ELGIN U.C.W.

The meeting on April 11th. opened with a welcome from President Sandra Freeman to all members and special guests, among whom were Mary Townsend, Past President of Kingston Presbyterial U.C.W. Glenna McKinley, President of Elgin section and Mrs. (Rev.) Mclean of Seeley's Bay.

The worship service, on the theme "Living Love" was conducted by May Dennison and Keitha Mainse. They told of their visit to Coventry, one of the most badly bombed cities in W.W.II. They described and showed pictures of the shells of bombed buildings, which still stand and of the new cathedral built since the war. Beautiful prayers, copied from the walls of the chapel, were used in the service.

The study of the Carribean was continued by Loree Smith, Mary Carbino, Nina Churchill and Anna Smith. They described the difficulties people from the West Indies face when emigrating to Canada, especially Toronto. There, Rev. Winston Brown from Jamaica is a West Indian staff worker. Veita Willows gave us some of her impressions of Barbados and had copies of their newspapers to show us.

Plans were made to pack and transfer the dishes recently purchased from Phillipsville Church Hall. This took place the following day, and the Elgin U.C.W. cupboards were cleaned, re-organized and an inventory done.

A business meeting followed. Reta gave a short report on Bay of Quinte Conference, held recently in Kingston. Elsa reported on the early Easter service and the breakfast which followed. The U.C.W. also served lunch to the cantata choirs on April 19th. Marjorie's group served lunch.
