

New Goods SPRING of 1892

A large quantity here and more arriving daily.

All Bought in the Very Best Markets for SPOT CASH.

Never before were we in so good a position to serve well our customers. We give our undivided attention to our own business and make our customers' interests our own.

Call in and look through, whether you want to buy or not.

H. H. ARNOLD

Central Block. General Merchant

D. W. DOWNEY

THE ONE PRICE BARGAIN SHOE HOUSE BROCKVILLE, ONT.

THINK CAREFULLY, DECIDE WISELY, AND COME TO US FOR YOUR Best Boots and Slippers.

Men's Best Felt Boots, half foxed and leathered to top of leg $12.00

Women's Felt Congress, Lace and Button Boots, from $7.50

Women's Felt Slippers from $2.00

Women's Leather Slippers from $2.00

W's Lead in Moccasins.

See our stock before you purchase. Our Ladies' Button Boots at 98c.

D. W. DOWNEY

FLINT'S NEW BLOCK BROCKVILLE.

Silence is Golden

But that does not prevent us saying that

Lardine The Famous Winter Machine Oil

Made only by

McCOLL BROS. & CO.,

TORONTO

Is the finest in the market. Use it once and you will use no other.

Beware of imitations. McColl's famous Cylinder Oil is the best in Canada for engine cylinders. Ask for Lardine.

For Sale by S. Boddy, Athens, Ont.

Front of Tongue and Lyn. news was received too late for insertion this week.

WILLIAMS & McLAUGHLIN

Boots and shoes, crockery and wall papers, below wholesale prices.—A. LAMONT & SONS.

The Kitchapoo give their last exhibition here this evening. They go to Delta next.

Last year the Marton cheese factory paid its patrons nearly $16 (net) per ton of milk.

The B. & W. is again blockaded. At last accounts last evening the train going east had failed to reach Lyn.

The funeral services of Orren Knapp, an aged and respected resident of Plum Hollow, were conducted in the Methodist church, Athens, to-day.

Jas. Mitchell, Frankville, has a thoroughbred Ayshire, purchased from the well-known breeder, H. E. Eyre, Harlem. See bills.

Don't forget that A. James has a first class horse shoe and will give you a first class job at the following prices for cash: Setting shoes, 10c; new shoes, 20c.

If you are in need of a piano, organ or sewing machine, you had better consult your own interest and purchase from G. L. Gallagher who handles the best goods and prices are right.

North Augusta has had a journalistic birth—a four-page 30-col. paper. It is small, but neat, tasty, and healthy in appearance and with liberal support from its constituents should grow rapidly.

A. B. & W. special conveyed Athens' Manitoba contingent to Brockville to-day. They consist of Harvey Brown and family, W. Hartwell and wife, Jas. Ross, Delorina Kilborn, and Malcolm Halladay and family.

A Chamber Set worth $16 will be given to the person presenting the nearest to the number of seeds in a squash now on exhibition at T. store. Every purchase of one pound of T. or coffee entitles the purchaser to one guess.—T. W. DENNIS, Brockville.

"Doc" Addison's friends will be pleased to learn that it is probable he will be brought here for convalescence. His recovery is a great triumph for American surgery and Dr. Roswell Park, who performed the operation, has received many commendatory and congratulatory notices in consequence.

A lady's solid gold watch, valued at $60, will be given to the person guessing nearest to the number at home in a glass jar now on exhibition in our store case. This jar was filled and sealed by Isaac C. Alguire, who will form one of the committee to break the seal and count the beans on the 1st day of May, 1892. Any person buying goods to the value of $1 as our store will have an opportunity of guessing for every dollar worth purchased.—PAT. WILSON & CO.

Oh, what a cough! Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourself if you can afford to be the victim of a cough. To run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails.

J. I. GALLAGHER

BANK OF TORONTO

ESTABLISHED 1827

CAPITAL PAID UP $2,000,000

RESERVE $1,000,000

ASSETS (Sept. 30, 1891) $3,000,000

BR. KIVILLE BRANCH

SAVINGS BANK DEPARTMENT

FOUR PER CENT INTEREST

Compounded every Six Months

Farmers' notes discounted at current rates

BROCKVILLE BRANCH

COMSTOCK'S BLOCK

The officers of this bank are pleased to disclose the transactions of any of its customers.

JNO. FINNIGAN, Manager.

Important Notice.

