THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 20, 1876.

Considerable depression is reported to prevail in the iron districts of England.

The British Government has intimated to the United States that it is ready to negotiate a new Extradition Treaty.

It is understood Mr. Hendricks will accept the Democratic nomination for the Vice-Presidency of the United States.

The writ for the election of a member to represent Glengarry in the Commen, in place of Mr. Archibald McNabb, unseated, has been issued. Nomination takes place on the 24th inst., and voting on the 31st.

Murad V., the new Sultan, is in bad health. The suicide of his uncle and the massacre of his Ministers are said to have shattered his constitution, and that his brain has begun to soften. His brother is spoken of as his successor.

The Prince of Montenegro, who has displayed more ability than Milan of Servia, announces his intention of conducting the war against Turkey on his own account, independent of Servia. His troops have been victorious so far.

The price of wheat is falling considerably in England. The growing crops promises well, and the war in Turkey has no influence on the market. The consumption of East Indian wheat continues on the increase, and acts as a check on the demand for Russian and American samples.

The municipal council of Yarmouth have given notice to all parties who have Canada thistles on their land that the full penalties of the law will be enforced against them if such thistles are not cut down as by law directed.

A correspondent of the Hamilton Spectator advocates the appointment of a wool inspector in each town, so that wool may be inspected in a somewhat similar manner to that adopted with hides. The correspondent claims that this would do away with the present docking system, by which he considers farmers heavy losers. The matter is one well worthy of careful consideration.

Business is greatly depressed in India. The enormous rate of exchange is the cause of depression. Except the mutiny this is the worst crisis in Anglo-Indian history, and there are few instances anywhere of a calamity so crushing and so general. If the depression continues it will probably paralyze the export trade.

The Intercolonial Railway appears to have had a good opening and its prospects are encouraging, through freights and passenger traffic to the Lower Province being reported as rapidly increasing. It remains to be seen whether it will be regularly and easily worked in winter, when its advantages will be by far most valuable and most required.

The instense heat appears to be as fatal in its results as pestilence or plague in New York and other cities south. The thermometer averaged 126° in the sun in New York on Thursday, and fourteen more deaths by sunstroke were reported to the police. The deaths in that city last week numbered 1,298, an increase of 140 over the previous week.

Conservative Demonstration.

It is announced that the Liberal Conservatives of Halton will hold a monster celebration at Milton on August 30th when Sir John A. Macdonald, Hon. M. C. Cameron and other prominent Conservatives will be present and deliver addresses.

The Canadians at Wimbleton.

A telegram dated Wimbleton, July 15th says: The heat is intense, and as a consequence the shooting is inferior. In the St. George's Challenge Vase competition Sergt. T. Mitchell, 13th Batt., Ontario; Lieut. Fitch, 78th, Batt., Nova Scotia; and Bomb. Crowe, Wellington Field Battery, Ontario, win prizes. In the Prince of Wales' Prize open only to medallists, Sergt. D. Mitchell, 13th Batt., Ontario, and Sergt. Corbin, 63rd Batt., also win prizes.

A horrible catastrophe is reported from Portsmouth England. The great turret ship "Thunderer," recently launched, was making its trial trip, Friday, in Stokes Bay, when the boiler burst forward. Thirty-four of the crew were killed on the spot or have since died, and a great many others were wounded. The forward and 4th after stokeholes were divided from each other, so that the stokers in the latter were protected from fragments caused by the explosion, but, it is said, were literally boiled to death, the flesh being stripped from their limbs by the escaping steam.

Bishop Bourget is very ill, and not expected to recover.

The Sioux are said to have ten thousand braves on the war path.

Canada will carry off the chief prizes in butter and cheese at the Centennial.

The Dunkin Act was carried in the township of March, last week, by a majority of fifteen votes.

The birth of a child with two heads is reported from St. Famille, Island of Orleans, Quebec.

On Sunday morning a daring attempt was made to rob the jewelery store of S. E. Stephenson, Elora.

The residence of John Fraser, Kingston, was robbed on Saturday night of $500 worth of silver and lace.

The Canadian representative yacht, the Countess of Dufferin, arrived in New York last Monday night.

A severe shock of earthquake was experienced in Vienna Monday afternoon. It lasted several seconds. No damage was done.

An old man named Maurice Enright died suddenly at Perth on Thursday from prostration by heat. The thermometer was 95° in the shade.

Some forty or fifty vessels were lying between St. Catharines and Thorold on Sunday. This is an indication of a slight improvement in the vessel trade.

Mr. A. McArthur, a farmer residing near Alvinston, was found dead on the road, last week, in the vicinity of his own house. It is believed he was struck by lightning.

The married ladies of a Western city have formed a "Come-home-husband Club." It is about four feet long, and has a brush on the end of it.

