

Rideau Review

Adult Fiction

Scruples by Judith Krantz
A much promoted first novel in the "Hailey" "Robbins" style. Life among the super-rich is always fascinating and Miss Krantz spins a good tale. A good read even though the situations and characterizations seem a little familiar.

A Roaring in the Wind

by Robert Lewis Taylor
For readers who enjoyed "The Travels of Jaimie McPheeter" this will be a treat. An exciting and nostalgic drama set in the mid 1800's in the wild and woolly hills of Montana. A rollicking story filled with real characters.

Non-Fiction

The Country Diary of an Edwardian Lady by Edith Holden

A reproduction of a naturalist's diary of 1906. Just to browse this book will make you want to own it for its art work alone. A quiet spring day and this book will be as good as a vacation.

Dictionary of Golf by Ken Adwick

The golf book for every golfer, no matter what your golf problem, this book may be able to help. Well written and amply illustrated.

The following books were donated by Eastern Ontario Library System at the opening of the Aileen Fahey Room.

Jaycy Kennels
Reg'd. C.K.C.

Taken by the Wind by R. Woodall and T.H. Watkins. Beautiful photography and memorable words document the spirit and hardiness of the pioneers of the West. An interesting view of architectural history.

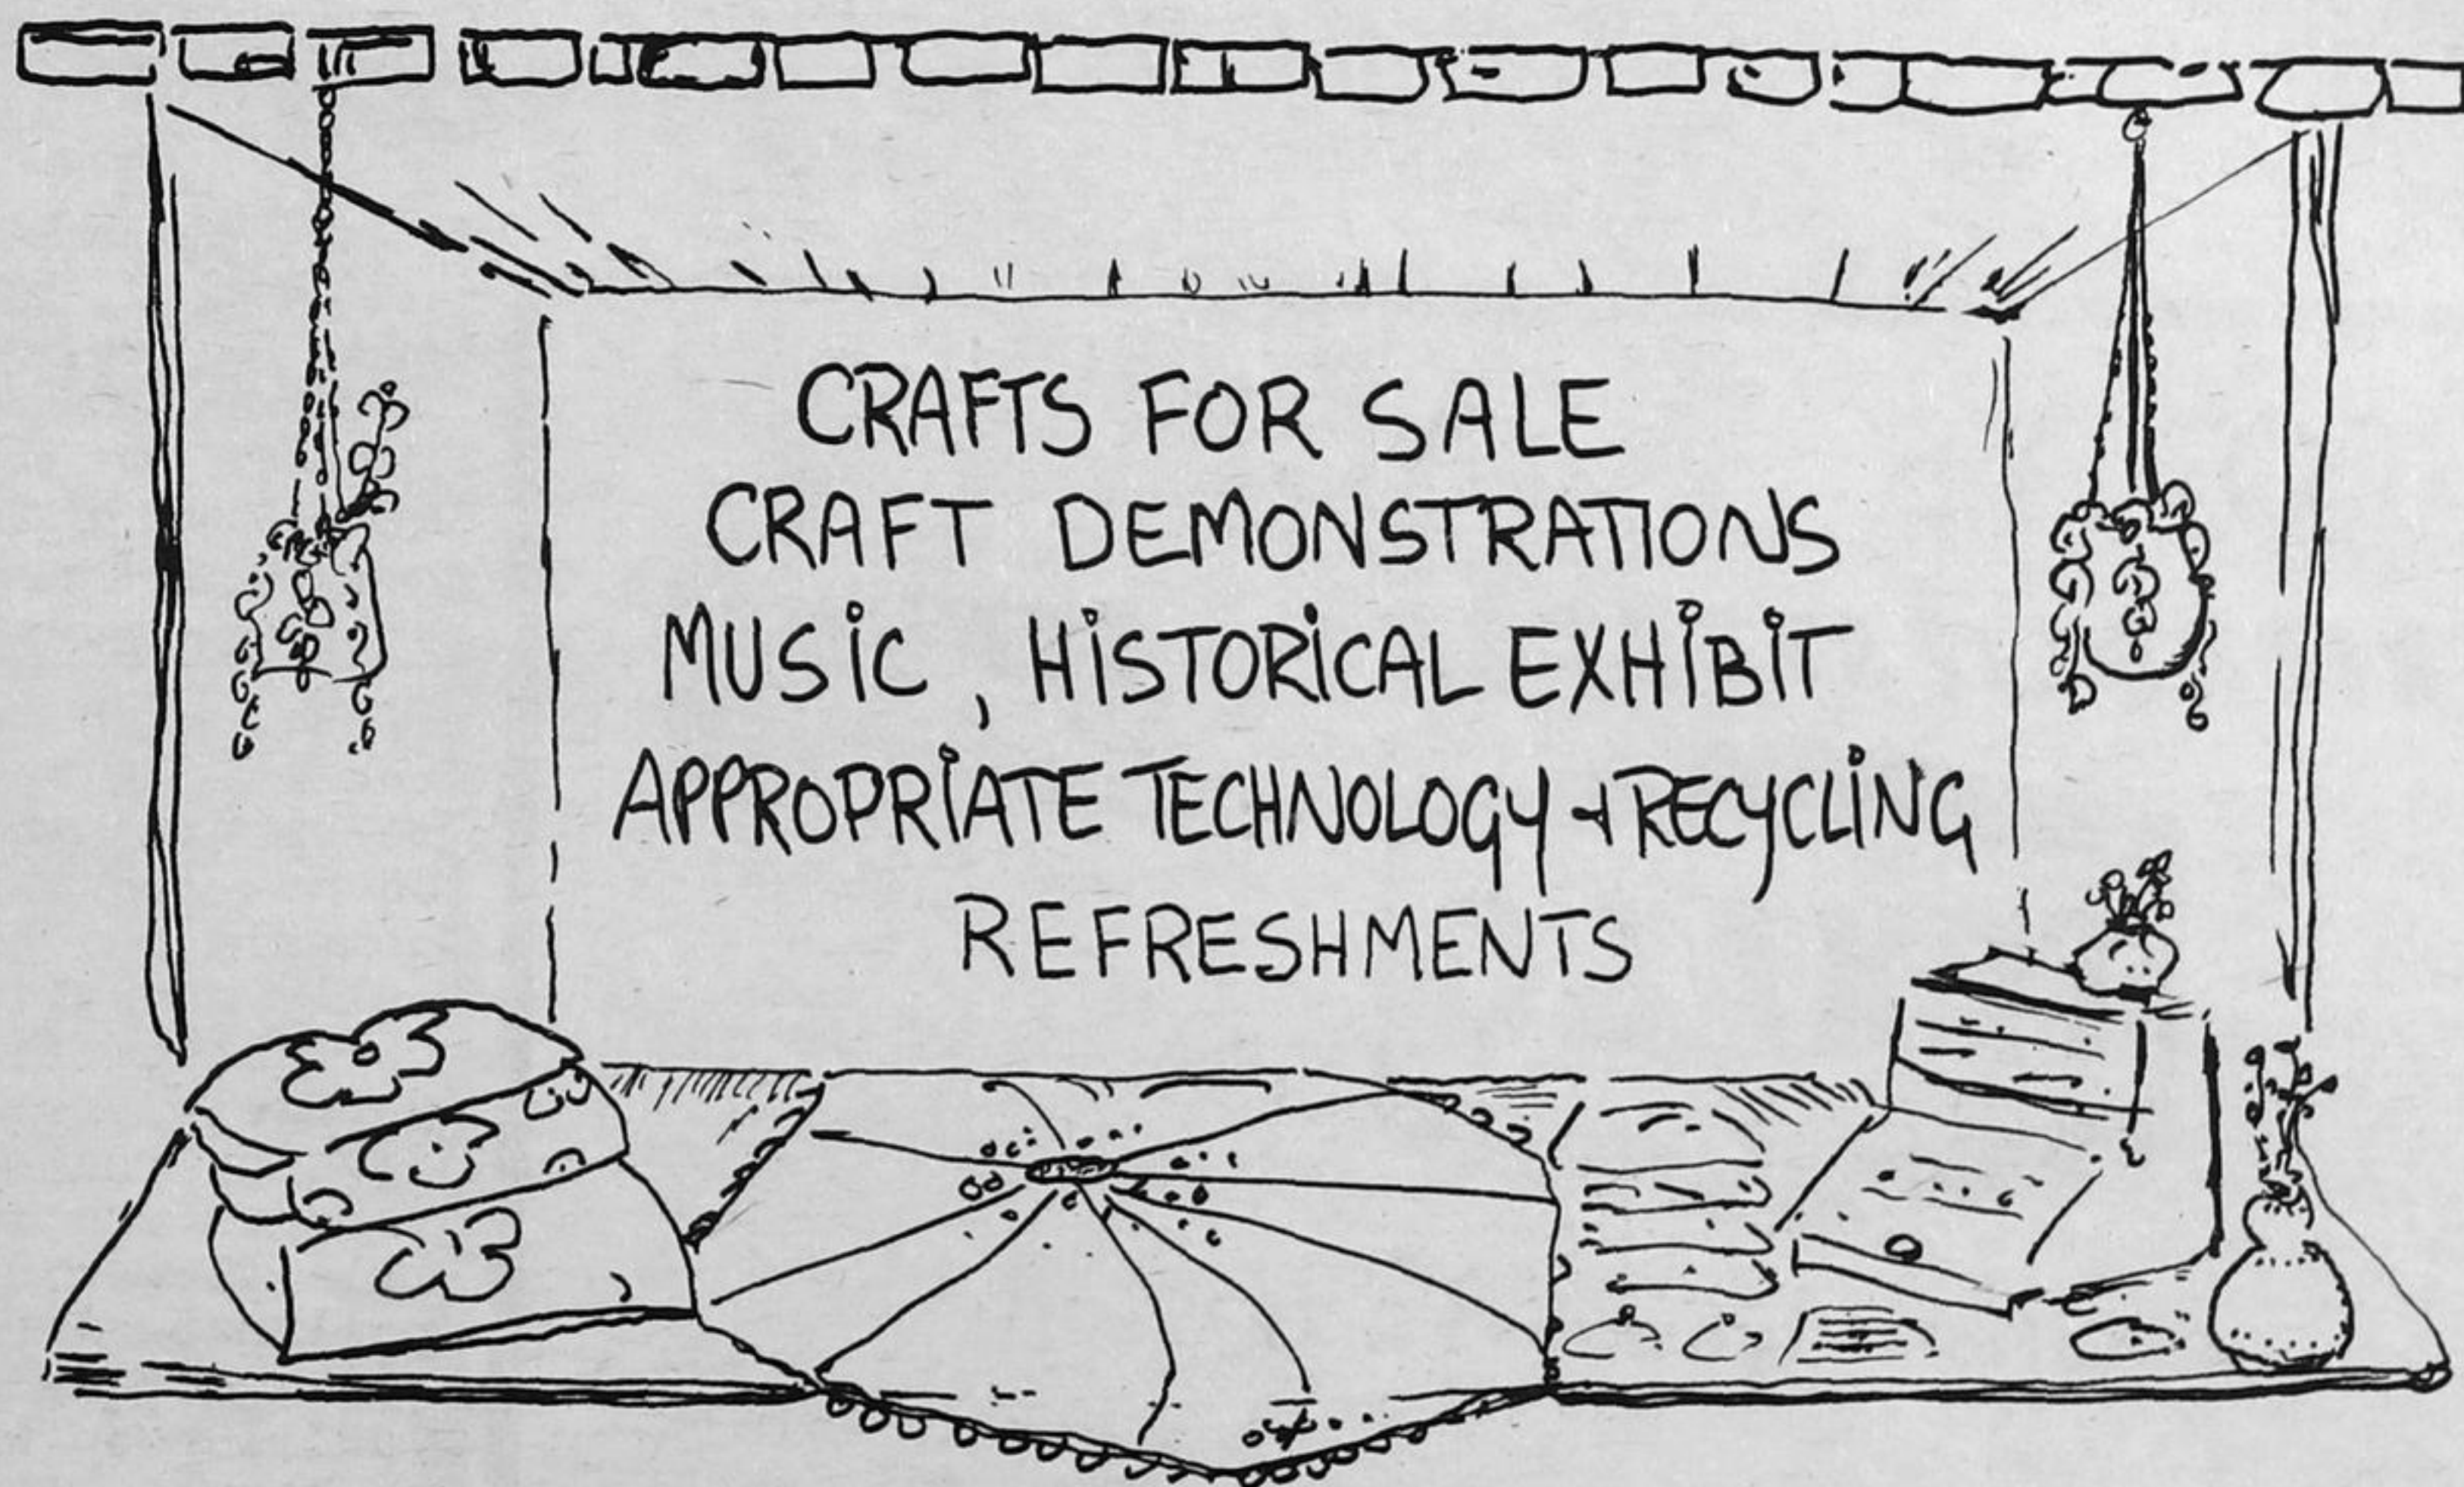

Old Ontario Houses by Kim Ondaatje and Lois Mackenzie. Eastern Ontario has its share of old houses and they are well represented in this book. Ms Mackenzie's text gives much information on the development of the early homes and cottages, from the feuding of Irish carpenters and Scot stone-masons to the influence of rich Americans. A visual treat.

Clean Shingles

Cleaning the roof is a job most people like to put off. However, a clean roof does last longer than a dirty one. There is an easy way--Sprinkle lime along the roof top. The next rain will dissolve the lime and spread it over the shingles, removing moss and accumulated debris.