We enclose in this issue a bill for the amount due from you for the subscription to the Reporter. At the very low price of 10c per copy, it is a great value. It is not because we have not a just and legal right to do so. We believe in just cases, that is more a matter of conscience than of law. It makes a subscriber neglect to pay promptly for his paper. Over $100 is due for subscription alone, and while we have not a legal right to demand it, we cannot longer allow these subscribers to neglect to settle. All subscribers have been computed at $1.00 per copy. A bill will be sent at the rate of $1.00 per copy, if it is not paid by the 15th of April, 1892.

THE REPORTER

ATHENS, ONT., MAR. 22, 1892.

Business notices in local columns 10 cents per line each insertion.

LOCAL SUMMARY.

ATHENS AND NEIGHBORING LOCALITIES BRIEFLY WRITTEN UP.

Events as Seen by Our Knight of the Pen.—Local Amusements. Hotted Night Down.

Grass Seed and Clover Seed at Mott & Robeson's.

Morton creek is said to be covered with ice ducks.

Tea of excellent quality, 25c., at Mott & Robeson's.

Robert Poole is going to erect a new cottage on Poole's Island.

W. Niblock, Delta, is about to open a blacksmith shop at Lombardy.

Nice lot of wall papers closing out below cost.—A. PARSON & SONS.

MacKay & Co., of Lyndhurst, are to open a drug store in the Edgar stand.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Halladay, of Elgin, paid a brief visit to Athens last week.

Front of Tongue and Lyn. news was received too late for insertion this week.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at Mrs. Arnold's, Wednesday at 8 o'clock.

There never was a stricter pledge than that of Solomon's. We think it sufficient to say, "Drink not," but he said, "Look not on the wine." The color of the sparkling wine is the intoxicating draught is enough to awaken the appetite in some men so that it becomes necessary for them to make a covenant even with their eyes.

Suppose you go to the saloon keeper and offer to license him to sell your son whiskey for $500 per year. O! you don't believe in that! You don't want it sold to your boy. Then be honest, and don't vote to have it sold to somebody else's boy.

One morning a drinking man told his family of a strange dream he had. In it he saw three cats—one fat, one lean and one blind. He was anxious to know what it meant. His boy answered promptly, "I know what it means. The fat cat is the landlady that sells you the drink; the lean cat is mother; and the blind cat is you."

A statement was in circulation some time ago that Mr. Spurgeon indulged in wine. That report brought out the statement from the eminent man of God: "I am a total abstainer, advocate total abstinence, and rejoice in wearing the blue ribbon."

A young man drowned. On a paper in his pocket was written: "Do not drink. Do not do anything. Let me die; let me rot." Within a week the corner received over 200 letters from fathers and mothers asking for a description of the youth. No appeal can be made stronger than this statement.

The temperance workers have been successful in closing up the last licensed liquor hotel in Parry Sound, Ont.

The Way of Salvation.

To Benjamin Derbyshire, Esq., and all other "honest enquirers into the true light."

The last issue of the Athens Reporter contains a long letter written by some "minister of the gospel," addressed to me, and published at my request, which you consider "might settle the minds of some people who seem to be a little uneasy with regard to some questions" concerning the way of salvation. Symptomatic of the state of your desire for information on this momentous question, allow me to bring under your notice, and that of your friends, the following "Instruction," with the hope that it may be the means, under God, of preserving the matter in such a light that you and your friends may be enabled to lay hold on that True Light which lighteth every man, and secure a share in that Divine life which is the light of men.

Your Friend, Wm. Watson.

Athens, March 17, 1892.

The first man Adam was made a living soul, and dominion over all the creatures of the earth was given him.

When God looked upon the works of His own creation, He pronounced them all to be very good. Man, the noblest of all, was made in the image and likeness of God, and was given dominion over all the creatures of the earth.

But man was not content with the good which God had given him. He was ambitious to be like God, and he desired to know the secret of life. He was tempted by the serpent, and he ate of the forbidden fruit. He was expelled from the garden of Eden, and he became a sinner.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

F. S. Harrison of Portland recently purchased a piano from J. Callahan, through the recommendations of G. L. Gallagher whose sale it was and who received the profits.

A lot of modern philosophers are having a deal to say about a new science which they call "thought transmission." What is the matter with the newspapers? They are thought transmitters. They are thought transmitters. They are thought transmitters.

At the meeting of the council of the Board of Education on Friday the petitions for and against withdrawing a portion of the township from the high school district were presented, but the council decided to take no action; consequently, the district will remain intact.

A celebrated orator from Dublin will lecture on "Ireland, its Past, Present and Future," in St. Brendan's church, Bookport, on Wednesday evening, March 23rd, and in St. James' church, Westford, on Thursday, March 24th. Admission free, 25c.; children, 15c.

