THE:ACTON

PRESS

Is Published EVERY THUR DAY MORNING

Free Press Building, CARD OF THANKS Next to the Post Office.

TREMS .- One dellar a year, strictly in lone dottar and a half will be charge :; or they have bestowed on me during two dottars if not paid it: the end of the the past year, and would respect.

The sear Single copies turce cents. No the past year, and would respect. To tops and marbles bade adieu, and will be sent to any person more fully solicit a continuance of the And tried, but could not learn, to chew? ran one year unpakt. BATES OF ADVERTISING -Eight could oper line for first insertion, and two cents , er dne for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements of eight lines and Cards of eight lines and under, $1 per A Eberal discount allowed on adver tsemeras inserted for extended periods

Advertisements without special dustrucgons inserted till forbid, and charged Any Special Notice, the object of which is to promote the pecuniary benefit of any individual or e unpany, to be considered an advertisement. Transient advertisements to be paid for when ordered. All alvestising accounts

ED

metate

C'SOMO

have his deed the

He our

es Total

uetph:

oime.

CO.

Notices of Births Marriages and MOORE & GAUSEAITH. T. A. MINGE, S. W. GALBRAITH, Editor.

BUSINESS CARDS.

Charles and the second second second

H. LOWRY. M. B., M. . c. P. S. Graduate of Trinity Calier. Memberof Callegeof Physicians Frolerick Street, Acron, in the house

R. B. MORROW, Physiege. Nor York, also Graduate of Victoria . Trestays and Priliays from 9 a. m. Pill a m. Mesidence-West Boger street,

HENDERSON, Conveyand an reach the terms. Money to Liquet derience security. Office-

Ginigos House, Acton. B. MATHESON, Attorneysea. 121 -C green of waln and Church Circuis. Georgetown,

THE COOPER.

Provincial Land Surveyor and Civil Engineer, Guelph.

Onfors by much promptly attended to. WM. LUDLAW. Barrister.

war of he fend at they Millian Office" on han i.

HENRY L. DRIKE,

INSURINCE AGEST, GUELPH. Agent for the Mercant fe and Waterless. Aff basiness intrasted to his cure will be ! fathfully attended to office at Day's Acton, Jan. 7, 1878 #14ress-1 to Gu don or Dron Post Office Will receive prompt attention H. L. DRAKE GEORGE LEVENS.

DATENTS for INVENTIONS Canada the United States and Europe, Patent guarante d or no enarge. Send Cor printe I instructions. Age Goy in operation ben years. HENRY GLIST. Medianical Engineer, Solicitor of Pa

WILLIAM WATERING.

tenis and Draugh sman.

ssaer Marriag Licenses & Certificates By Royal Ap, outment.) Basiness'p ivate and confidential Office at the Post Office, Glenwilliam, OLIVER LOZIER, Plasterer, the most re wonable terms, and satisface tion guaranteed. DOSSIN HOUSE, Acton.

g public. THOS. CAMPBELL, Propr. DOMINION HOTEL, Acton. Travellers wi 15nd good accommo latter acl commolion; Sample Looms, Special attention pai f to the wants of the travelling public, Bar supplied with the bes

Liquors and Cigars, Good Stabiling and WH. HEMSTREET, Licensed Auctioneer For the Counties of Wellington and 'Halton. Orders laft at the FREE PRESS Office, Acton, or at my residence, in Practical Bookbinder.

Neatly Executed.

Account Books of all Kinds Made.

Ruling Promptly Attended to

BINDERY-St. George's Square, Cuepk

Co Orlers leftat the FREE !" Office will receive prompt attention.

PORK PACKING HOUSE.

The subscriber has always on hand all kinds of fresh Meat, Sausages and ! e. Poultry, cheep. Acton, Dec. 12th 1877.

CTON BAKERY.

At this season I take much pleas: And sat me on the ice to wait, ure-ir thanking my numerous cus While he went home with Cousin Kato? advance. If not pad before three months tomers for the liberal patronage

Customers can always rely on re-

BREAD, BUNS, BISCUITS CAKES, CONFECTIONERY

No credit given except to promp paying monthly customers. R. T. GALLOWAY.

coc., co.

XMASII

Splendill Xuas preents, for eld an

PETRIE'S BOOKETORE, MASO IIC BLOCK, Upper Wyndhair Street,

The last place to get your Xmas Pres-

XMAS CARDS, BOOKMARKS &c

British Workman & Workwoman Sunday Magazine, Sunday at Home Leisure Hour, guiver, Chatterbox.