Mr. John McKay, Registrar of Elgin, and one of the oldest and most respected citizens of St. Thomas, died on his way to the seaside on Monday.

The Empire House at Brockville and a brick tenement house occupied by three families, was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning. Loss $20,000.

Mr. Goldwin Smith expects to sail for Europe in October, with the intention of spending several months in England and on the continent.

The convict Arnold, who attempted to escape from Kingston penitentiary, has been found in a drain under the carpenter's shop with a week's provisions of bread and tobacco.

C. W. Kent, who killed a man named Howie in a street fight in London some weeks ago, has, by the verdict of the coroner's jury, been committed for manslaughter. He, however, procured bail and was released.

A Mrs. McGirr, wife of a shoemaker living on Duchess street, Toronto, committed suicide by hanging herself in a shed behind her house Tuesday morning. She had buried a child the day before, and it is supposed grief had driven her insane.

The barley harvest has begun in the vicinity of Belleville. Several fields were cut last week and secured in good order. The heads are large and well filled and the berry very plump. But the yield of straw will be short and not up to the standard crop.

It is now reported that the death of the daughter of Mr. J. A. Armstrong, of Eramosa, was caused by suicide; that she put a gag in her mouth, tied her hands, and jumped head-foremost into the barrel of water in which she was found drowned. The cause given is disappointment in love.

An examination of the accounts of Brush, the absconding cashier of the Intercolonial Railway, shows that he is a defaulter to the extent of about $15,000, and he is said to have taken about $10,000 away with him. He carried on his rascality by means of forgery, but as there is no extradition treaty with the United States he cannot be brought back.

Keep Cool.

The continuance of the "hot spell" this season, with so little variation, is rather remarkable. It is observed that the danger from sunstroke appears to increase with the number of days the great heat lasts. Although the mercury may not at the hottest hour of the day go so high as it did at the opening of the heated term, yet, to a certain extent, the night temperature rises through accumulation being greater than the radiation of heat into space. It is also pointed out that from want of sleep during many hot nights succeeding each other, and other causes, the system becomes reduced and less capable of withstanding the dangerous influences of any particularly hot day. If, therefore, as appears likely, we are to have some time longer of the present hot spell, we shall all be wise to increase our precautions to avoid over-exertion and over excitement, and in a general way to "keep cool" to the best of our ability.

An Old Invitation.

It is precisely one hundred years since Canada was asked to become one of the Confederated States of America. The members of Congress were so satisfied she would accept the invitation, that the eleventh of the "Articles of Confederation and Perpetual Union" was framed especially to admit her, the following being the words: "Canada on acceding to this Confederation and joining in the measures of the United States, shall be admitted to and entitled to all the advantages of this Union; but no other colony shall be admitted into the same, unless such admission be agreed to by nine States." Though Canada did not accept the invitation, high hopes were entertained for some years that she would do so. It may be said these hopes never died, for they gave birth to a feeling that at several times provoked attempts to take this country by force of arms, but they happily proved futile. Our cousins by no means despair, however, for they continually express the wish that Canada belonged to them. There is no immediate prospect of its being gratified, for we are content with our relations with England and the system of Government we have. But the Americans are generally believers in the doctrine of manifest destiny and profess to be waiting, with every patience, for the time when "Canada and Mexico, like two ripened and luscious pears, shall drop into our lap," as one of the leading journals recently expressed it. There is ample room on this continent for two great and powerful nations, and this the more intelligent classes of Americans now admit. Both may grow and prosper without interfering with the other, and live on the best terms of friendship and good cousinship. We believe no Canadian regrets that the eleventh article of Confederation as signed July 4th, 1776, in Philadelphia, was never worth anything more than the paper on which it was written. For 100 years we have lived side by side as two nations, and, with the continuance of the friendly sentiments now mutually expressed, there is no reason to fear that at the end of another century the two nations, vastly more powerful and great, will not be able to enter the third as happily and prosperously as they have the second.—Hamilton Times.

European Grain Trade.

WHEAT ON THE DOWN COME.

LONDON, July 17.—The Mark Lane Express in its usual weekly review of the grain trade says: Wheat promises fair, both in quantity and quality. The plant is now strong and healthy. The probable yield will be something over 12,000,000 quarters. Barley continues to look well. The condition of all other cereals is satisfactory. Our market has been unaffected by the war in Turkey, no intervention by other powers appearing probable. Trade has been much depressed, owing to the immense surplies arriving. Nearly 175,000 quarters foreign wheat have arrived during the past forthight. Prices have given way two shillings per quarter, and unless the weather or political influence check the decline it appears unlikely wheat can maintain even its present depressed value. There is a large trade in Indian this year, and the favor which this class of grain has found with the millers has caused the consumption of Russian and American to fall off much more than might be imagined. It is not unlikely that the future range of prices will be lower than we have been accustomed to. The number of cargoes of wheat off the coast is 58. But few sales have transpired. The position of the market is somewhat indefinite. Buyers are holding off, and holders are not reconciled to low prices. A decline of fully 2s. per quarter on floating cargoes has, however, taken place during the week. Maize has met with limited inquiry. Quotations are unaltered. Barley has been steady.

