Success Story

Pierre LePage, of Saskatoon, was 22 when his mother, discovering lumps on his neck, suggested he see a doctor. His doctor checked the lumps and told him to come back at Christmas if there was no change. "That could have been disastrous," Pierre remembers. He went to another doctor who, "within 2 seconds of touching the lumps scheduled x-rays and a biopsy."

Pierre was in school in Winnipeg when his father called with the news; it was Hodgkin's Disease, a malignant tumor of the lymphatic system. He came home and began treatments at the Regina Clinic in February. "If you were going to get treated for cancer, Saskatchewan was one of the best places in the world to do it", he remembers.

For 3 weeks, 5 days a week, he underwent 6 1/2 minutes of deep x-ray treatment. He recalls lying under the machine and listening to the piped-in music. "It was a comforting, soothing atmosphere... I appreciated the sense of professionalism and routine (at the Clinic) and the relaxed, positive attitude of the staff working there."

The cumulative effect of the treatments "really got me down. It felt worse after treatments ended." His throat was extremely sore, he could not eat, food was tasteless, odorless, unappetizing, he was weak, losing weight—"I felt like going to bed more than anything else."

When his throat cleared up he began to feel better. By April he was working as a part-time teacher.

Pierre's cancer was detected and treated early, and he has led "literally a perfectly normal life." This year marks his 20th free of cancer. "Sometimes I remember that I went through some pretty hairy times, but 99 times out of 100 I don't think about it." Still, having had cancer has "made me really aware of how important it is to be aware of how you feel... If you feel out of sorts go see a doctor... If you feel something is wrong, don't stop going because you're afraid he'll find something wrong."

YOU KNOW THIS SIGN. BUT DO YOU KNOW THESE SIGNS?

- lump in the neck, groin, breast or armpit
- persistent cough
- change in a mole
- open sore that does not heal
- trouble swallowing
- blood in urine or stool
- prolonged indigestion
- change in bowel habits

When you see one of these warning signs, don't ignore it; bring it to the attention of your doctor immediately.

When it comes to cancer, know the signs. CHANCES ARE YOU DON'T HAVE CANCER, BUT WHY TAKE CHANCES?