R. W. PETRIE. Orders may be left at this office. Guelpt., Pec. 1, 1877.

THEE ONTARIO

SADDLERY

ACTON.

Buy your Harness at the Ontario

All parties intending to pur- storm or gale could disturd. these liamets should do so at once Lefore the fus. commences in order to secure a good set.

Barber and Hairdresser, joining Secord Bros.' Store, Mill Street; Acton. -Hair switches and combings prepared to order. OYSTERS received daily by express.

The undersigned begs leave to inform the people of Acton and surrounding neighborhood that he has procured a magnificent HEARSE. And is prepared to attend and conduct Funerals on the shortest notice and most moderate terms. Caskets, Coffins, Burial Robes,-Rockword, will be promptly attended to: And al! kinds of Funeral Furnish ings kept in stock, and supplied on the shortest notice.

TROLLOPE CHAPMAN, Hat Bands and Gloves supplied when

All Descriptions of Binding on buy first class Planos and Ongans cheaper of DANonly for cash, takes no risks and has no book accounts. Every instrument is fully warranted for six years | share, unknown to anyone. as strictly first class, and are sent ngton, New Jersey.

TOB PRINTING of all kinds

CHAS. CAMERON. | neatly 111 proinctly-executed at the Next the Post Office Mill Street.

MY BROTHER. Who was it picked up all the chips, And strewed the floor with strings and

And in the washtub sailed his ships?

Who was it ate the currant jell, And threw the kitten in the well

And made me promise not to tell? Who was it taught me how to akate,

And oils and colors it with care, And in the middle parts his hair?

Who is it tumbles up my curls, And buys me bracelets, rings and pearls, And firts with all the pretty girls?

And talks to me about his clothes, And all my listle secrets knows, And tenses me about my beaux?

Who is it that I love the best, Of all the boys in east or west, Although he is a perfect pest?

FOR LIFE OR DEATH.

Concluded from last week.

die like cowards. Behave like men, bit of dracker. obey orders, and everything will On the fourth morning the sun once more a dead silence reigned to the main deck, when the Sair clear, running streams of pure thunder struck upon the mate's ear derland gave a sudded lurch; the crystal water.

Sidillery, where you get the worth tendenly in their arms, and bore jumped overboard in a frenzy, and him to the cabin; but Iffe had fled; slowly sank to the depths below. A splendid lot of NEW COLLARS | the soul of the old sailor had found a haven of rest with God, that no!

were loggy, and it was evident that (leather composing their boots. the Sunderland would soon sink.

joy burst from the lips of the men silent he sat, like a guardian angel the dancing rays of the sun streamas they saw them safely launched watching o'er the welfare of ing into their eyes, and a loud, Honor."

By Ingram's direction, Mr. owner's daughter, accompanied him, draw lots." and with a wave of his hand the brave seaman directed the boat's crews to shove off.

lost to view.

As near as possible the two boats women die first, I say." remained in company, and with y disappeared from sight.

Ingram's heart ached as he gazed as he thought of the long days and men struggled to their feet. nights that must intervene before

But a limited supply of provi- although taken by surprise. sions and water had been laid in, "What would you do men? In tion that morning was unusually and all hands were at once placed gasped the mate. the supplies in the stern sheets, reply. to , New Jersey, than any them ; and for fear the pangs of dogs ! Would you attack a defense ers as if her heart would break. other manufacturer in the United hunger and thirst might assail the less woman? Stand back, or I'll The minister chose "Faith" as the States. Why? Because he sells young lady, the brave fellow man- brain the first one of you that subject of his discourse, and in the

The night passed slowly by, and stood on the defensive. on from 5 to 15 days' test trial, with the first gray streaks of dawn money refunded and freight paid the men were gazing eagerly about fell back. A low, hollow murmur "I would, my dear brethren," he both ways by him if they are usatis- them, and searching the horizon was heard for a moment, then one said, "that all congregations every. VERTISER (Catalogue Edition) and for some signs of a sail. Soon it of the sailors turned toward the where could take example of that re d testimonials from his patrons, became apparent to them that dur- mate. mome of whom you may know. Ad- ing the night they had parted "You refuse to allow the woman so universally among us."

was nowhere to be seen. back all the colors of the rainbow, the rest."

as some mimic spray flow over the | low gunwale of the boat. would prey one upon another ?" The small portion of bread, the mere thimbleful of water, were are dying !" served out with an impartial hand There were nine persons in the by the mate, and, weary with boat, and eight white buttons and watching, the men sought to forget one black were deposited under a their troubles by indulging in hat and thoroughly mixed. Each steadily by, bringing with them no button was to be the victim for relief from the dangers that agdin | the remainder to prey upon. enveloped the shipwrecked crew. No sail appeared on the horizon to men; but understand, I'll have cheer their aching eyes, no welcome | nothing to do with the feast if firmness almost superhuman, smothered the fearful pangs gnaw ing at his vitals, and resolutely put away a portion with the amount already saved.