The reason why "Myrtle Navy" tobacco has taken so strong a hold upon the smoking community is because it is the genuine article. The man has a desire to smoke anything else than tobacco. Even opium is not smoked for the pleasure of smoking it but for its soporific effects.

The desire for tobacco is, of course, best satisfied by getting the purest article. In this respect the "Myrtle Navy" is the best quality the satisfaction is complete. These two things are combined in the "Myrtle Navy."

Some are born great; others achieve greatness. The distinction accorded the editor of the Reporter at the Kitchapoo Med. Co. entertainment on Saturday evening appears to be due to the former. A halloo was taken to decide who was the best man in town, and the editor won by a large majority, simply snowing under all competitors. One would think that after achieving such a triumph one would be willing to retire to his quietude, but the editor has not done so. He is rapidly surrounding the bottle of Sagwa that was given as the prize. In the race for this distinction (contrary to report) S. A. Taplin was a very poor second.

Rev. Prof. Wrench held the undivided attention of his hearers on Monday evening during the delivery of his lecture on "Orators and Oratory—Parker, Spurgeon, Punsbush, Gough." The Professor is a profound scholar, and having had a personal acquaintance with the distinguished men of whom he spoke, he was able to give to his audience a knowledge of the oratorical excellencies of each and also an idea of their personal characteristics.

Athens is seldom visited by so scholarly a man, and we are pleased to be able to announce that on the earnest solicitation of admirers he has consented to lecture again this (Tuesday) evening. His subject will be "John Wesley and his times." No admission fee will be charged, but, of course, a collection will be taken.

On Saturday, April 2, at 1 o'clock p.m., J. Aldrich will sell at his farm, Kibbora's Corners, near Frankville, his valuable farm stock, implements, vehicles, etc. C. A. Wood, auctioneer.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at Mrs. Arnold's, Wednesday at 8 o'clock.

There never was a stricter pledge than that of Solomon's. We think it sufficient to say, "Drink not," but he said, "Look not on the wine." The color of the sparkling wine is the intoxicating draught is enough to awaken the appetite in some men so that it becomes necessary for them to make a covenant even with their eyes.

Suppose you go to the saloon keeper and offer to license him to sell your son whiskey for $500 per year. O! you don't believe in that! You don't want it sold to your boy. Then be honest, and don't vote to have it sold to somebody else's boy.

One morning a drinking man told his family of a strange dream he had. In it he saw three cats—one fat, one lean and one blind. He was anxious to know what it meant. His boy answered promptly, "I know what it means. The fat cat is the landlady that sells you the drink; the lean cat is mother; and the blind cat is you."

A statement was in circulation some time ago that Mr. Spurgeon indulged in wine. That report brought out the statement from the eminent man of God: "I am a total abstainer, advocate total abstinence, and rejoice in wearing the blue ribbon."

A young man drowned. On a paper in his pocket was written: "Do not drink. Do not do anything. Let me die; let me rot." Within a week the corner received over 200 letters from fathers and mothers asking for a description of the youth. No appeal can be made stronger than this statement.

The temperance workers have been successful in closing up the last licensed liquor hotel in Parry Sound, Ont.

The Way of Salvation.

To Benjamin Derbyshire, Esq., and all other "honest enquirers into the true light."

The last issue of the Athens Reporter contains a long letter written by some "minister of the gospel," addressed to me, and published at my request, which you consider "might settle the minds of some people who seem to be a little uneasy with regard to some questions" concerning the way of salvation. Symptomatic of the state of your desire for information on this momentous question, allow me to bring under your notice, and that of your friends, the following "Instruction," with the hope that it may be the means, under God, of preserving the matter in such a light that you and your friends may be enabled to lay hold on that True Light which lighteth every man, and secure a share in that Divine life which is the light of men.

Your Friend, Wm. Watson.

Athens, March 17, 1892.

The first man Adam was made a living soul, and dominion over all the creatures of the earth was given him.

When God looked upon the works of His own creation, He pronounced them all to be very good. Man, the noblest of all, was made in the image and likeness of God, and was given dominion over all the creatures of the earth.

But man was not content with the good which God had given him. He was ambitious to be like God, and he desired to know the secret of life. He was tempted by the serpent, and he ate of the forbidden fruit. He was expelled from the garden of Eden, and he became a sinner.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to be a God. He was no longer content to be a man, but he desired to be a God.

Man's sin was not only a transgression of God's law, but it was also a rebellion against God's authority. He was no longer content to be a creature, but he desired to