RIDEAU LAKES
HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY

Our June 4th general meeting was a success, as usual. Between forty and fifty members came out to learn something about flower arranging from Ruth Hicks of the Kingston Horticultural Society. This talented lady had a tub of fresh cut plants and she would take a bit of this and a bit of that and in no time at all had created a beautiful arrangement. A few of the members had brought in samples of Iris from their gardens. A portion of each meeting is set aside for a discussion about submitting particular plants to be judged and last meeting the chosen plant was Iris. Kay Williams tells us the winning and losing features that a judge looks for. For the July 2nd meeting, bring in one rose and/or five pods of peas or beans. The speaker for July will be Cecelia Powell of Westport. She will be telling us all about herbs, a topic of increasing interest these days. The meeting place is the Forfar Community Centre. The date and time are Tuesday, July 2nd at 7:45 p.m. Everyone is always welcome.