Ingram served out the last morsel old result.

Miss Lo Moyne suffered less the black button !" than the rest of the boat's crew. owing probably to the fact of her a moment, uncertain how to pro remaining perfectly still. Her ceed. They ilid not care to turn color had fled, her cheeks were wan their knives upon a man whom and her eyes sunken, but her little | they admired in spite of them lithe frame contained a considerable | selves.

mount of vitality. jealous care, and during the night life-blood shall flow for the good of found an opportunity to moisten all; but life is sweet, and all I ask "I do not want your blood on her lips with water. She at first, is a chance for my life. It is my hands, and although our lives refused to accept the precious nearly sundown; if nothing turns may be short for this world, you'll liquid, but the mate insisted, and | the scales in our favor by sunrise, | Murphy's head showed itself outhave no more rum to make you finally prevailed upon her to eat a you can do with me as you will."

be done to escape with our lives, rose upon a cloudless sky. Not a over the beat. Miss (L. Moyn But mark me men; the first one breath of air ruffled the glassy sur- had sunk into a species of swoon, of ye that attempts to break into face of the bay, and the bright and was scarcely conscious. the spirit room I'll brain with this blue waters sparkled and shoue axe; and you know I mean what before the tantalizing eyes of the clouds, upon which the mate had seamen. They could no longer fastened his eyes with a deep long-The two parties stood glaring at forget their misery in sleep. Their ing gaze. His dark orbs lit up each other, when the captain ap- tongues were swollen and parched, with a wistful light as the cloud peated on deck, alarmed by the they could not swallow, and if they increased, spreading rapidly over fierce tones of the mate's voice. He closed their eyes, they were hannt the heavens. Darker and darker was descending the ladder leading ed by visions of fountains, and grew the night; the rumble of old man lost his footbold, grasped - The day wore on, the sun beat patter of rain aroused the seamen. at the empty air, and fell beavily, lown upon them with remorseless his head coming in contact with fury, increasing their agony and suffering. One poor fellow, his Ingram and Jones, raised him brain tortured by factastic delusion,

In the sunken eyes of the men they were themselves. a wolfish glare was perceptible as All through the night the rair they gazed at one another. Every- fell, and with it came a moderate Much valuable time had been thing that could be chewed had breeze. The boat drifted before it, wasted, the movements of the ship teen disposed of, even to the rising and falling gently on the

. The mate, with a grasp of iron, unheeded : the men slept, and even She had two boats, which were clutched the tiller, but the boat Blanche and the mate were buried in good condition, and a shout of was drifting at will. Grim and in slumber. They were aroused by Blanche Le Moyne.

" How is this to end?" mutter-Jone's took charge of one boat, with ed one of the men. "My brain is windward, was a large passenger his portion of the ship's company, on fire-a raging furnace is within steamer, lowering a boat. The rail while he directed the movements of me. Some must suffer that others was lined with passengers, gizing the other. Miss Le Moyne, the may live. Shipmates shall we down upon the poor unfortunates.

"Not yet, not yet," replied one; life was truly reprieved, and tears "there is one here who must soon stood in his dark eyes as they lifted die, who'is weaker than us, and it him over the ginway. Rising on the crest of a huge will be no sin to anticipate death | The steamer reached Liverpool sea, the boats were rapidly swept for a few hours. Besides, we have | when the safety of the second-mate's to leeward, and the waterlogged exhausted our strength for the boat was ascertained. ship, covered with spray, and common good. She has done noth Blanche reached her Southern plunging bows under, was soon ing, her life is useless, she is a dead home in safety, when she related

"Let the woman die!" echoed of her parents and friends. anxious eyes, the seamen gazed the crew, as they started simul- old gentleman wiped the tears from about the horizon as the sun slow- taneously to their feet, at the same his eyes as he listened to his only. The mate, exhausted by long bravery, to whom she owed her upon the slight form of the lady watching, anxiety, and weak from life. passenger, who had been reared in hunger, had sunk into an uneasy the lap of luxury, and a shade of doze, from which he was aroused letter in his humble home by the sorrow darkened his countenance by the rocking of the bat, as the seashore, containing a draft for ten

