

EDITORIAL PAGE.

Dear Readers,

The April issue is hot off the press. We're very pleased with your response to our request for articles to date, and we hope our readers are as pleased with our presentation of them.

The content and format of our newsletter have not been rigidly established. We are always ready to broaden our horizons and expand our scope to suit our readers and contributors. Articles of general interest, poetry, prose and philosophical ramblings will be welcomed at Box 89, Westport or by any of the Lantern correspondents. The DEADLINE for ads and articles for the May issue will be April 15.

We'd love some more volunteer help with the newsletter. We're especially in need of a correspondent for Lyndhurst and for Portland. To be a correspondent all you need is a willingness to be part of the Lantern team and the ability to call people up and remind them it's time to get their information in. Also, our paper could be greatly enhanced by a volunteer with some artistic ability.

We sure are proud of our first "letter to the editor". Keep those comments, articles and events coming.

Doug Roantree
Editor.

ADVERTISE IN THE LANTERN

and South Burgess and Rear of Leeds and Lansdowne.

North Leeds Lantern,
Elgin, Ont.

On behalf of Seeleys Bay United Church, we are delighted with the write-up you gave us in your March issue. Many have commented on it. As our plans develop through the year we will send further information.

Our sincere thanks,

Glenna McKinley
Chairman

Centennial Committee
Seeleys Bay United Church

P.S. Speaking personally we hear nothing but praise for those who are doing a tremendous job on the 'Lantern'

We can reproduce typing, handwriting, lettraset, logo's and sketches. (Sketches should be drawn with a fine black felt pen.)

To purchase an ad please call the correspondent nearest you.
