the same immediately.

Old Lady-"My dear, do you really lines of such townships as were unfit for virue permeating the press of Canada think you are fit to become a minister's which would never permit the country to | wife ? Engaged Niece (from the West)-" Yes.

$500, or Cure Your Catarrh. For a long series of years the manufacturors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, who are thoroughly responsible, financiatly, as quiry, have offered, through nearly every Mr. Clancy held that half the surveys other Provinces, Confederation would be of $500 for a case of nassl catarrh, no matter how bad, or of how long standing, which they cannot care. The Remedy is sold by all druggists at only 50 cents. It is mild soothing, cleansing, deodorizing, antiseptic

Heroine or Fool ? Miss Lowe, a pretty 17-year-old girl of Latonia, Pa., eloped from hat place on Monday with Frank Forsyth, a man who had lost both legs above the knees. girl had to push the wheeled chair a

A Baltimore tailor is the father of twenty are, and that the English language must be most radical of all steps is taken when the the language of the masses. It was to the carved frame not only schoes but actually of | advantage of the French people to be taught | continues the picture. This is most emily photogravure. A landscape scene shows you a farm house in the distance, a country directly toward you, projects on the frame, Longfellow's Maiden.

Mrs. Mary C. Edwards, who has just therefore that in a short time they would are we?

Mr. Hardy said that such was not the | with regard to the Separate Schools the | "Oh, it wasn't that Smith. It was the Public School series of readers was used in other Smith from Gold City, the one who the history of the Public Schools used in 97 | "Eh? That Smith! My dear, a marg 15,700 | Separate Schools, and various other text. | risge like that before witnesses is binding."

and maintenance of the Parliament build- that the Government had not retained this superiority of the Anglo Saxon! Why, indeed. I don't mind being talked about policy. There were dozens of townships in not one-third of the people dominated that at all. I've got the energy of a buffalo French in this insignificant country. Why Valley quarries of a certain quality to the number. It was better to have the they fought to preserve this owntry for any one can easily ascertain by proper incided to have nothing else to do with the

of the rac s, the only manner in which it fully sluded the officers who were after

son would desist from his murderous at- Land Law Amendment Association had sion in Outsrio. If so, he would ask him his party, but as long as the true interests did you marry me because you wanted a was an humble member of the House, Her husband (mildly) -" No, my dear" The committee reported and asked leave just so long would be continue to raise If I'd wanted a housekeeper I should have his voice on this question. If the result | married some one who knew how to keep