Looking up, he found himself master's interest in the finest ship confronted by the half-frantic owned by Le Moyne & Co., of Enveloped in a long coat, to sailors. Their eyes glowed with New Orleans. shield her from the blirding spray, the light of insanity, their tongues she cronched by his side, pale and protruded from their shrunken lips, silent. The boats rode the seas which were drawn tightly over with the buoyancy of ducks, ship-ftheir gleaming teeth. Each sheathping but little water as they float- knife was raised aloft with a threat ening air, but Ingram shrank not, for fear of overloading the boats, God's name, what do you mean? upon short allowance. Mr. Ingram " "The wom in is dying, and we pew, and old Mrs. Mumblechin, had tak in the precautions to stow | would drink her blood," was the | who has just got back from a trip where he could keep an eye upon . Drink her blood, you cowardly away, and sighing during the prayaged to reserve a portion of his offers to advance a step !" and un- course of his remarks dwelt with shipping the heavy oaken tiller, he fervour upon the beauty and power death stares us in the face; we grocer, with whom hearly every The sun rose in unclouded splen- must 'do something; or all will family in church had an account dor, the waters but slowly agitated perish. We have resolved to draw that couldn't be collected, rose up, from the late agle, shone and spur. lots for life or death, and the evidently in high dudgeon, soized kled in the brilliant rays, reflecting woman must take her chance with his hat, and indignantly left the like an intemperate man? Because to get inside the bar and take a nip hand writers in London at less that

" No; but we are desperate-we man was to draw, and whoever Three days and nights word became the possessor of the black

"I'll take a chance with you, appearance of land to revive their run free;" and the mate, for the hundredth time, cast his eyes At noon of the third day Mr. around the horizon with the same

of bread and the remaining supply | One by one the men drew forth of water, which was eagerly seized | the buttons, until but two were upon by the suffering and half left, one of which was the fatal black ballot. The chances of life The mate, with a courage and and death lay between Blauche Le Movne and her protector. With a firm hand, the mate drew forth a button-it was white. "That is for you, Miss Le Moyne; and men; I have drawn

The crew gazed at each other for

" Listen to me, men! My life i The mate watched over her with | forfeited, if you require it, and my The reprieve was granted, and What is your plea?" with a sweet cadence, and soon the Down rushed the rain, and, with terrible eagerness, the sailors drank in copious draughts of the precious large portion of their pains and elf sworn.' agony was forgotten, and once more ocean swell; but everything was

There, but a short distance They were saved; the mate's weight upon our hands. Let the the story of her sufferings to the wondering and sympathizing cars time drawing their sheath-knives. | daughter's account of Ingram's

Soon after, the mate received a thousand dollars, and offering a

Too Much Trust.

It is only a Sunday or two ago. at a country church in-Valley, not a hundred miles from berethat it happened. The congregalarge. Deacon Spiffins and his four daughters were in the front to Europe, was there, too; singing of that trait, as exemplified in the The men hesitated, wavered, and faithful flock gathered before him. sweet; pirit of trust which pervades

Gress DANIEL F. BEATTY, Wash - company with the other boat, which to be sacrificed. So be it; but At this remark the village

"Are ye cannibals, men, that ye How Her Mind Began to and Tom prepared to listen. there's Mrs. Smith up at the and luxurious men, clothing themcross-roads, she ower me $1.75 for selves in soft raiment, and faring butter; see ye get it."

She forgets nothing." lage," continued Mrs. Murphy. "She owes me $2.50 for milk."

the last, sinsible to the last !" said "Go on, my dear."

"And-and-" I owe ber-" we've allowed her to talk too much entirely, so we bave."

Patrick's Poor Painting " Ha !" cried the court as Patrick side the corridor door.

"That's me-I'm here!" answer-" Mr. Murphy, there's a comdaint here against you." "Isn't it against me brother what do you say to the charge of 'are you guilty or not !' " I say that drukenness is a bad

"So it is, and you may and it colly, boss, 'clare never done "The same a lawyer would an-

"You plend not guilty, and now we'll have the proofs pro and con. Have you any witnesses?" liquid. They were refreshed; a "Yes, sir. I wish to have my

> "You can make your statement f you desire. Begin at the begining and tell a straight story. "Woll, sir," began Patrick as he drew in a deep breath. "I was born in 1832 on a side hill about fourteen miles from-" "What has that to do with how you got drunk in 1878?" interrupt morning, then - with your first "My first glass was a cup of " And your second ?"