PARIS GREEN.—The Canada Farmer warns its readers against the use of Paris green as an exterminator of the potato bug. It states that several reports have lately come, well authenticated, showing that its careless application has resulted in direct poisoning. Among these is one of a man who narrowly escaped with his life, from inhaling the dust, though he wore a veil by way of protection. The fact, our contemporary observes, points to one or other of two issues, either not to use it at all, which is the better course, or if it must be employed, to use it with the utmost caution, and in every case, to have its antidote, the hydrated sesquioxide of iron, at hand. Besides the risk of personal injury to the person applying this remedy, there is to say the least of it, a possibility of deleterious effects on the tuber itself. This is ridiculed in many quarters, but we are by no means convinced that it does not find its way by absorption into the plant. Moreover, the dust, carried by the wind to adjacent pastures and highways has cost many people a good family cow. There is really no necessity for using this risky article. The bugs can be kept down by hand-picking without very great cost of time and trouble.

Whose are the Diamonds?

A MAN IN TORONTO WITH $22,000 WORTH OF BRILLIANTS — THE STONES SUPPOSED TO HAVE BEEN STOLEN.

Last Thursday Detective Reid received word that a party had been attempting to dispose of a large number of diamonds. After calling at the jeweller's store where the stones had been offered for sale, and getting a description of the party, Detectives Reid and Newhall proceeded in search of the possessor of the brilliants. They were not long in overhauling their man, whom they arrested at the corner of Adelaide and Church streets. On his being taken to No. 1 Station he gave the name of Alexander Myers, and states that he is a Polish Jew. On searching Myers the following were found on him: Two hundred unset stones, of from nine to sixteen carats, many of them worth as much as $1,500; several diamond rings; two sets of ear-rings; and broaches worth $2,000 each. Besides these he had in his possession a lot of silver and gold ware. The total value of the stones and jewellery is estimated at over $22,000. The large stones are stated by a practical man to be of the purest water, and the values of them as stated in the above figures are not thought to be beyond the mark. The cause which brought suspicion on Myers was the fact of having offered a lot of stones for sale at much below their actual value. Myers was brought before the Police Court on Saturday, and remanded till the 22nd instant, to permit of enquiries being made. It is not unlikely that this case may prove a sequel to some of the large diamond robberies reported as having taken place in England a considerable time ago, and which have remained shrouded in mystery. Perhaps by the day on which the case again comes up some information may be forthcoming from the Old World.—Globe.

A Farmer Murdered by His Neighbor.

FITZROY HARBOUR, July 15.

Last night, a shocking tragedy occurred in the township of Torbolton over a trivial matter. Two years ago, it seems, W. Mohr fired some brush and burned D. Brosenham's barn and the greater part of his crop. He went out yesterday to burn some more brush, when Bresenham said he would shoot him if he did. Hot words ensued, when in the height of passion, Bresenham seized a gun and deliberately fired at Mohr. The charge took effect in his body, and the result was instantaneous death. The report of murder soon spread through the district and created great excitement. The authorities were informed of the tragedy, and a warrant was issued for the murderer's arrest. Mohr leaves a widow and small family. The murderer is also a married man. No attempt was made to detain him. His wife thinks he has shot himself. He had been a very peaceful man and a good neighbor. No one in the vicinity thought him capable of such a crime, and many think he was insane.

Grand Lodge of A. F. & A. M.

The twenty-first annual communication of the Grand Lodge of A. F. & A. M. was opened in Ottawa on Wednesday, about 300 being present, including the various grand officers. M. W. Bro. Smith, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of New Jersey, visited the lodge in the afternoon, receiving a cordial welcome. In response he alluded to the cordial feelings which had always existed between the Grand body over which he presided, and the Grand Lodge of Canada. The lodge was opened in ample form by M. W. Bro. Kerr, when the minutes of the former meeting were read, and after the transaction of formal business, the Grand Master delivered his annual address. That portion of the address referring to the difficulty with the "Grand Lodge of Ontario," was listened to attentively, and his suggestion that the rebellious brethren should be summarily expelled was received with warm applause by the entire assembly. At the evening session a motion was introduced for permanently locating the session of the Grand Lodge in Toronto, which was negatived.

A motion brought forward with a view to holding the next meeting at Brantford was lost, and the motion in favor of St. Catharines carried.

The Committee on General Purposes recommended the expulsion of forty-six members of the so-called Grand Lodge of Ontario, which the Grand Lodge ratified, amid applause, unanimously, none of the expelled appearing to show cause why such expulsion should not be made. Five were suspended for a year. G. M. Kerr was re-elected Grand Master.

