From the wording of the Act one might assume that the power to establish Separate schools was vested in the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, but by the interpretation of the clause the power was also vested in the Legislative Assembly. The question he wished to bring to the attention of the House and country was the system of Separate schools in the Northwest Territories. This Act was a restriction upon the powers of the people in degling with this subject.

Mr. MacDowall said the people of the Morthwest would be willing to submit to this bill as a temporary measure, and it could only be temporary. He for one was pledged to the maintenance of the Separate schools in the Northwest Territories, and if it was proposed to abolish them he would oppose such a measure.