"Well, begin with yesterday

" Was a glass of camphor to ease y aching tooth." ". Patrick, I can't waste time over your case. Let me tell you a little story with a paint brush in yarns, Judge."

January, 1878," began the court, "a gentleman named Patrick Murthy thought to add to the elegance of his home by painting the parlor a sky-blue, the kitchen a sky-red, picked in with lead color and putty. some dry paints, borrowed a white- be entitled a comedy of errors on wash brush, and after he had put in half a day's work he hardly knew Lis own house, nor his wife, nor his babies, nor his cat, nor his poor old mother. There was paint till they couldn't rest. Some had one blue eye and one red one others wore ultramarine noses and chromo-yellow eye-brows, and the babies' hair exhibited seven differ-wife felt like the old boy, and the the other moon? Because it has a house smelled like a Chinese pig- | man in it. pen. Well--" "And do you blame me for get ting drunk?" called out the prison-ent and beautiful shades of color.

Patrick felt like an old master, his

" Patrick, the smell of that paint lrove the family out of the house. killed the cat, upset the cook stove would break," the old lady said | Parliament in taking down notes and stopped the clock. It has got when she buried her seventh hus! of testimony and pleas before the to be scraned off." "And if you send me up, my poor wife'll have to do it?"

"The same, Patrick. That's the reason you can go. Go home and screps acquaintance with doors and base boards, and the next time you want to paint don't use kerosene. " What then ?"

" I'll do it, sir-good by."

"Sweet oil, of course.'

A Success and a Failure. A capital story is told of the

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy famous Scotch preacher, Dr. Guthlived on a farm. They were shrowd | rie, which shows that the same exand thrifty, and had the reputation pedient may sometimes carry a popof being "close." Finally, Mrs. ular audience by storm, and at Murphy sickened, and was about other times excite shouts of deristo die. Finding herself nearing the live laughter. Dr. Guthrie was prosperous of vegetables? It always end, she expressed a desire to put once replying to Dr. Ritchie, an things in order before she expired, eloquent speaker, who in a public meeting had attacked the ministers see me," as the fish said to the "Tom," said Mrs. Murphy, of the Established Church, as idle angler.

sumptuously every day. "Then, there's Mrs. Jones down Guthrie saw his opportunity, at the creek. She owes me $1.50 and made the most of it. He had walked into town in heavy boots, "Ah, look at that, now, for a over a middy road, and boots and save there are at present only 17, moind !" said Tom, admiringly. trousers were spattered with mud. | 000 Quakers in England and Wales, Advancing to the front of the plat- while in 1700 they numbered 60,-"And Mrs. Brown in the vil- form, he held up one foot, and said 1000.

with a comical tone. "Dr. Ritchie calls us a set of "D've hear that? Sinsible to dandies. Is that the foot of a dandy ?" The effect was irresist-

The audience were in convulsions of laughter, and he had gained them before beginning his speech. "And Mrs. Roberts, at the gro- Dr. Ritchie marked the effect, and previous year by about 50,000,000 attempted a similar stroke on an- bushels. The corn. gats. and "Ah, poor dear! poor dear!" other occasion. His party had potato crops are also unusually broke in Tom hastily. " How her been charged with showing "the large. moind does be wandering! Shure cloven foot." Extending a foot, dressed in the height of the fashion with silk . stocking and dress shoe, he asked, triumphantly, "Do you call that a cloven foot?"

A shrewd mechanic in the gallery called out, "Tak'-aff the shoe. sir, and we'll see." The shout of hughter that followed spoiled bis eye it will make it quail. Sports-

Bad on the Judge.

An individual, possessing unmisakable evidence of African ex-"No, sir; it reads Patrick traction, was arraigned for larcency. Murphy, with a big P on the Pat- The Judge, as of right, was digni-You are the man, and now fied, but said, with severe presence.

