Ladies, Gent's, and Misses overcoat at and under first cost, to clear out Stock-taking at Christie, Henderson & Co., Acton.

W. Rutherford & Co., of the Elephant Clothing House, Guelph, announce a grand sweeping up of goods at extremely low prices. They have a very large stock on hand.

Now is the time for cheap suits, overcoats, shirts, drawers, hats, caps, cloaks, shawls, flannels, etc., Christie, Henderson & Co. offer decided bargains in above lines, to lessen the work of tailoring.

The annual meeting of the Niagara Agricultural Society will be held at the Ontario Hotel, Brookville, on Saturday the 8th inst., for the election of officers, &c.

ROCK BOTTOM PRICES—Christie, Henderson & Co. preparatory to taking stock-taking, offer a great variety of Fall and Winter goods, cloaks and suits, etc. Don't fail to secure bargains. Money saved is money made.

The Annual Meeting of the Ex-queuing Agricultural Society will be held at Christie's Hotel, Stewart town, on Saturday next, 8th inst., for the election of officers.

The pleasure of Sledding at this season of the year has never depressing effect on business. Those who are depending upon the usual jolly array of presents, and the customary briskness, will no doubt feel considerably disengaged.

Fatal Accident.

On Thursday last Mr. John Sharp, of Acton, was approaching the Grand Trunk crossing on Main street a train came along. Mr. Sharp attempted to hold his horse by the head, but the frightened animal threw him to ground, striking him with his fore feet, causing severe internal injuries. The injured man was taken home, when after considerable suffering, he died on Saturday morning. Mr. Sharp was 72 years of age. He was a useful and much respected citizen.

A very enjoyable entertainment was given in the Temperance Hall, on New Year's evening, by the Sons of Temperance of this village. The Hall was filled to its utmost capacity, and there was a beautiful supply of provisions for every one. The choir was ably conducted by Mr. John Spiegel, and appropriate address were delivered by Mr. H. B. Cox, Rev. Mr. Cameron, and Rev. Mr. Calvert, of Acton. Mr. Playfair of Georgetown, and Mr. Adams, of Toronto. Excellent music by the Acton brass band, and singing by the choir with a number of choice songs rendered in a masterly manner by a quartette from Brandon, comprising the Misses, Nichols, Mr. R. Nichols and Mr. J. Higgins. The entertainment passed off well. Expenses upwards of $50. The Acton Division Sons of Temperance continued to prosper, and now number over 200 members.

The Late Mr. W. G. Culloden.

From the Goderick Star.
The readers of the Star will receive with the deepest regret the announcement of the death of Mr. W. G. Culloden, who for upwards of two years conducted the editorial department of this journal with singular ability and with faithfulness to the principles which it has always advocated and consistently maintained. Mr. W. G. Culloden had been in rather feeble health for several days, but until Monday of last week he continued in the active and able discharge of his editorial functions, and did not exhibit any symptoms of serious illness, or consider it requisite to call for medical aid. But on Monday last, although he attended his official duties, and made every effort to perform his editorial work, which was ever uppermost in his mind, his strength entirely failed him, and finding it necessary to lie down, he for the first time towards evening sought medical advice, when the attack under which he labored was pronounced to be an affection of the lungs. The disease, as is usual in such cases, was rapid in its progress, and it sank quickly, and without rally, or intermission of his sufferings; he expired at twelve o'clock on Tuesday night, leaving a desolate widow and two young children to bewail their sudden and melancholy bereavement.

Mr. Culloden's very merciful death has saddened the whole of this community irrespective of all political affinity or party bias. His friends connected with the newspaper press in this Province during the greater part of his life time, and has ever staunchly maintained a firm and faithful adherence to the Conservative cause, but his strict integrity, the truthfulness of his character, and his generous and high minded liberality of sentiment and principle, in his public as well as in his private relations, with a fine geniality of his disposition and temperament, commanded the regard, as they endeared him to the affection of all classes whatever might be their political predilections.

Mr. Culloden was at one time editor of the Milton New Era, and was uncle of the Messrs. Second Bros. of Acton.]

The Concert in Rockwood.

A stranger passing through the village of Rockwood on Tuesday evening would not have been long in coming to a conclusion that there was something more than usual on the taffy. Hotel stables were crowded to their capacity and in fact, the whole place seemed to be alive.

The reason of this unusual state of affairs was the occasion of the holding of a grand concert, under the auspices of, and in aid of St. John's church in that village. The concert took place in the town hall, which was crowded to excess, so large was the audience that was assembled. Among those present we notice many from Guelph, Acton, and other places in the district.

The concert was under the conductorship of Mr. Mathland, of Guelph, which duty he performed in such a masterly manner as to give the utmost satisfaction. Having several songs which were enthusiastically received. The programme was then given into. Songs were sung with much acceptance by Mrs. John Clark, of Guelph, who also provided at the piano during the evening with graceful ability; Mrs. Morton, Toronto; Miss E. Cameron, Acton; Miss Minnie Morley, Lovell; and Mr. Prof. Mathland and Messrs. Mathin, of Rockwood; Peter Second of Acton; and Chipholm, of Guelph. Miss Emily Strong played a piece on the piano very sweetly. Recitations were well rendered by Mrs. Collins, of Rockwood, and Master Eddie Horrison, of Guelph, the latter of whom is deserving of special credit for the manner in which he acquitted himself. A dialogue was given in good style by Messrs. Collins, Dury and Wilson, a pair of dramatic performers entitled "Jordan's proposal" was given by Messrs. Collins, Dury and Wilson, and Miss Kate Delaware. An addition to the first part of the programme, Mr. Mathland announced that the time for the "make concert" had arrived. The judge of a race was fixed at ten minutes, and the prize for the first place was extended to all. Three judges were nominated, and after half an hour's diligent canvassing by the supporters of the different candidates, Miss Mary Smith, was declared the winner, having received 128 votes, the next highest receiving 62. Miss Smith expressed a desire that the cake should be sold by auction, the proceeds to be appropriated towards the same purpose as that for which the concert had been got up. Mr. Mathland sold out as an auctioneer and it was handed down to Mr. Michael Cummins, Deputy Reeve of Elginshire. The sale realized in all about $25. The total proceeds of the concert, from all sources, being about $130.

After a lengthy programme had gone through with the proceedings were brought to a close by singing "God Save the Queen." The audience, which the concert was conducted addressed very creditably upon the committee of management. Mr. Alfred Alfred, our thinking especially deserving of credit for the vigorous efforts he put forth in order to ensure the success of the entertainment.

At the close of the concert, a number of the visitors from Guelph, Acton and elsewhere, on the invitation of Mr. Anstee, proceeded to that gentleman's residence, where they were made the recipients of the most unbound hospitality on the part of Mr. and Mrs. Anstee and their family, who did everything in their power to promote the enjoyment of their guests. A most sumptuous spread was done ample justice to, after which amusements, dancing, etc., were entered into with spirit until after the "wassena" hours when the company dispersed.

In conclusion, it would say that if ever you want to spend a pleasant evening go to the next Rockwood Concert.—Mercury.
