

PHILIPSVILLE W.I.

The group met Nov. 13/84 with prs. Theresa George opening the meeting with the Ode & Collect. Roll call was answered by 11 members on "A new Approach toward Farm Management." Mary Sutcliffe presented an excellent paper on the motto "The changing image of women in rural areas", after which she introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Nancy Sheffield. Nancy gave an excellent report on how she & her husband work together on their produce farm. She explained the work entailed in growing different crops and the nights when frost threatens & they have to stay up all night using the irrigation system to prevent crop loss or damage. After explaining some of the care pointers for the various fruit crops, Nancy closed by saying that they enjoy their work and because they work together they have lots of time to spend as a family with their son Mathew. After a short question period, Mary presented Nancy with a small gift for her participation in the evening. A two minute silence was observed for Remembrance Day. Minutes were read & approved. New business dealt with the Dec. 11 Christmas Party for the Senior Citizens. The Institute Christmas Party will be held in the Hall Dec. 13 at 1:30 p.m. Reports were given re: Workshop & Summary day, to be held again at Spring Valley in Jan. New Horizons programs-interested people should attend the meeting with Mr. Kenny on Nov 22. District report was given and it was announced that 1985 will be Year of the Youth. More details will be forthcoming re the three items for hospital use. The executive meeting will be held in March. Reports are very positive on the Monday "Fun-Nites". This closed the business meeting.

Leorene Hayes gave a reading composed by the late Jennie Moulton based on a Perfect day. It was originally composed for Leorene's grandmother. The singing of the Royal Anthem closed this portion of the meeting. Theresa George won the brand name slogan contest prepared by Leorene. Everyone enjoyed a delicious lunch and extended warm welcomes to new member Mrs. LeBlanc.
