THE SADIE LAVELLE AFFAIR. The Young Man Who Left Toronto Returns

to face the Music. The young man who was implicated in the Sadie Lavelle affair, and who left the city on Saturday afternoon, returned home Wednesday. He asserts that other young men who were intimately associated with the dead girl and her companion, Ida Simmone, contrived to keep him away from Toronto in order that they, through misrepresentation of facts, might throw the whole responsibility of the matter on to his shoulders. His brother discovered this and telegraphed for him to return at once, which he did. He did not go away through fear of trouble arising out of the matter, he afternoon pleasure trip. He was accom-

He can produce evidence to show that he was when the girls were around with the third young man, who states that he last saw Sadie Lavelle at the corner of Queen and Bay streets. In connection with this ! affair the late employer of the girl Ida Simmonds called at the Globe office yesterday and stated that when he engaged her he had no idea that she was not a good girl. He had engaged her, he said, mainly out of charity. She failed to get a summons against him for non-payment of wages for the reason that no wages were owing her .--

The child was widently too heavy for the hird, and was iropped to the earth. The fall caused its leath. The eagle made another plunge for its victim, but was fought off by the mother, who succeeded in driving it away. As the bird rose in the air it was shot by the father, who had arrived too late to save the child. The white men had no difficulty in securing the eagle and they will have it
