

"Cedars" Art and Craft Shop at Chaffey's Lock is opening its doors June 28th for its 4th season.

"Cedars" is located in the summer kitchen of the old Mahoney house, and the two sisters, Marion Goulah of Kingston, and Eleanor Pinsonneault, Ottawa, are the 4th generation to live in the house. The store takes its name from a pair of huge cedar hedges in front of the house.

When one approaches the old white frame house with the summer kitchen and back porch laden with brightly coloured crafts, you realize that this place is far removed from all the hustle of city shopping.

Once inside, there are two rooms filled with quality Canadian crafts encompassing the Ottawa-Kingston area. The second room, originally the wood shed, was brought into service last year for the first time as a result of the steady increase of goods and people.

Cedars offers a wide variety of crafts. To name a few, there are beautiful quilts, one of a kind ladies ensembles and paintings by Eleanor Pinsonneault, handwoven bedspreads from Quebec, stuffed dolls, including some delightful soft-sculpture costumed ones made by Hanna Cymbinski of Richmond, brass rubbings, expertly made pine shelves, mirrors and tables, stone ware, handwoven coats and jackets, miniature doll houses, apple head dolls, dried and silk flower arrangements by "Wishful Thinking" of Kingston, stained glass items and attractive lamps.

As an extension of "Cedars", Chaffey's Lock, Marion Goulah operates "Cedars II" in Kingston from her home at 7 Runnymede Road from September until June, thereby keeping the crafts people very busy the whole year.

This year "Cedars" will carry the work of 95 artisans and extends a most cordial welcome to all their old and new friends.