'Did vou steal these clothes

'This man says you did.' 'He ain't nothin' but white

'And what are you?' 'Me! Why don't you know me rid with you in the percession. I helped to lead you home when you got tired that night. Don't stand on one leg and look up to yer 'member me now?' heaven after squeezing through a There was the 'suddenest' pros. in that darkey's case that judicial annals afford an example of. So much for the advantages of good society. A Match Broken off by an Accident. The Jersey City Journal says a the time in cuising whiskey." "I comical affair occurred in Newark, will, sir, and Porter, too." Thursday night, which promises to Judge (to prisoner, who has just have a serious result. Mr. Heisfelder, who is, or was, engaged to his teeth)-"You may go, sir. But was escorting the young, lady who late, and took a short cut to the church along the canal townath. . On the way they had a lovers' felder insulted her. She sheered lady in his Bible class. The young "Don't give me any dime novel far, and tumbled head-over-heels the question being repeated; the in-"One fine day in the month of with much difficulty hauled her objection to tell you where he one hundred and eight-five pounds lives." of avoirdupois and her wet bridesmaid's clothes to dry land. But and the two bed-rooms pea-green her wrath was not cooled, though of England, was asked, after the her body was, and she went home | coremony, by the clergyman; for alone, and now says that she will his fee, which he said was a crown.

> Shaky business-Playing with A happy set of men-Soldiers in

When is an egg not oval? When Strange behavior - A 'hugging' the coast. thy money, which thou hast well

Nothing is so fatal to the ro mance of a kiss as to have your girl sneeze at the very climax of

Why is every honeymoon like monstration, strted that, "The the Government pay in proportion procession was very fine, being to the work done, their gross re-to pala trees. A botel keeper described a Lew, &c., we can hardly estimate Why is Queen Victoria's health mosquito as "a customer who tries the total annual earnings of short-

Philadelphia dentist's sign .-You never miss the tootbache till' the root comes ont." A Boston murderer, in consequence of his poor bealth, wants his execution delayed,

Why is the cubbage the most lgets a head in the world.

"Drop the line if you wish to Gen. Sherman gets $18,600 year, besides the blessed privilege of kissing the girls. It is very sweet to be a warrior. '. A writer in the British Quarterly

The Philadelphia baby show broke up in a hand-to-hand fight by the mothers over the prizes. The police-cleared the hall of ex-nibits and spectators,

The United States wheat cross of this year exceeds that of any A very ignorant person being presence of a clever lady-" I don't wonder," said she, "at his possessing a large stock of good sense-he never spends anv." There is a proverb if you look any wild animal steadily in the should cut this out and paste it in their hats. He was carving at dinner, and thought he must talk to the esthetical looking angel on his right, " How do you like Beethoven ?" said he at a venture.

men in search of birds of that kind

"Well cooked," said she, interested in the work in hand. The famous Greek scholar, Forson, wrote the following epitaph on a Fellow of his own College :

Here lies a Doctor of Divinity, Who was a Fellew, too, of Trinity. He knew as much about Divinity As other Fellows do of Trinity. Darwin says that animals have no religious sense; but he probably never observed the calm, reflective manner in which a chicken will hole in the fence into a strawberry bed next door. "The sentence of the Court is, said Judge Porter, a popular Irish magistrate, to a notorious drunkand, "that you be confined in jail for the longest period the law sllows; and I hope you will spend escaped conviction by the skin of Miss Schellbroener, both Germans, though, justice absolves you, morwas so act as a bridesmaid on the "Thank you. I always had a ality condemns you." Prisoneroccasion, to a wedding. They were better opinion of justice than of "What is your chief consolation quarrel, and the damsel says Heis- in life ?" asked a pastor of a young over from his side, but sheered too lady blushed and hesitated, but, on into the canal. The young man genious maiden said: " I don't like went immediately after her, and to tell you his name, but I have no

A Quaker having married for his wife a member of the Church He bought a quart of kerosene oil, not marry Emil at all. This may The Quaker, astonished at the demand, said if he could be shown any text in the Scripture which proved the fee was a crown, he would give it, upon which the clergyman turned to the twelfth chapter of Proverbs, verse fourth where it said, " A virtuous woman is a crown to her husband.' Thou art right," replied Quaker, "in the assertion; Solo mon was a wise man. Here is > and truly earned." LONDON SHORT-HAND WRITERS. -The Gurney family have in their service about a dozen short-hand reporters, and employ beginners er assistants to copy their shorthand notes into long-hand .. They "If it wasn't for hope the heart are engaged during the sessions of various parliamentary committees. A newspaper, detailing at de- The Gurneys regularly receive from nearly two miles long, as wes falso ceip's being from $500,000 to the punyer of the Rev. Mr. Pary." 8:00,000 per annum. Of this, from $50,000 to $100,000 is not When David called upon the profit. If to this we add the cost "trees of the field to clap their of reporting the debates, borne by When David called upon the hands," he must have jad reference the London newspeapers, and reparting coses in the Court of

Vass for nes and io; but is both NIEL F.

Jerrey