VETERANS OF 1812.—The issue of checks of $20 to the veterans of 1812, by the Militia Department, has been commenced. They are sent to each man by mail, payable to his order. There are 3,005 men all told to receive the gratuity this year. This is about 150 more than were paid last year, but who have since proved the validity of their claims. Since the payment last year 120 veterans have died.

THE CHRISTIANS VOLUNTEERING AGAINST SERVIA—THE NEW BULGARIAN ABOUT TO ABDICATE.

LONDON, July 17.—A Standard's Vienna despatch says that the Turks have crossed the Timok at two places. Riots are feared at Belgrade in consequence of Government reticence. Prince Milan and the Ristic are accused of treachery even by Russia. Prince Milan has written to the Czar, asking his intervention towards a mitigation of the brutalities practised by the Circassians. The Russian ambulance sanitary corps are passing through Roumania. A force of 22,000 Turks leaves Sofia, on Sunday to reinforce Nisch.

The Journal de St. Petersburg denies that Prince Milan has asked Russia to intercede for an armistice.

A Times correspondent telegraphs from Parakin on the 14th instant: "I had an interview with Prince Milan to-day. He denies Servia is a tool of Russia. On the contrary Russia advised Servia against war. War has arisen because Servia believes that prosperity is impossible against Turkish administration. He does not look to diplomacy now but to arms. He believes that Servia will be victorious. He does not ask any Power to assist, but expects that no Christian State will take part against Servia. She will fight to the death for her rights."

A special to the News from Vienna says that the Montenegrins took 1,500 prisoners on Saturday. A Telegraph's Constantinople special says that the Servians were defeated at Leebovic, in Bosnia, losing 200 killed and 300 wounded, and also at Ivsor, where they lost 900 killed and wounded.

LONDON, July 17.—Accounts from the seat of the Servo Turkish war are very confused and conflicting. Not only do the Turkish and Serian bulletins conflict, but the reports of special correspondents are according to their sympathies and points of observation. For instance the Times this morning has a special despatch from Parakin saying that there was no great battle between Osman Pasha and the Servian General Leschjanin on Wednesday, while a special despatch from Vienna to the Telegraph says General Leschjanin's decisive defeat is confirmed. Osman Pasha has driven him across the River Timok and is advancing into Servia. General Leschjanin lost his artillery and it is reported that he himself was killed.

The Ottoman Ministry have resolved to allow the Turkish army to assume the offensive.

LONDON, July 18.—The Standard's Constantinople correspondent telegraphs that the health of the Sultan causes great anxiety.

Fatal Casualties.

ST. CATHARINES, July 17.—The bodies of two unknown men were washed ashore at Queenston yesterday.

The body of an unknown man was found in the mill-race here yesterday.

COOKSTOWN, July 17.—The eldest son, aged 15, of Thomas Norris, named Egbert, was drowned on Sabbath while bathing in the river with a number of boys.

BINBROOK, July 17.—On Wednesday evening last a young man named Peckham in the employ of T. Berry, while engaged in mowing grass with a scythe, was prostrated by sunstroke, and in spite of all that could be done for him—medical aid had been speedily procured he died about six o'clock the same evening.

On the same day a man named William Nicholls, while driving home from an adjoining farm on a load of hay, was sunstruck. A physician was immediately sent for, but before his arrival death had ensued.

BLYTH, July 17. — Mrs. Wm Baird, of the township of Hullett, near Blyth, died very suddenly on Saturday morning last. She seemed quite well up to the time of her death. She went to a neighbor's house on an errand about seven o'clock, and at half past eight she died. There was no person with her when she died except her children, the oldest being about seven years old. Her husband was away from home. At the inquest the jury brought in a verdict that death was caused by congestion of the brain.

ELOPEMENT.—The London Free Press relates a startling story of elopement, wherein a married man, father of a grown-up family, and acting as an insurance agent, absconded with the wife of a neighbor, who also leaves a family. The affair seems to have been maturing for many months, during which the two families were intimate, the illicit relationship being kept very close. There seemed a prospect of its being blown upon, however, and the guilty people decided to end the matter summarily by running away. The man has been a prominent member of the Board of School Trustees.

Robbery at Grimsby.

On Monday night John Smith and Charles Neilson, two young Swedes, working for some time back for Ira F. Calder, left their employer's residence, near Grimsby, and carried away a considerable amount of valuables. They took Mrs. Calder's gold watch and chain, Mr. Calder's pocket book containing $12 in cash and some valuable papers, a valise, and a number of other things amounting to nearly $200.

A CARD.—To all suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, Bible House, New York City.

EPPS' COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Sold only in packets labeled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homeopathic Chemist, 48, Threadneedle Street, and 170, Piccadilly, London."
