There was an old lady from Spain
Who did exactly the same
She didn't have a nose
She had only a hose
That poor old lady from Spain

There was an old lady from Ipsee
She used to be a bit tipsy
When she went to bed
She stood on her head
That dumb old lady from Ipsee.

A father was describing to his friend the efforts made by his son to teach his mother how to drive.
"When she couldn't manage the gears after the first 15 minutes," he confided, "the boy became quite annoyed."
And then, dryly, he added, "He wasn't half as patient teaching her to drive as she was teaching him to walk."
