COUNTY NEWS.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR STAFF OF CORRESPONDENTS.

ELMER MILLS.

MONDAY, March 17.—Lark is all up and end this week. Joe has been through and is clean up, for those he found to be a good price. One gentleman says he will draw milk on the road for half price. Charlie says that if he can't draw when on one wagon he will hitch on two. Joe will have to keep his windmill in good running order. We are in hopes that the law business will blow over; then it will be calm. Mr. Randolph is able to drive out. His feelings cheered as he is still on the gain. He says that Dr. Harte need not be so nervous because he has a good well on one leg he will break the other for the sake of getting him to set it.

FRONT OF YONGE.

MONDAY, March 17.—A large and influential company was invited to a social party at the residence of Mr. Alexander Thomas, of Caintown, on last Thursday evening, for the purpose of taking a farewell of said gentleman and family, before leaving for the North-west. Some 70 or 80 friends and relatives were in attendance to pay their last respects.

Maple syrup is very thin this spring.

Two men started for Brockville market not long since and, among other commodities for market had ten gallons of Molasses. When near Lya, the syrup was examined and pronounced too thick and the owner was advised to reduce the saccharine matter by adding one gallon of aqueous liquid to the ten, after which the passenger gave the above information.

Mr. Thomas Mallory has moved to the McIntosh Mills, at which place he will run the blacksmith shop in the interest of Mr. Fortane.

Mr. S. Hogboom has a hard time in conveying Her Majesty's mail between Athens and Brockville.

Mr. Thomas Mallory sold by auction on Friday last, the goods and chattels of Mr. Whitman, of Mallorytown, under a chattel mortgage.

WESTPORT.

SATURDAY, March 15.—It is reported that the new Methodist church will be dedicated on the 30th.

A sure indication of spring was seen on our streets on Sunday last, in the shape of a tramp who prevailed upon the generosity of our worthy citizens to such an extent that his (the tramp's) little bill of fare was paid.

P. Marbury, sr. has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors.

The creditors of J. H. Whelan will, it is reported, receive from 30 to 50c on the dollar.

The board of health quietly informed one of our residents on Front st. this week that the cemetery for worn out horses was away over the mountain and not on the street, as said resident had imagined.

Fishery Inspector J. Leade caught some fish, belonging to McDermid, to the flames a few days ago.

Mr. Taggart has leased his foundry to a couple of gentlemen from Yacker. In order to settle a little dispute regarding the relative speed of their horses, two of our mountain rovers were to have made an appearance on the ice with their animals and contested for the superiority in speed and the sum of $5. They appeared, but some how they refused to trot. However, there being quite a number brought on in a very exciting time was spent. H. Whitmarsh was appointed time-keeper and clerk of the course and performed his duties admirably. The black horse, Slim Jim, owned by Mr. Fredenburg, proved himself too much for the other animals, among which were D. W. W. robe's brown mare and McCann's chestnut horse.

KEEPING THE GATE.

The following is suggested as one more reason why toll-gates should be abolished, and we publish it for the benefit of all concerned:

A man who was recently arrested on a charge of vagrancy was asked by the magistrate why he did not go to work.

"I cannot," the man replied.

"You cannot? Why I haven't seen a more strapping fellow in many a day than you are. Does anything all you?"

"No, sir."

"Then why don't you work?"

"Because I used to keep toll-gate on a turn-pike in the South."

"You are a discharged," said the Judge. "Here take this dollar."

The Judge was a wise man. He knew the nature of the toll gate-keeper; he knew that the most active and industrious man in the world, if put at toll gate-keeping, would become a cloth hanger of self-support. The town constable is not given to such exertion but the toll gate-keeper is the best writer, the one that of nothing more requires of industry. The old toll gate-keeper was a sort of news-broker. He had nothing in detail, but held the paragraphic gossip of several neighborhoods. In cases he had a little weekly garden patch of his house, and in it yellow cornucopia could be seen, withering under the
