What the Country Papers do.

What will you take?

It is vain to stick your finger in the water, and, pulling it out, look for a hole; it is equally vain to suppose that, however large a space you occupy, the world will miss you when you die.

One of the most remarkable features of the Centennial is the order preserved in the vast crowds of people present.

There is no ruddyism nor drunkenness, and a lady may go alone, with no fear of being insulted.

With a daily average of one hundred thousand people in attendance there is seldom a case of disorder reported.

Those who ascertain suspicions of all are much to be suspected.
