COUNTY NEWS.

INTERESTING LETTERS FROM OUR STAFF OF CORRESPONDENTS.

A Budget of News and Gossip—Persons of Intelligence—A Little of Everything—This well Mixed up.

MONDAY, May 4.—Mr. Robert Bell who has been a citizen of our town for many years sold his valuable property on Carleton street and removed to Rosline where he intends to rub in the remainder of his days in the boot and shoe trade. We hope the change may be for the better.

R. H. Preston M.P.F., returned from Toronto on Saturday.

Wm. Baker of South Crosby has a curiosity in the way of a lamb. Its head and shoulders are perfectly natural, but immediately back of the neck two trunks branch out each perfect in form, each body having two hind legs.

Mr. J. T. Gallagher is having the outside of his residence painted.

Rev. E. Stone of Oswego is, visiting at Mr. Geo. Whaley's.

The str. Olive and John Haggart passed through here on Saturday on their way to Kingston.

On Saturday May 2nd three young men from Onondaga named Paddy Quinn, Phil Holden, and Ben Fluko visited Newboro and remained circling around the village till late in the evening where they decided to return home in a boat. The wind was very high all day and when they arrived at the shore, Quinn concluded he would not accompany the others as the swells were running very high. He at once laid down on the shore and the other two started up the lake with him. They had not gone much further than the boat when the boat capsized throwing both of them into the water. A short time afterwards Charles McCaskill arrived on the shore with the intention of going to his home which is situated on an island close by. When he heard someone shouting and upon looking out on the lake he saw a man clinging to a boat, the boat being bottom upwards. He hastened with all speed to his assistance and succeeded in rescuing Holden who was almost benumbed with cold and it is supposed Fluko went to the bottom immediately after being thrown out of the boat. On account of Holden being intoxicated and not able to give a straight account of the accident he and Quinn were immediately arrested and placed in the cells by Chief Constable Gorsline where they remain, till Monday to wait their trial. Nearly every one who could avail himself of a day's rest out sleeping for the body Saturday night and Sunday until a late hour, but the search turned out fruitless up to this time. This accident casts a deep gloom over our quiet village and it is to be hoped this will be a warning to others who indulge too freely in home made liquors.

Some of our "Cans" will find their carrying capacity slightly inadequate to the demands of the "200 pounders" if they are not more judicious in their criticisms of some of the "retired gentlemen" if you please, of this town.

I was tapped on the shoulder the other day for a donation to aid in securing a cow. I refused on conscientious scruples, having more sin on my head already than I may ever dispose of. I decided not to aid or abet those in infidelity. For cooling the blood and quieting the nerves in pugilistic temperaments, I would highly recommend ice water instead of milk.

Who are the card players and drinkers? This is a conundrum the solving of which is putting to the severest test the mental calibre of one of our old maids. Why does she evince such marvellous curiosity over trival affairs told for the purpose of hearing her talk? The desire on her part is, no doubt, to maintain her standing in the clashing circle, for she claims to know all that occurs about town, a display of ignorance concerning any point would lower her in the estimation of like individuals who look upon her as the fountain head of gossip. Hitherto her information was obtained "legally" but for some unknown reason the services of the luminary have been dispensed with, and "Paddy" has been employed as Nuncio. A growing intimacy between the two has been very noticeable of late and the opinion is that it will end in conjugal union. A man of some kind would no doubt be acceptable, as he would be most acceptable than one made of candy and would at any rate last longer. Those who keep company with gossipers may be considered homogeneous and can expect to be looked upon in the same light. I would advise them to remember the fate of Tray in the old fable and steer clear of such characters.

MONDAY, April 4.—Monday evening the 28th ult., two gentlemen came to the residence of the Rev. Mr. Henderson of this place and presented a paper signed by Rev. Mr. Williamson president of—M. E. church asking for help. The Rev. gentleman took them to a hotel and had them provided for, for the night, and in the meantime telegraphed to Rev. Mr. Williamson, who replied that his name had been forgotten. The tramps were kindly accompanied with the fact in the morning, and we're told that they must either saw wood to pay the bill, or go to prison, but they scraped together enough to pay the hotel and decamped.

It is said that the secret of fortune telling has been left with the family of the late Mrs. Barnes of Plum Hollow. This is merely not a bad legacy.

NEWBORO.
MONDAY, May 4.—You will observe Mr. Editor, before you get through reading these few notes that I am quite unused to writing for the papers, but our folks advised me to go right at it and develop myself. I am somewhat noted for guessing gentlemen's hearts and I think you have a kind one, so here goes. I might say in passing that I am only 17 and my name is Martha Moriah, but sometimes I am called M. M. for short.

Uncle Rooney's milk factory is booming like mad since Mr. Madden Howitt has taken charge. He (Madden) took first prize last year, has a good reputation and likes the people—I like him pretty well myself.

Miss Rosannah Cavenagh has gone to Frankville for a few days.

Oliver Hayes has been chosen salesman of Uncle Rooney's factory this year.

John Dockrill will run his two farms as usual this season and with a more favorable prospect of a good crop than the last two seasons.

The Cavenagh Brothers who live alone, are building a fine new brick house on Ballycannon street. Wonder who is going to help them keep it in order? They, like many others along the line, are good fellows and a credit to the neighborhood.

I sometimes see in the "Bee Notes" in the Reporter, that bookkeeping is suitable and profitable employment for ladies. Well, a young girl not far from here, in a few hours at odd times nailed 1370 pieces of frames together.

Miss C. Cavenagh is the young lady who did the work as well as it could be done by a man. A girl on a farm will find work of this kind pleasant, light work as well as saving no small item.

We have a number of enterprising young men in our locality, one in particular, who, when the canning factory prospect was booming under election impulse, proposed planting 15 acres of tomatoes. If the factory falls through, which from the present outlook we fear will be the case, he will employ 15 or 20 good looking girls and go right on with the canning business as usual. Now, I most sincerely hope that all this will come to pass for various reasons, to be more fully explained later on. Martha Moriah is not so dear to me but what I would consent to change it under favorable circumstances.

I am looking forward in hope to the blackberry time. We have lots of fun then. I think the poet who wrote the lines, "A stray night for a ramble, through brush and bramble," etc., etc., must have wished to insinuate that it was in blackberry time. But we showtown girls repudiate the idea that blackberries can be picked after sunset.

We have several big patches of blackberries in our neighborhood, and we give the editor, foreman and devil a special invitation to come over and pick all they want for their own use. When blackberry time comes again I will give your readers some more gossip, as it comes fresh from the hearth.

In the meantime I will endeavor to improve my orthography and syntax, so as to make the items more readable and interesting.
